Reds Accept UN Offer To Exchange Ill POWs

McCarthy Bares Coup Throttling Trade With Reds

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)— Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) bypassed the Eisenhower administration today and announced that Greek owners of 242 merchant ships have agreed to break off all trade with North Korea and Red China.

Hailing the agreement as a major blow against the Reds, McCarthy said the ship owners also have agreed "to refuse to carry cargoes of any type from one Communist port to another in any part of the world."

McCarthy said the agreement was negotiated by staff members of the Senate investigations subcommittee which he heads. He said the negotiations were carried out without the State Department or any other agency of the government being informed about what was going on.

"I didn't want any interference by anyone," he explained. However, he said he had no reason to believe the State Department would not "wholeheartedly approve" of the action.

The announcement created considerable stir inasmuch as under the Constitution the conduct of foreign affairs is lodged in the President. Whether an agreement between a senatorial subcommittee and foreign shipowners would, under the law, be considered an infringement upon this presidential prerogative was a question likely to arouse considerable debate.

The Eisenhower administration already has been acting to crack down on foreigners who bought surplus ships from the U. S. and are alleged to have been trading behind the Iron Curtain. It has declared the mortgages on 14 Greek ships and seven Italian vessels in default. It also has seized a tanker

Death Claims Jim Thorpe, Famed Athlete

LOMITA, Calif., March 28—UP—Famed Indian Athlete Jim Thorpe died at his home here Saturday following a heart attack, firemen who tried to revive him reported.

The 68-year-old star of football and most other leading sports suffered the attack in his trailer-court here shortly after 3 p.m. and died about an hour later.

An emergency rescue squad was called to his home but firemen's attempts to revive him failed.

His wife, Mildred, was with him at the time of his death.

Thorpe had been operating a bar in near by Wilmington for the past several months.

Jim Thorpe, whom his Indian mother named Bright Path, was generally recognized as the greatest all-around athlete in American sports history. He could play every game well, but won most of his fame in football and track. He was also a major league baseball player.

Born in Prague, Okla., on May 28, 1888, he was the son of a rancher man with Sax-Fox Indian blood predominating in a mixture that included Dutch, Welsh and Irish. He was one of twin boys, each of whom weighed 10 pounds at birth. His brother died at the age of eight.

Thorpe received his education at Haskell Institute and Carlisle where Glenn S. (Pop) Warner urged him to try out for football.

In 1911 and 1912 he was chosen All-America halfback and named on Walter Camp's official All-America team. Most gridiron authorities who have seen old and modern players still class him as the greatest football player of all time.

Tex. Bandit Scared Off, Misses 'P-1'

HOUSTON, Tex., March 28—UP—A headline-crazed bandit who promised to rob a store in the heart of Houston Saturday so he could get page one publicity in the newspapers was scared off at the last minue by swarms of police.

It was the second time he has cheneged. He threatened to commit murder Friday, but decided not to, and promised to rob a store in busy Washington Avenue Saturday, instead. Since he has a bit of pulling holdups at midnight, he is called "the high noon bandit."

At 11 a.m. Saturday, a man who identified himself as the bandit, telephoned the Houston Press. "There are too many cops out here for me to pull a job," he said. "It's too hot. I'm just going to watch them work."

Reluctant to break off the conversation, he asked whether the press would take his picture, "when I get caught."

He added before he got an answer: "I'm not going to get caught —not me. They won't catch me."

The "high-noon bandit" has robbed three places in Houston. He stuck up a baker on Washington Ave. last week and escaped with $3,000.

That made a big splash on the front pages of Houston's three newspapers and the bandit hasn't been seen the same man since. He robbed a real estate office of $12 Thursday and telephoned the Houston Chronicle to find out whether it was a page one crime.

When he learned it wasn't, he was piqued and promised to "kill somebody" Friday to make the headlines. Every policeman who wasn't urgently needed somewhere else was out looking for the bandit at noon Friday.

That discouraged him and he telphoned Jack Donahue, assistant city editor of the Houston Press, and promised to commit a robbery on Washington Ave. Saturday.

But the avenue was swarming with police and when the bandit telephoned the Press Saturday that it was "too hot" he didn't promise a substitute crime Sunday.

To Attend Services

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower will attend Palm Sunday service at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Georgetown Presbyterian Church, the White House said today.

Jes' Ramblin'

Everyone of us at times lapses into mental confusion at least for a passing moment, as evidenced the other day in the News-Star offices.

A certain well - known clerical man dropped in to give information of a service that had been held in his church on the previous night. We won't divulge his name, so don't ask.

Proceeding to Jes' Ramblin', he stated he would give a brief synopsis of the talk then made.

"Now, Rev. Blank, visiting minister, talked to a large throng, and I was pleased to hear his address," he began as a preliminary.

"He talked on — darn if I can think of the subject!" Then he stroked his head and relaxed into deep meditation.

"I wonder why I can't recall it

UN Delegates Hail Move To Swap POWs

Seen As Possible Break Leading To Armistice In War

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. March 28 (AP)—U. N. delegates on both sides of the Iron Curtain greeted as good news today the Communist agreement to the U. N. offer for an exchange of sick and wounded prisoners in Korea.

There was a fervent hope that this break would lead to a settlement of the whole prisoner of war issue and an armistice. The attention of all delegates turned toward the newly arrived Russian representative, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who is expected by many here to be on the verge of making a new Russian move for a settlement.

The sticking point on any agreement has been whether prisoners would return voluntarily to their homes or be forced to go. Vishinsky has argued that prisoners have to go back and has refused to accept Western proposals giving the prisoners a choice. The West, in turn, has rejected all Soviet demands for involuntary repatriation.

The delegates also noted with interest that the Communists suggested an immediate resumption of truce talks at Panmunjom which were broken off last October on the prisoner of war issue. Some delegates speculated that Vishinsky, who has just returned from a briefing in Moscow by the new administration, might reopen the Korean question here. In the past, Vishinsky has demanded that the U. N. talk about Korea on the diplomatic side while the military talks went on at Panmunjom.

Vishinsky has two chances to make any Korean peace move, if indeed the Russians plan such a step at this time. He could bring it up in the U. N. Assembly's Political Committee in April when it starts talking about a Polish resolution containing Moscow's plan for a Korean peace that so far has been rejected by the U. N. majority.

He could bring it up in the Security Council. He will become president of the Security Council Wednesday for the month of April and there is some speculation that the Soviet Union may use this important post as the taking-off point for a new peace drive in Korea.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., the new U. S. delegate who has been pounding at the Russians and their Communist satellites to match soft words with deeds, had this to say about the Communist move:

"It is very encouraging if it is bonafide and sincere."

Valerian A. Zorin, Soviet delegate, said the whole thing was news to him, but his fellow delegate, Georgi N. Zarubin, Soviet ambassador to Washington had this to say:

"In my opinion, it is very good news."

New $140,000 School Building Is Razed Here By Mysterious Blaze

'Strange Fire,' Chief Declares; Arson Is Hinted

A mysterious fire turned a new $140,000 parish school building into rubble last night while firemen fought almost helpless due to the lack of water.

The Swayze Elementary Negro School on Buck Jones Lane was given up as a total loss shortly after firemen arrived.

One hose fed by a pumping unit 2,400 feet away was the only weapon against the towering blaze. Water was pumped from a drainage ditch.

Fire Chief H. L. Hales indicated strong suspicion of arson. Though he wouldn't call it arson, Hales said "it was a very strange fire."

The fire chief said when he arrived on the scene three separate fires spewed from the building.

(Pictures On Page Eight)

"One blazed at each end of the building and another about middle ways," Hales said.

"It's sickening—two new schools ruined," Hales commented. He referred to the Sherrouse Elementary school fire in the college area several months ago.

The fire is believed to have started at the Swayze school

U.S. Marines Again Control Bloody Height

Win Back Churned Hill For 3rd Time; 'No Live Chinese'

SEOUL, Sunday, March 29 (AP)—Grimly determined U. S. Marines won back bloody Outpost Vegas at dawn today, after a thunderous night-long artillery duel with Chinese Reds.

"Vegas is all ours—the slopes, the crest, the entire hill" a Marine commander reported from the front. "The Chinaman has left it completely."

It was the third time Marines had won back the shell-ripped strongpoint of the Western Front since the Reds took it from them in a 3,500-man attack on a five-mile-wide sector Thursday night.

Vegas is in the Bunker Hill area, a guardian post on an invasion route to Seoul.

When the leathernecks climbed to the top of the hill at sunrise there were no live Chinese around, said a front report. But the report added there were "large numbers" of dead Chinese strewn around the slope. One Marine officer reported 75 Chinese bodies piled in one spot and more scattered all around the hill.

The plucky band of Marines stabbed to the top after a harrowing night spent on its southern slope, shielded from swarming Reds by a ring of U. N. artillery. That circle of bursting shells killed some 400 Chinese trying to get at the Marines.

Lt. Col. James Finch of Atlanta, Ga., a battalion commander, said Chinese fled the hilltop at dawn.

"Vegas is all ours," he said.

Associated Press War Correspondent Forrest Edwards said Vegas and surrounding terrain were obscured by smoke and flame from artillery bursts at 9 a.m.—the tag-end of the all-night barrage—but that the sector then was relatively quiet.

Ammo Train Explodes, Two Believed Dead

LEWIS, Ind., March 28 (AP)—An ammunition train blew up in this coal-mining town tonight, setting fire to the town and shaking the area like an earthquake for a radius of at least 35 miles.

State police said they had an unconfirmed report that two were dead.

All available ambulances in the area were called. Firemen from Linton, Jasonville and Sullivan answered calls to help fight the fire.

A desk officer at the Putnamville state police post, 35 miles away, said the tremor was felt there.

Vance Sappenfield, a Linton newsman spending the evening at Lyons, 20 miles away, said the explosion blew open the door of the house he was in and almost knocked the occupants from their chairs. He said he felt five separate explosions.

Burmese Ask Halt To U.S. Economic Aid

Reasons Vague As Spokesmen Remain Silent On Action

RANGOON, Burma, March 28 (AP)—The Burmese government, involved in guerrilla warfare with Chinese troops who claim allegiance to American - supported Chiang Kai-shek, announced tonight it is dropping United States aid next June 30.

Burma has received 12 million dollars in U. S. aid since June, 1950, and the total will reach 31 million by next June under present appropriations.

Neither the Burmese Foreign Office nor the U. S. Embassy officials would comment on the move. The Foreign Office said the note was delivered to U. S. Ambassador William Sebald on March 17. The note, signed by Burmese Foreign Minister Sai Hkun Khio, said:

"I am to request under Article 5 of the Economic Co-operation Agreement between our two governments that the government of the United States will take note that we do not desire the aid program to continue beyond June, 1953."

The note expressed appreciation and gratitude for materials and services received by the Burmese government under ECA, "which have been of great help in imple-

Enemy Also Bids For New Truce Talks

Clark Authorized To Go Ahead At Once With Swap

TOKYO, Sunday, March 29 (AP) — The Reds offered Saturday to accept the United Nations proposal for an early exchange of sick and wounded Korean War prisoners — a move some sources saw as the first Communist step toward approving the principle of voluntary repatriation.

The Reds coupled with the offer a bid for resumption of the truce talks—broken off since last fall over that very issue.

Gen. Mark Clark said Saturday night his United Nations Command favors reopening the talks if the Communist offer is serious and forthright.

State Department officials said Gen. Mark Clark has full authority to go ahead at once with arrangements for an exchange of sick and wounded prisoners and that there need be no delay if the announced Communist acceptance of Clark's exchange proposal is in good faith.

For once, the Communist announcement, made by the Peiping radio, looked to American officials here and to U. N. officers in Tokyo like more than a propaganda maneuver. It set off a round of top level conferences at the State and Defense Departments.

Secretary of State Dulles issued a statement declaring "the United States government hopes that this exchange of prisoners will occur promptly and provide relief to those who suffer and to their anxious relations and friends."

The State Department previously had issued a statement saying that "the Communist message is an unconditional acceptance of the proposal made by Gen. Mark Clark on Feb. 22 for the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners of war, who are fit to travel in accordance with Article 109 of the Geneva Convention."

"That article," the department added, "provides that sick and wounded prisoners of war who are fit to travel shall be permitted to do so on a voluntary basis."

Press Officer Lincoln White, making this statement to reporters, heavily underlined the word "voluntary." Though he would not discuss even a possible resumption of armistice talks his emphasis indicated the private speculation of officials here that the Reds may be willing after many months of haggling and stalemate to make concessions on the issue of voluntary repatriation of all POWs—not merely those who are sick and wounded.

Heretofore they have insisted that in any armistice agreement all POWs on both sides must be returned. The United Nations has taken the position that refugees from communism will not be compelled to go home. This has been the major barrier to agreement on an armistice.

The Communist reply to Clark's proposal made two points, and officials here, reading them in the light of recent "peace" talk by Premier Georgi Malenkov's new Russian government, could not

Bones Of English Killer's Fifth Victim Discovered

LONDON, March 28—UP—Scotland Yard detectives Saturday found the bones of a fifth woman victim of the sex-mad sadist of Notting Hill buried beneath a forsythia bush in the back garden of "the house of death."

The new discovery confronted officials with the possibility that still more bodies may be hidden around the apartment where five victims have been found since Tuesday.

Authorities began digging up the garden and ordered the entire house searched anew and ceilings pulled down.

Another woman is missing from the area and neighbors feared the Notting Hill strangler is a new Jack the Ripper.

Every available detective in greater London was assigned to hunt for John Reginald Christie, 55, amateur photographer specializing in nudes, in whose two and one half room apartment the bodies were found.

Those of his 45-year-old wife and three women in their 20s were discovered boarded up in the wall and floor.

Digging Saturday in shirt sleeves in a back garden, police tore up a budding forsythia bush and their picks hit an ashcan in which they found charred human bones. The remains included part of a torso, a leg and arm joint. The head was missing.

The first victim was believed to have been strangled four months ago and three others a month apart thereafter. Christie had occupied the apartment for 15 years. A new tenant made the ghastly discovery of the bodies.

Police said post mortem evidence indicated all the women were murdered by a sexual sadist.

The 55-year-old bespectacled Christie was described by the aunt of his slain wife as "always a perfect gentleman."

Ground Will Be Broken Sunday For 2 Churches

Two new church organizations in Monroe will conduct ground breaking for the initial units this afternoon. Each of the new structures planned will cost close to $100,000.

The first exercise of the kind here will be held shortly after the noon hour at the site of St. Paul's new Methodist Church which is located on Orel Drive, near the new Lexington School.

Participating in the service here will be the pastor, Dr. Ben Oliphint and officials of St. Paul's

Austin Improved

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—The condition of Warren R. Austin, retired ambassador to the United Nations who suffered a cerebral attack yesterday, was described as somewhat improved today.

Atomic Show Is To Be Held In City This Week

Through auspices of the News-Star — World, Shreveport Times, KWKH and the Louisiana State University, Monroe like a number of other cities, will be treated to an atomic energy exhibition open to the public. The first showing will be at 6:30 p.m., March 31, in the Ouachita Parish High School gymnasium.

There will be three sessions on April 1 at the same place. These will be from 9 a.m. to 12 (noon); from 1 to 3 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. April 2 will have similar three sessions and April 3 will be the final date for the holding of the exhibition here. On that day there will be only a morning session from 9 a.m. until noon.

The public is cordially invited to attend these showings.

The exhibit is now in Shreveport and after it has shown here, it will move on to Alexandria and final exhibitions will be in New Orleans.

Confused County Plans Secession

SOCORRO, N. M., March 28 (AP)— territory which now includes about half of New Mexico, Socorro County wasn't officially included in the deal.

The more Socorro people thought about it, the better idea it seemed just to secede from the United States and start all over again.

"We all expect to be millionaires as soon as we can get loose," one resident explains. "There'll be no income tax and no draft.

"Some folks down in El Paso, Tex., have said they'd be interested in joining us. They don't feel like Texas is giving them a square shake.

"And if those Texans get too ornery, why we'll just secede from them and start again."

Claron Waggoner, district attorney, thinks it's a good idea, but comments:

"Those Yankees will find something wrong with it."

Some of the schemes which secession-minded residents have advanced include a legal gambling establishment along the lines of Monte Carlo . . .

Drinking likker at $2.50 a gallon . . . cigarettes at 5 cents a pack.

Reds Told Not To Use Truce For Own Means

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — President Eisenhower and French Premier Rene Mayer joined today in warning Communist China against making an armistice in Korea to wage aggressive war in Indochina or elsewhere in the Far East. They said such action would have "most serious consequences" on efforts at world peace.

The warning came—by coincidence, American officials said—at a time when Red acceptance of a proposal for exchanging sick and wounded prisoners of war had aroused cautious hope that a Korean truce agreement may be a real possibility.

Asks UN Action On Protectorates

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Mar. 28 (AP)—Members of the Arab-Asian bloc drafted a request tonight for urgent Security Council action on Tunisia and Morocco.

The group, seeking more self-government for the two African protectorates of France, has been trying to get U. N. Assembly or Security Council condemnation of France for more than a year, charging repression of the local rulers and people.

Broken Equipment, Men Litter Bloody Battlefield

By CAPT. BEM PRICE

WESTERN FRONT, Korea, March 28 (AP)—This place is carpeted with shell and mortar fragments and littered with broken equipment and men.

Three hundred yards through the trench and across the rice paddy is the outpost called Vegas.

Capt. Herbert (Mike) Lorrence of Tampa, Fla., and his Easy Company of the 5th Marines is holding it now on a sort of squatter's rights basis.

Since 7 p.m. Thursday the 1st Marine Division has been hurling hundreds of men and thousands upon thousands of rounds of artillery and mortar shells at Vegas in an effort to retake it from the Chinamen.

Marines have begun to call it "the highest damn beachhead in Korea."

No matter where you look, or where you step, there are sharp scraps of metal—metal that once whistled and killed.

There are great piles of blood-stained bandages, broken weapons, discarded helmets and ammunition belts taken from the wounded.

It is not pretty to see the dead and wounded. The dead usually come through face down. They will not be honored with a blanket until they reach the collecting point about four or five hundred yards to the rear.

Some of the men on the stretchers have tears of pain washing their dirt-stained faces but they do not moan. Some are unconscious and white from loss of blood.

One man, weeping, turned to point toward Vegas, and said "They are dead. All my friends are dead."

He dropped by a much-battered bunker and put his face in his hands.

The wounded and dead come out slowly. Because of the narrowness of the trail there can be only two men to a stretcher. They have to halt every 15 or 20 paces and replace the bearers. All men are beginning to suffer with fatigue. They had no sleep for nearly 60 hours.

First Lt. Harold Johnson of Superior, Wis., was here the night the Chinese attacked the outpost, charging through their own artillery to wipe out the defenders.

"They threw in so much stuff," said Johnson, "that it was impossible for a man to live in the open.

Predicts 'Ghost Towns' If La. Toll Road Built

BATON ROUGE, March 28 (AP)—State Rep. E. J. Grizzaffi said today that every town and city between New Orleans and New Iberia along U. S. 90 will become a "ghost town" if a proposed toll road from Lutcher to Lafayette is built.

"The four - lane highway will sound the death knell for some of Louisiana's oldest and finest cities," the St. Mary Parish lawmaker told a reporter. "Millions of dollars will be lost in trade. Thousands put out of work. Stores and factories shut down.

"Why even the proposed new Mississippi River bridge at New Orleans will be unnecessary . . . traffic on the Huey Long bridge will drop off to a mere handful."

Grizzaffi urged "public officials, civic clubs, fraternal organizations and all citizens to protest to Gov. Robert Kennon and see what can be done about discouraging the turnpike idea."

He said the governor ought to "take a stand and tell the people that his administration will sponsor a bill in the next Legislature prohibiting the state from participating in the financing of any toll roads in any manner."

Yesterday, the Louisiana Turnpike Commission, a creation of the 1952 Legislature, was told that a test election was planned in Ascension Parish as the next step toward a 100 million dollar expressway between Lutcher and Lafayette.

The proposed toll road would cross the Atchafalaya swamp at a place where no road now exists. The 85-mile span would be financed through bonds issued by the five parishes along the suggested route: Acension, Iberville, Lafayette, St. James and St. Martin.

The Ascension election will be followed by a test case destined for the Supreme Court to insure the constitutionality of such financing methods, Ernest M. Loeb, New Orleans bond broker, told the commission.

Grizzaffi saw the toll road as "the end of the old Spanish Trail — the oldest and most historic highway in the nation."

U. S. 90 from the Huey Long bridge at New Orleans west into Texas and north along the Mississippi River Delta is called the Old Spanish Trail. It is believed to be the route of the Spanish explorers of the late 17th century.

The Condition Of Monroe's Streets

The time has come when the people of this community must have improved streets if for safety's sake alone. All over this community, the holes in the streets get larger and deeper, the cement and asphalt cracks more and more, and the automobile bills run higher and higher. It is claimed by the city authorities that "there is no money."

Where is the money? Some of it goes to the schools, some to the streets, some to the upkeep of the city buildings, some to pay the officials, and some to pay off the bonds which the city has in present indebtedness. Giving the streets of this city every consideration, and every inch of "leeway," they are in frightful condition. There are sections along certain streets, generally used by the people who live along the Loop Road area, which are nearly impassable. There are streets which have begun to sink and crack in a great many places.

There are streets which have become "wreck traps" due to the gaping holes which have broken out of the surface along the sides and in the center. Some streets have numerous sections which are sinking. These are only a very few scattered examples among the great many broken, cracked and ruined sections of the streets. Northside, southside, all sides; it's the same story.

Everyone says that his department is without funds. The water department is "broke," the parks and streets department is "broke," the bus department ran in "the red," in fact, red seems to generally be the color of Monroe's finances. Last year, the street department had at its disposal for the cleaning, the hauling of trash, the graveling, the asphalt repairs and all the other aspects of its work, a total of 198,550 dollars. This includes money for the maintenance of the streets and the general repairs on the streets.

In this city, there are 208 miles of streets. 52 miles are "high type" pavement such as DeSiard Street, Louisville Avenue and similar traffic arteries. 65 miles of these streets are of substandard asphalt construction. Needless to say, this is all in generally bad condition. Every rain which comes along washes it out and fills it with holes. This type street construction is not as good as the high type black surface, yet, it will take at least 25,000 dollars per mile to put it in excellent condition. There are also 53 miles of gravel and 16 miles of dirt.

What is the answer? It is certain that the funds alloted from the General Tax Fund to the street department are not enough and as these are the only funds coming to the streets, it would seem that Monroe will have to stagger along with these awful streets for a long time to come. There are certain other financial aspects which need to be examined at this point in an effort to find other sources of revenue in order to fix these streets without putting the city in more debt.

For instance, 75% of the fines coming from the Monroe police department go to the school fund. It is conceivable that some of this money, which is no paltry amount, could go to the streets without impairing the schools, as they are the beneficiaries of other sources of revenue. The money taken from the parking meters which amounted to more than 45,000 dollars last year could be rightfully allocated to the streets where it certainly belongs. There are other methods of cutting expenses in spots and putting the money saved in places where it is needed. From the appearance of the auditor's report for the fiscal year ending April 25, 1952, this was not done. There never has been a street tax in the history of this city. It is fervently hoped that there never will be one, but measures will have to be taken to assure the street commissioner more money to run his department, one of the most businesslike managed departments in the city government, if the streets are to show signs of improvement.

The streets are of prime importance to everyone who operates a motor vehicle in this city and as such, need more attention than they have been getting in the past years. The Commissioner has been working magicians' tricks to try and hold his expenses to their present level, but the streets are steadily growing worse.

The city streets are one of Monroe's greatest problems and as such, need immediate attention.

It's Nice To Go Back

There is a song which was made popular during those crazy, wonderful years before the advent of the atom bomb and the second war, those years many citizens of this community like to call "the roaring twenties." This song is called, "Everything I Have Is Yours" and the song writers, unable to write music as it was formerly written, have brought this lovely song back into prominence. It must bring back many memories to those people who were young during the years of the Stutz "Bearcats," "Charleston," the flight across the Atlantic by a heroic though somewhat foolish young man named Lindbergh, and the fearful stock market crash which ended that dream and brought everyone back to the realization that this is indeed a hard world. Those citizens who were babies in those days or were too young to remember people such as the great Will Rogers; the quiet, soft spoken man from new England who was President Coolidge; the man who taught Bing Crosby how to sing or gave him his "style," Russ Columbo, they will harken back with their parents of a generation which was youth in those days.

It's nice to escape reality now and then and remember days and people who once were. Every day which goes by seems to remove from the scene people and places which were once so familiar to all of you. Have so many years gone by that it is impossible now to remember little things you said and did, things which seemed small at the time but when remembered, seem to stand out in your mind as something important?

There are those who like to denounce this escape from reality. Some say that more money is spent by Americans every year on escaping the trials of everyday living than on any other occupation. When you read a good novel, that's escaping reality. How about moving picture shows; isn't that a form of escape, or putting yourself where you really aren't? There are those who say that this nation is one of non-individualists. They say that all Americans want is an imitation of the real thing. Sometimes, when times get bad, an imitation is the only thing people can get.

Let the scoffers look around. They will see that the "conformers," the "non-individualists" are not in the great majority. How was modern advancement to come about unless a human being saw some article or some production and wanted one like it but only better? Even with all the modern gadgets, the assembly line productions, Americans are today more individualistic than they were ten years ago. It might be well to consider that for more than twenty years, this nation was governed by an administration which was founded on the idea that Americans should be a stereotyped people, that there should be no difference in any one American family, that they should all have the same amount of money, drive the same sort of automobile and eat the same kind of food. If you don't believe it, look at the income tax structure. Those were the days of escaping reality.

Can it be said that individualism didn't show itself paramount last year when this nation decided to throw out this philosophy? Can it be said that escaping reality didn't enter into some minds when it was hoped that better days would be forthcoming, days similar to those which once were and which it is hoped, will come again? Does it hurt to escape once in awhile the fearful tribulations of this day and time? Of course not.

Naturally, too much fantasy is dangerous, but those who insist on always forging ahead, never looking back are missing an awful lot. This nation of people has a great history behind it in the past two generations and this history is not easily forgotten. Those were "great" times, the years gone by, "great" for some, bad for others. They are history now.

Look at your watch, the second hand sweeps on around, never stopping. That's time going by and there are those who look to future seconds with dread, some look to the past, and a majority faces the future with hope. Nevertheless, history is made every second which escapes you. Reality is what's here; what you can see. "Everything I Have Is Yours" is the past, coming back to you reminding you to try and escape that reality for a few minutes at least. If you've not turned back the pages of time lately, try it.

It's nice to go back.

Republican Disunity—Success For The Left

Ever since that night of tragedy for the left-wing when the Republicans swept to victory in a crushing defeat of the welfare state idea, those crestfallen leftists have been scratching their heads and attempting to figure out how they might throw a wrench into the cohesion of the liberal and the conservative wings of the GOP. They have finally succeeded although old-time members of the GOP have tried by every means to prevent this maneuver.

The method was simple. Everyone knows that to appoint an ambassador or someone of equal rank, Senate approval must be forthcoming. "Why not," said the Democrats and leftists "attempt to sell the President and the secretary of state on a man who would be repugnant to the conservative section of the Republican Party?" Therefore, members of the group known as the "internationalists" who still occupy positions of the greatest importance in the government and who support every issue which puts the rest of the world first and the U. S. last, contacted Mr. Dulles and the President.

They suggested the name of Charles Bohlen, an old-time Truman-Acheson cohort who they knew would be repugnant to men of the conservative order, but who might get by the President and the Secretary of State. This is precisely what took place. Mr. Eisenhower, and Mr. Dulles, without too much investigation, sent his name in for approval. Naturally, it brought on fearful repercussions. The new President and his Secretary were out on a political "limb" and could hardly turn back. Even Senator Taft has said that he never would have nominated Bohlen. However, the fight started with the liberals and leftists now ardently supporting their arch enemy, Bob Taft.

The issue has beyond a shadow of a doubt, split the GOP to some extent, but not to the extent hoped by the leftists. In the first place, Taft has them confused. His support of Bohlen and his loyalty to the President has confused the leftists who would much rather have had a Taft-Eisenhower battle to the finish. This they will apparently not get. However,-they have to some extent succeeded in splitting the more conservative senators away from the administration and by this maneuver, they hope to win critical fights in the senate. They are presently laughing with glee at this prospect. Senator Taft and Senator Knowland, both conservatives, have stood by the President and Senator McCarthy and his followers have fought to the last to keep Bohlen from this extremely important position.

The Democrats and the liberals have chortled with glee at the prospect of the conservatives fighting among themselves and stand to gain mightily by their well planned and adroit move. It is not known how they managed to convince the President that Bohlen was the man for the job, but it is not believed that there was any necessity for the nomination of a man who was a known adherent of the Truman-Acheson type diplomacy and who was connected with this group which managed to nearly sink the American ship of state.

It is also not believed that there was a necessity to send to Italy a career liberal, a lady who has never had any experience in the extremely intricate art of diplomacy, rather, spending her years as a playwright and journalist. Naturally this refers to Mrs. Henry Luce. There was also no necessity in sending a banker to the court of St. James. Americans must realize that this nation can be made a success or broken completely by the representatives it sends to the various nations abroad. Unless there is much experience behind an Ambassador, he or she will be fighting a losing battle with the adroit Europeans who were "in this game" when the Indians still roamed the forests where the nation's capitol now stands.

The Secretary of State must consider more carefully in the future these people who go to represent their nation overseas. The leftists have succeeded, the GOP is temporarily split.

Spring

The Washington Parade

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The remote possibility of a reunion between American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations has set some of the older heads among Washington industrial relations experts thinking. They want to see what it involves. Would it be a good thing for the general public interest? Or bad?

In the first place, there is considerable doubt as to whether AFL and CIO leaders really want merger. A conference between committees of leaders from the two big organizations has been scheduled for April 7. But this is an old subject. If nothing happens, nobody will be surprised.

If the late CIO president, Phil Murray, and his director of organization, Allan Haywood, had lived, it is believed that something might have come of the labor peace talks. With Walter Reuther of the auto workers now heading CIO and David J. McDonald heading the steel workers, there may be less interest.

In a way, the big labor union organizations have been needled into this peace talk by employers who have been caught in the middle of jurisdictional disputes. But the records indicate there are just as many rival union fights within AFL and CIO as there are between them.

Organic unity wouldn't end jurisdictional raiding by the auto workers upon the steel workers, the plumbers upon the boilermakers, or vice versa.

Obstacles to organic unity are many. Personal rivalry of officials is a big one. When two organizations merge, one officer in each organization will have to give up his job.

The handicap of having one organization too big to handle is not insignificant. When there are two competitive organizations, they are both on their toes. One big monopoly might become fat, lazy and more corrupt than two.

The idea that there can be no unity between an organization of craft unions like the AFL and the industrial, mass-production-industry type of union like the CIO is now discounted. It is pointed out that the huge teamsters' union is now much like an industrial union, but it is perfectly at home in the American federation of craft unions.

Over a number of years, however, this difference between craft and industrial unions may have considerable bearing on future relations between AFL and CIO.

It is pointed out that the period of an almost annual wage increase for U. S. labor, which has gone on without interruption for the last 20 years, may eventually come to an end. Furthermore, the field of pensions and fringe benefits has now been pretty well exhausted in collective bargaining agreements with the two major labor organizations.

If a business recession of any kind should set in, with some unemployment and a down-grading of labor contract terms, the relative positions of the two major organizations might undergo considerable change.

An AFL craft union card has a certain value in itself. It signifies that the holder has undergone an apprenticeship, learned a trade and is a qualified journeyman. He needs no other credential than his card to go get a job anywhere in his trade.

A CIO card does not always have the same value. Skilled mechanics and janitors in an auto plant or a tire factory hold the same card in one big union. Only their job classifications are different, for payroll purposes.

In case of considerable unemployment, the value of an industrial union card declines. There is less incentive for an industrial union member to keep his dues paid up than there is for a craft union man to keep his standing.

What happens to the two types of unions under these circumstances is a matter of conjecture. But the first conclusion is that the craft union will have a better chance of survival than the industrial union. And in this situation the merger of the industrial type of union into a craft union organization becomes likelier.

One other long-range possibility is that in a period of business recession and above-normal unemployment, the programs of the labor movement will become more and more political in nature. This would be a natural development for labor union leaders in their effort to find some new appeal to hold their membership together.

Some labor leaders are known to have in the back of their minds the desire to launch a labor party. Others want no part of it. Right now the prospects for a U. S. labor party as a national rather than a local political organization seem more remote than at any time since the depression. Everybody is too prosperous. Labor politics, like labor unity, would have best prospects in adversity.

Timmons In Washington

By Bascom N. Timmons And His Washington Staff

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28 —Republican fears about the political effect of reducing support prices for farm products have dwindled since a careful survey has apparently shown that farm votes are not as important for 1954 as GOP leaders have believed.

A survey of votes cast in the last election by congressional districts, now in the course of preparation by the Republican Congressional committee, bears out what everyone already knew—that Dwight D. Eisenhower ran way ahead of his party last year.

In fact, he carried 297 out of 435 congressional districts, while the Republicans were electing 221 congressmen. That means of course, that 76 districts went for President - Elect Eisenhower and at the same time elected Democratic congressmen.

From this, it is not difficult to understand why Democrats from those districts hesitate to vote against anything which has White House endorsement, and why the feeling that the new president deserves support has spread to other Democrats whose districts went for Adali E. Stevenson by narrow margin.

The survey also indicates that some fallacies have had a firm grip on congressional thinking, one of which is that the farm vote holds the balance of power in national elections. If that is wrong, and congressmen can be persuaded that it is wrong, there may be big changes in the attitude of Republicans in Congress toward support prices. The figures on the "farm vote" give the impression (1) that it is more vocal than numerical (2) that it wields more actual influence on congressional elections in Democratic than Republican states.

The Republican Congressional study is said to indicate that in only 54 of the 221 districts the party now controls does the farm vote predominate or hold the balance of power. It is true that the GOP must hold those districts or lose the House, but on the other hand, the three - fourths of the GOP members who come from non - rural districts are becoming restive about high food prices and 90 per cent of parity farm support prices.

They say that the decline in meat prices, which has been underway for some time, but only became marked in recent months, is the first break their constituents have had, while the farmers "get all the gravy."

The numerical impotence of the farm vote comes as a surprise to many Republican congressmen, who have listened to pleas of their western colleagues to keep up price supports during the years the GOP was in the minority, only to learn now that the looming dark cloud of farm votes in the western skies did not presage a deluge but only a sprinkle.

The shifts from farm to town since the previous census which caused farm populations to drop by 10 million, have seemed to escape political notice until the Republicans through their congressional committee, gave directions to find out what the effect of population change has been.

Public Forum

AGAINST FLUORIDATION

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Much has recently been said in support of the fluorine treatment of the Monroe drinking water, it is well to look at the opposing viewpoint.

As many large cities have recenlty declined the advantages of this program, it seems that there may be disadvantages to the use of fluorine which overcome any beneficial effect. This fluoridation of drinking water is said to have a helpful effect on the tooth structure of a child provided that the chemical is ingested by the mother during the prenatal period. Yet none of the major drug houses markets a prenatal dietary supplement containing fluorine in any form. It would seem that if there were a specific need for this element it would have been supplied by the commercial drug houses.

The most effective benefit after a child is born is derived from topical application by a dentist at intervals between the sixth and 19th year. The results of this form of application of fluorine seems to indicate that there is merit in its use. However, it does not imply that similar results may be expected from fluoridation of drinking water. Actually, less than two per cent of the water that is treated will be consumed as drinking water — 98 per cent is wasted. In times when waste is a concern of the taxpayer, it seems that paying out a dollar, knowing 98 cents will be sent down the sewer is poor business. In this instance, the most benefit is derived by the chemical manufacturer.

To further break down the percentage of benefit, let us assume that 15 per cent of the people using this water are pregnant, then assume 10 per cent of the population is under six years of age. This makes only ½ of one per cent that will benefit, if there is benefit to be derived. Remember, that this program is still in the experimental stage. It also means that 99.5 cents of each dollar, spent for the chemical, is wasted.

The proponents of the plan indicate that the planned dilution of the fluorine is a harmless concentration. Yet, medical men do not definitely state that no harm will come to those who ingest fluorine. In the careful language of the medical profession, it is said, "there may not be any ill effects from drinking fluoridated water." The 1945 edition of the Medical Dictionary describes fluorosis as a chronic poisoning with fluorine sometimes marked by mottling of the enamel of the teeth.

Another viewpoint on this matter is, that this is socialized medicine. When the civil authorities can force the people to accept medication against their will, our rights to enjoy life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness as defined in the Constitution is in jeopardy. It is true that this instance is not a very severe departure from the normal, yet, it is a departure and as free men it is our duty to guard our freedom just as surely as though a dictator was at hand to overthrow our government.

As a bit of suggestion, leave the water as pure as it can be supplied and let anyone who wishes to derive the benefits of fluorine, add the proper amount to the water he or she drinks.

KIWANIS MINSTREL

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

May I express to you and your organization my personal appreciation and thank you on behalf of the Monroe Kiwanis Club for the wonderful publicity you gave us during the minstrel. Because of this kind of co-operation we were able to have a successful minstrel both financially and as entertainment for the people of Monroe.

We of Kiwanis can assure you that the moneys will be spent in worthwhile youth projects so Monroe will be a better place to call home.

Thanks again from all of us to all of you.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Counting Years May Make You Feel Old Too Early

Lovely Doris Day keeps youthful by not sabotaging her health and beauty with thoughts of aging.

How old is old?

Do you remember the saying, "How high is up?" It is all a question of comparison. Years ago many of the world's leaders died at what today would be considered a very early age, but at that time they were thought of as old because they had lived past the life expectancy of that era.

I think that many men and women today almost wish aging on themselves because they think in terms of years. They are subconsciously sabotaged in health, fun and looks by this attitude.

Today, even though you are age-conscious, it is difficult to answer the question "How old is old?" Someone has said that there is no such thing as middle age any more, one is either young or old. This is really true to a certain extent. Middle-aged persons today are youthful when compared to the same age group of a few years ago.

During the past 50 years the average length of life has been increased 20 years. Life expectancy now exceeds 68 years. It is increasing. While the great cut in mortality from certain diseases and in infant mortality is reflected in this gain, yet much has been learned and is being learned about nutrition and endocrinology and psychological impact and their effects on many of the chronic diseases of middle age. We have a right to push back the time of aging in our own minds.

It also is ridiculous to answer "How old is old?" by calendar age because there can be a great difference in people of the same age. It is possible for one of 55 to be more youthful physically and mentally, than another of 40.

This tendency to comparison is evidenced in many ways. If you are taller than average, you are a tall girl. If you wear skirts down to your ankles when fashion is knee-high, you are strange looking even if the style becomes you.

For heaven's sake, why not apply the same idea to age? Even a pessimistic person should have difficulty today in thinking of himself or herself as old at 40 or 50 or 60, and if they know anything about what is happening in the research laboratories today, at 70!

I never have any trouble this way. I am apt to think that those my own age are older than I, not because I feel "catty" or have any reason to feel conceited, but because I know how old they are and I feel so young, that it doesn't occur to me that I am the same age!

Yes, "How old is old?" is a very difficult question to answer today!

Tomorrow: "Living Ought to Be Fun! Why Don't You Make It So?"

Fingerprints Solve Riddle Of Who's-Who

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 28 (AP)—Police fingerprint experts finally proved to a mother Saturday which of her 8-year-old identical twin daughters is which.

Ever since the hospital identification bracelets were taken off Carline and Norine Mullen of Corydon, Ky., their mother, Mrs. Carlin Mullen, hasn't been able to tell the brown-haired girls apart. Just to make life simpler, she has been caling them both Susie.

Mother and daughters made the 20-mile trip to Evansville to get themselves straightened out. Capt. Burk Harl took their footprints, then compared them with the girls hospital birth footprints. He declared Carline was Carline and Norine was Norine.

Capt. Harl promised to keep the prints on file in his identification bureau and taught Mrs. Mullen enough about the skin ridges so she can tell which Susie is which from now on.

NORTH CAN RAISE CROPS

EDMONTON, Canada (AP)— Far north wheat yields of 45 to 50 bushels an acre have been obtained on observation tests at Fort Simpson, 825 miles north of Edmonton.

"Horticultural crops hold a primary interest in work at the Fort Simpson experiment station. The part played by vegetables in raising the standard of living in northern communities is realized, along with the need of building up scientific data," says J. A. Gilbey, head of the station.

East Detroit adjoins Detroit—on the north.

Diplomats See New Hope In Soviet Actions

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP)—Some Western diplomats who have been skeptical said today they may yet decide that a new conciliatory atmosphere prevails in Moscow.

The Soviet government's new amnesty decree for short-term, non-political prisoners could not have been issued, they said, if the Russian leaders believed a third world war lay ahead.

Linking the amnesty move to other recent developments, the skeptical diplomats said maybe a new atmosphere does exist and it may lead to significant international developments.

The Korean War, they admit, is still the greatest roadblock to world peace. But when something happens anywhere to bring about a halt in the shooting, they say, the East and West will really be getting somewhere on the road to world peace.

(This dispatch was written before Communist China offered to accept a United Nations proposal for an early exchange of sick and wounded prisoners—a move that looked to American officials as something more than a propaganda maneuver.

Optimistic diplomats here cite these developments as tending to create a new atmosphere:

Prime Minister Malenkov's statement that all controversial issues with all countries, including the United States, could be solved by peaceful means.

A Soviet promise to do all possible to bring about the release of nine British civilians being held in North Korea and an indication of a similar promise in the case of French Nationals.

Marked absence in official speeches of derogatory references to Western leaders.

Granting of entry visas to a group of American newspaper and radio officials coming here next week, the first such group to be admitted since the Council of Foreign Ministers met here in 1947.

Widespread approval by the Russian public was reported to have greeted the newly announced amnesty decree and the government's plans to soften the punishment for some crimes.

Atomic Bomb Seen As Block To New War

BERLIN, March 28 (AP) — Dr. James B. Conant declared tonight another world war "may be a long way off" because of atomic weapons.

The U. S. high commissioner for Germany spoke to 300 students of West Berlin's technical university, rather as an atomic scientist in his own right than as the top American official in war-fearful Germany.

Conant said the atom bomb, which he helped create, is only one in a series of weapons derived from atomic explosions. Therefore, he asserted, "no general staff in the world" can forecast what a third world war might yield in the way of destruction.

This to him, he said, is the greatest single reason why the nations of the world will be exceedingly slow to embark on any aggressive adventures. The general uncertainty about the possible effects of new developments in atomic weapons offers a certain security against a foolish war gamble, he added.

Wooden Vessels Return To Navy

PORTSMOUTH, Va., March 28 (AP)—The Navy today introduced its answer to modern sea warfare—the wooden ship.

Two minesweepers of wood were christened the USS Bold and USS Bulwark at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard. Metal—the nonmagnetic variety such as aluminum, copper and nickel—is found just in pipes, fastenings and the engines.

The wood is intended to counteract the magnetic mine, which was developed during World War II.

The 172-foot, 665-ton ships are the first wooden vessels to be built at the Navy shipyard since 1918.

Russians Told Of POW Offer

LONDON, March 28 (AP)—Moscow radio told the Soviet people tonight of negotiations for exchanging sick and wounded war prisoners in Korea but did not comment on them.

The Russian home service, heard in London, used the report from the Communist New China news agency in two news periods.

10-Room House Falls Into Creek

OSCEOLA, Wis., March 28 (AP)—Fish in Osceola Creek got a 10-room house today, complete with television and a deep freeze chest.

The house toppled into the creek when a small bridge gave way. The swelling, containing all the belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlson, was being moved from a farm to the village of Dresser Junction, five miles away.

Deaths In 'Unbelievable' Train Wreck Rise To 20

CONNEAUT, O., March 28 (AP) — A grimy, red-eyed band of rescue workers today dug doggedly at the twisted skeletons of 19 railroad coaches in search of more victims of an unbelievable, three-train wreck.

They have found 20 bodies.

A deputy coroner said he believed three more were under one car pushed deep into the muddy ground.

The odds against the accident were a million to one.

The trains—one freight and two passenger flyers—happened to be almost exactly at the same spot at 10 o'clock, EST, last night.

The scene was a desolate section of the New York Central mainline in Western Pennsylvania, one-half mile from the Ohio line. There are four tracks. The inner tracks are used by passenger trains. Freight trains use the outer ones.

At exactly 10 o'clock, an 18-inch pipe 35 feet long fell from a eastbound freight. It bent a rail on the westbound passenger tracks.

At that instant, the westbound Buffalo-to-Chicago Express came roaring past at 80 miles an hour and hit the bent rail. The locomotive wrecked the freight and the freight cars spun from the tracks and, in turn, wrecked the flyer.

In seconds, the headlight of the eastbound Southwestern Limited split the night, flared briefly across the tangled wreckage in its path and piled headlong at 80 miles an hour into the welter of twisted steel and broken bodies.

After long, anguished seconds of sound of steel on steel, grinding and tearing itself to pieces, quiet came, but briefly.

Screams started to come from the coaches, strewn like a careless dumped pile of fence posts. But for a little while, the numbed senses of the uninjured among the 400 persons involved in the wrecks wouldn't function. For a few minutes, no one did anything.

The wrecked cars, thrashing like alligators in the rapid-fire impacts, had sheared off telegraph poles. There was no communication with the rest of the world.

A railroad man — his heart nearly bursting — ran three miles to carry word of the catastrophe and to summon outside aid.

But passengers and trainmen alike pitched into rescue efforts long before outside help could come. They pawed through the mangled coaches.

About 150 passengers needed help. More than 60 later were taken to hospitals.

The rescue work went on for hours. Professional rescue men pried with crowbars and cut through metal with acetylene torches.

Numb with shock and the chill night, scores of survivors, including the walking injured, milled around the shells of the once-plush trains. Then NYC managed to get locomotives and few spare cars pushed in close to each end of the wreck scene and the survivors began to scatter.

The more seriously injured were taken to hospitals at Conneaut, Ashtabula, O., and Erie, Pa.

Passengers whose destinations were east of the wreck scene were put on makeshift trains east of the 1,000-foot stretch of torn up track and vice versa.

With its mainline out of service, the NYC switched some of its traffic to Nickel Plate tracks nearby. Some trains which do not stop at Cleveland were being rerouted above Lake Erie on the tracks of a NYC subsidiary in Canada.

The spectacular crash was a complete surprise to everyone on both passenger trains, except the engine crew of the Southwestern Limited—the second flyer involved. Railroad officials said there was never any hope the crew could avoid the crash.

G. W. Lockwood of Cleveland Heights, O., assistant conductor of the Southwestern Limited, told a newsman:

"I was in the vestibule aisle of the head coach. The crash was as quick as the snap of a finger. I found myself in an aisle with steel partitions wrapped around me. Another man was pinned in with me. I remember looking through a hole in the top of the car.

"I think the man next to me died. He grabbed hold of me at first, then he quieted down and I couldn't make him hear me."

Airman 2C. Borden A. Brown, 19, of Ashtabula, on the way home on leave from a New York state Air Force base, recalled:

"The first I rmember was a real crazy bumping. We seemed to slow down, then — wham! — there was another bump. I climbed out. I don't know where, but it wasn't through the door."

A few hours later, a Niagara Falls, N. Y., undertaker called at the Erie, Pa., morgue to pick up the body of an auto accident victim. At the morgue, he also found the body of his sister-in-law, a victim of the train wreck.

A few minutes later another body was brought in. It was the body of the undertaker's niece, daughter of the dead woman.

The undertaker, Ralph Wallace, identified the victims as Mrs. Bess Wallace, 40, of Westfield, N. Y., and Emma Grace Wallace, 16.

Women Convicts Freed In New Soviet Move

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP) — A group of women convicts in Moscow's Butryskaya Prison was reported released today under the Malenkov government's new amnesty decree.

Usually reliable sources said it was understood these women of the Moscow jail were in the first batches to be freed from prisons, corrective labor camps and other places of detention in the Soviet Union.

The decree was broadcast to the Soviet Union only this morning.

(The number released and the total promised freedom in the decree forgiving lesser crimes have not been announced.

Some Western diplomats who have been skeptical said today they may yet decide that a new conciliatory atmosphere prevails in Moscow.

Wreck Victim Hurled On Roof

CRESTVIEW, Fla., March 28 (AP)—Lyman Franklin, 44, of Pensacola, Fla., was killed instantly last night at nearby Baker in an automobile accident that hurled his body onto the roof of a house into which his car crashed.

Franklin's car apparently went out of control and plunged into the home of Arthur Williams. Williams and his wife, asleep at the time, escaped injury.

Franklin's body was lodged against a chimney on top of the Williams' house.

Continuation Of Railway Express Ordered By ICC

The Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered a continuation to railway express service to 36 northeast Louisiana communities who have been threatened by suspension through disagreements between the Missouri Pacific and Railway Express agency.

An express company proposal last August to close service to the 36 communities was met with strong opposition from the northeast Louisiana towns, especially from Winnsboro.

A delegation from the Winnsboro Businessmen's Association formed the core of opposition. The group first appealed to the Louisiana Public Service Commission which ultimately recommended to the Interstate Commerce Commission that steps be taken to prevent the proposed discontinuance.

Actually the threat to express service grew out of a struggle between the express agency and Missouri Pacific in a rate disagreement. The express agency operates through an agreement with the railroad company, which handles express deliveries in the contested towns.

The opposing parties contended that the express agency's proposal would have resulted in inferior service and increased charges. This was conceded by the express agency, but it insisted that the railroad company, in their failure to agree, forced the proposal.

Body Of Queen To Be Taken To Famous Temple

LONDON, March 28 —UP—The body of dowager Queen Mary will be taken Sunday to Westminister Hall to lie in state for two days before burial Tuesday, the lord chamberlain announced Saturday.

The beat of muffled drums will echo through the London Queen Mary loved as her coffin is borne in procession from Marlborough House to the 854-year-old Temple of English Law.

The queen will lie in state of a catafalque erected over the spot where the bodies of her husband, King George V, and her son, King George VI, also rested before burial.

Since her death Tuesday at the age of 85, the remains of Britain's indomitable old lady had lain in the dimly-lit, 325-year-old queen's chapel, adjoining Marlborough House. Members of the royal family kept a day-and-night vigil, but the public was excluded.

About 1,000 soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen will precede the coffin along the route of the procession, marching to the muted music of guards' bands.

Archbishop of Canterbury will conduct a brief memorial service as the coffin is placed on the catafalque, where it will remain until early Tuesday morning.

Carefree Life Holds No More Lure For Boys

MEMPHIS, March 28 (AP)—Two runaway Mississippi boys, at first believed drowned in a rain-swollen bayou, turned up very much alive here — Completely disenchanted with life on "the open road."

Thomas Powell and Jasper Belk, both 15, hopped a freight train and ran away from their Greenwood homes last Wednesday.

They were found yesterday, asleep in a caboose into which they had crawled to seek food and shelter from the rain.

In between, the seventh graders rode freights, got locked in a refrigerator car and almost froze to death — and saw their original $1.50 capital shrink to 15 cents.

Meanwhile, authorities in Greenwood, fearing the boys had drowned while fishing, dragged the bayou for their bodies Thursday and Friday.

The youngsters told juvenile court authorities here they "just got tired of school" and decided to run away. They related this story to chief probation officer W. C. Moxley:

A freight train brought them to Memphis but the city looked too big so they hopped another freight and rode on to Dyersburg, Tenn., 80 miles north.

A refrigerator car attracted them there and they crawled in. Someone outside slammed the car door shut and it locked, trapping them inside for more than four hours.

"We nearly froze to death," Powell said with a shudder.

Finally, in desperation, they ripped away screening from the ice opening and managed to squeeze out. By that time they were in Fulton, Ky.

From that distance, home never looked better so they caught another freight and returned to Memphis. Cold, wet and hungry, and unable to catch a Greenwood-bound train, they found the sidetracked caboose, broke a window and slipped in.

Railroad police found them there and turned them over to juvenile court. They were to be returned to their parents later today.

A major sport amont the Indians of Panama's remote western provinces is balseria, one of the world's roughest games, says the National Georgraphic Society. General object of the game is to incapacitate an opponent by hurling a heavy, six-foot pole at his legs.

Oil Industry Unions Meet

BATON ROUGE, March 28 (AP) — A two-day convention of petroleum industry unions and employe groups opened today with the Independent Industrial Workers Association as host.

The IIWA, a non-affiliated union, represented some 6,000 employes at the Esso Standard Oil Co. refinery here.

Wood Honeycutt, IIWA's secretary, said the purpose of the meeting is to stress closer relations among employe groups in the petroleum industry.

Unions represented at the meeting include various independent groups as well as unions and locals in the American Federation of Labor and the Oil Workers International Union (CIO).

Delegates came from refineries in Louisiana, Texas, Maryland and New Jersey.

Pledge On Asia Problems Made By U.S., France

WASHINGTON, March 28 — The United States and France today pledged co-operation "to defeat Communist aggression in the Far East and to strengthen the defense" of the Western world.

A communique approved by President Eisenhower and Premier Rene Mayer said that in the absence of any "tangible proof to the contrary" the leaders of the two nations agree that Joseph Stalin's death and the rise of Premier Georgi Malenkov has not altered Soviet threat to the free world.

The delegations headed by Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, and Mayer and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, resolved on a series of views and actions to carry out their anti-Communist commitments, but on one possibly critical point they apparently failed to reach any agreement whatsoever.

That was Mayer's insistence that before France joins a European army with West German troops, there must be an understanding between France and West Germany on the future of the industrially important Saar area. The Saar is now politically independent but tied economically to France. The Germans resent the French hold on an area which they formerly ruled.

Prolonged Saar trouble between France and Germ[illegible] indefinitely delay the European Defense Community, jeopardize Eisenhower administration hopes for congressional approval of a large-scale foreign aid funds. Dulles argued against making a Saar understanding prerequisite to EDC. When Mayer declined to yield, Dulles then urged the quickest possible settlement and the two governments agreed on the importance of this.

Chain Reaction

CREETOWN, Scotland, March 28 (AP) — A man, a boy and 98 athletic sheep jumped to safety from a runaway truck today.

Huge Love of Creetown was driving the truck containing 100 sheep and stopped on a hill to examine his load. While he climbed up at the back of the vehicle, it began moving downhill.

Love jumped first. Then 12-year-old Andrew Welsh, who was traveling in the cab, leaped to safety.

The sheep, as sheep will, followed.

When Love got to the bottom of the hill he found the truck wrecked in a field, and 98 sheep grazing quietly. One had been killed and the 100th was badly injured.

Four Producers Are Brought In

Four wells were brought in as producers in the Monroe district according to a weekly field report of oil and gas wells drilled and completed for the week ending March 26. The report is issued by the local office of the department of conservation, minerals division.

Two of the producers were located in LaSalle Parish and the others in Union Parish.

Also listed were three new locations. The weekly report showed no wells plugged and abandoned during the seven - day period.

Checker King At Recreation Center Today

Checker players from throughout Louisiana, western Mississippi and southern Arkansas will assemble here, at the Monroe Recreation Center, 113 Catalpa Street, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 for demonstrations in master checker play by William F. (Willie) Ryan, many times world champion.

Ryan will meet all comers in simutaneous play and may play on 50 or more boards at one time. He will also play as many as 10 games simultaneously while blindfolded.

The wizard of the checker board is also said to be a master showman who can pack drama and thrills even into a checker game. He is the world's best known checker player and is considered by many to be the world's best author and publisher of checker books, as a large part of the play in his books has been worked out and perfected by himself and other masters with whom he plays, whereas many books on checkers are merely compilations of play from other books.

Ryan is undoubtedly one of the most daring checker players in the world, as he will unhesitatingly back his own play against long-standing play of the other experts.

Several hundred people in addition to those who will play are expected to be at the recreation center to see the champion in action and to watch his marvelous performances as he plays as many as 10 games while blindfolded. There will be no admission charge.

Edgewood Plans Revival To Be Held At Church

A revival begins at the Edgewood Baptist Church April 5, Easter Sunday. The eight day revival will be sponsored by the young people of the church and they will take an active part in its promotion.

Walter A. "Sonny" Bennett, Jr. will be the evangelist. Bennett is a senior at Ouachita High and is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bonita, La. He is an outstanding athlete, having been chosen as a member of the all state Double A team. He is also a much sought after youth speaker.

B. C. Harper will direct the music for the revival and Mrs. O. P. Bazer will serve as pianist. Special music will be featured each night of the revival. Services will be at 7:30 each evening.

The youth committee of the church composed of Durward Walker, chairman, C. H. Evans, E. N. Vidrine and Mrs. J. E. Hardy announce the following young people and their stations of service during the revival. Pastor, W. A. Bennett, Jr.; music director, Fabe Ingram; pianist, Betty Jo Harper; Sunday school superintendent, Fabe Ingram; T. U. director, Betty Brantley; chairman of ushers, Larry Hall; prayer chairman, Arthuree Hall; publicity director, Marvin Pipes, Jr.; men's teacher, Sherwood Holmes; ladies No. 1 teacher, Betty Jo Harper; ladies No. 2 teacher, Artice Hall; young people's teacher, Mary Ann Vidrine; Intermediates, John Sheepis; juniors, Mary Katherine Henry; T. U. secretary, Charolette Latham; Sunday school secretary, Elton Latham; Int. Union leader, Norman Grantham; Junior Union leader, Mary Ann Vidrine; visitation chairman, Ronnie Bennett. The officers will take over the last Sunnay of the revival.

Bad Weather Is Not Interfering With Mission Here

In spite of the gloomy weather, Father Baudry of the Redemptorists Fathers, was again greeted by an overflow crowd for his seventh sermon in the series of mission talks at St. Matthew's Catholic Church.

The preacher spoke Friday night on the "Precepts or Commandments of the Church." He explained that all the precepts of the church are based on the commandments of God and show us a definite way of keeping them, as for instance the precept to attend mass each Sunday, helps us keep holy the Lord's Day. He pointed out that although the church may dispense us from her particular law of abstinence or fasting, she cannot dispense us from penance, for this is a Divine Law of God.

The missionary pointed out that the church has the power from Christ to teach, to govern in spiritual matters and to sanctify souls. Therefore the church has a divine commission from her Founder, Jesus Christ, to guide the faithful in the ways of God's commandments and to make particular precepts to show them how to walk in the footsteps of Christ their Divine Leader.

The mission will continue Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. with the missionary, Father Baudry, preaching at all five masses Sunday morning and then again at the closing exercises Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

His excellency, Bishop Charles P. Greco, will preside at the closing of the mission Sunday night, and bestow the Apostolic Blessing. The public is most cordially invited to attend.

The association voted to meet in Alexandria next year.

St. Matthew's Students Enter Reading Tests

The annual interpretative reading contest sponsored by St. Matthew's School will be held in the school gymnasium - auditorium on Monday evening at 8 p.m. with the following class representatives participating:

Freshmen: Joyce Hilton: "Afraid of the Dark" by A. Callahan; Larry McCarthy: "Mama and Her Bank Account," by Kathleen Forbes.

Sophomores: Eddie Pohlman: "The Swan Song" by Katharine Brooks; Sue Turner: "Apple Blossoms" by Katherine Kimball.

Juniors: Kathleen Debnam: "The Gypsy Flower Girl," author unknown; Charles Breard: "A Man Who Had No Eyes" by Macknlay Kantor.

Seniors: Vincent Marsala: "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death." Betty Ann Eberts: "The Button," by Robert Newman.

The public is cordially invited to attend this speech exhibition.

Both the high school and the grade school departments followed the mission given at St. Matthew's Church during the past week, led by the Reverend Paul Baudry, of the Redemptorist Fathers, New Orleans.

On Saturday evening the grade school participated in a procession to the church honoring the Blessed Sacrament and the Blessed Mother of God. The grade school teachers were in charge of this ceremony, with practically every child of the elementary school taking part.

Easter holidays for St. Matthew's open on Wednesday afternoon after classes, and school will be resumed on Easter Tuesday following. On Holy Thursday the classes are expected to attend adoration of the Blessed Sacrament in the church, and on Good Friday the children are to attend the stations of the cross. Services will be held in the afternoon and in the evening.

The senior play, "Life With Father" by Lindsay and Crouse is progressing well with rehearsals each evening in the gymnasium. Sister Patricia is in charge.

Texas Man Held Here For Forgery

The Ouachita Parish sheriff department is holding a Texas man on two counts of forgery. He was returned to the parish jail from Texas late Friday night after serving a sentence there.

Sheriff Bailey Grant identified the man as Charles Elmo Perry, 28, of Del Rio, Tex. He is charged with forging two checks, both of which were made payable to him. The checks, signed by "E. A. Johnson" were cashed in local business establishments on April 8 and 9 of 1951.

Perry was returned to Monroe by Deputy Sheriff Raymond Knowles.

He was charged with the theft in true bills by the Ouachita Parish grand jury on April 10, 1952.

On Maundy Thursday, the British sovereign traditionally distributes specially minted money to as many needy persons as there are years in his (or her) age.

Reds Accept

help wondering whether the Kremlin leadership was at last beginning to back up hopeful generalities with specific actions.

At the same time they said they still wanted to see how speedily the Reds would go through with the proposed prisoner exchange and what steps they would take toward conducting armistice negotiations on terms acceptable to a majority of the United Nations.

There was no question, however, that the Red move had stirred up intense interest here and that it would undoubtedly be the subject of exchanges of views among the Allied governments and key members of the U. N. which have troops fighting in Korea.

The two points which the Red message to Gen. Clark made were these:

1. The Communist command "fully agrees to your side's proposal to exchange sick and injured prisoners of war."

2. The Communists thought that such an exchange could lead into "smooth settlement of the entire question of the prisoners of war and proposed immediate resumption of the armistice talks of which the over-all POW problem is the key issue."

The State Department declared that the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners is a matter entirely separate from the resumption of the armistice negotiations and said it was "too early" to comment upon resumption at this time.

Presumably officials were trying to determine whether and to what extent the Reds might be acting in good faith in suggesting a return to the conference table. Some defense officials noted that the Reds have used similar maneuvers before when they found themselves in a tough spot militarily—as when the armistice talks first started.

Skepticism was even more pronounced on Capitol Hill, although Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, said the Red offer was a "good sign."

Rep. Short (R-Mo), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said "we don't want to bank too many hopes" on the offer, adding that this is "the old war of nerves."

Rep. Vorys (R-O.), a ranking member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said the United States should insist on a separation of the POW repatriation issue and any resumption of armistice talks.

"We should make it clear that we are always interested in any humanitarian proposal," he said, "but based on past performances (at Panmunjom) there is no reason for resuming the armistice talks unless the Communists come up with something new."

Burmese

menting rehabilitation programs." It added: "The government of Burma wishes to make it clear that this action is not intended in any way to cast a reflection on existing programs nor on the activities of ECA personnel in Burma."

Premier U Nu, who left Rangoon by plane today for the Indian border and conferences with India's Prime Minister Nehru, has said that Burma is determined to work out a program of economic assistance with the Soviet Union as soon as his government completes a survey of Burma's requirements.

There was no indication, however, that a Soviet assistance program would replace the U. S. program. Burma is still being aided by the Colombo plan, a British Commonwealth counterpart of the American Point Four program.

There has been some rise in anti-American feeling here recently. The No. 1 issue in Burma today is the presence of 12,000 Nationalist Chinese guerrillas within her borders. Burma charged in a note to the United Nations this week that these survivors of the war against Red China are aggressors against Burma. Help was asked to oust them.

PARISH SCHOOL DESTROYED — The Swayze Elementary school, on Buck Jones lane, was destroyed by fire early last night while firemen battled the blaze with every drop of water they could pump through one hose fed from a drainage ditch 2,400 feet away. In the bottom picture six firemen train the hose into the south end of the building. These six firemen were a few feet from the area where a section of the brick wall crumbled a few minutes after the picture was made. (Staff Photo by Leon Noland, Jr.)

Decision Appears Near In W. Monroe Intrusion Cases

The state supreme court, after reviewing an appealed case in which West Monroe's mayor and city judge were ruled illegally in office, is expected to hand down a decision at "an early date."

The case was appealed by Mayor J. Allen Norris and Judge Howell Heard after they were ruled illegally in office by District Judge David I. Garrett. Both officers, along with three West Monroe aldermen, were appointed by Gov. Robert F. Kennon.

Plaintiffs in the case, a group of West Monroe citizens, charge that Kennon's appointments were illegal because more than one year remained in the unexpired terms to be filled.

The aldermen were also ruled illegally in office by the district court. Their cases were appeaed to the second circuit court of appeals and is due for review here April 6.

Drowning Victims Returned To La.

The bodies of a Texas City man and his three children, all drowned when their automobile plunged into a lake in south Texas, will be returned to Gibsland for burial Wednesday, his mother announced here last night.

The incident wiped out the lives of all members in one Negro family except the mother who was not riding in the car at the time.

Dead were: Earl King, 45, his two daughters Earline, 17, and Vivian, 14 and one son Earl King, Jr., 13.

Kings mother, Elizabeth King, lives at 1047½ Texas street in Monroe. He also has two surviving sisters here. They are Annie Mae Moore and Clara McGlother.

In addition he is survived by four other sisters and two brothers.

Truth Hurts Him

OZARK, Ala. (AP)—Police Chief Roy Searcy is a man with a suspicious mind and a photographic memory.

"When did you get out of prison," he asked Marvin Tucker, a Negro who was trying to hitchhike a ride yesterday.

"Last October," Tucker replied. "Did you walk out:" Searcy wanted to know.

"No, I came out running," Tucker said.

Tucker was run back in on a charge of escaping from Kilby Prison.

around 7 p. m. As firemen manned their meager available weapon, several thousand people watched the boiling scene for hours.

Police blocked Buck Jones Lane to prevent as much congestion in the fire area as possible. But curious spectators found their way to the fire. The school was located about four blocks off the Winnsboro road.

The destruction of the school posed an immediate problem for the parish school board. Already plagued with a need for addition school facilities they now must find emergency accommodations for the 500 Negro children who attend Swayze.

Swayze elementary school was the first to be built under an improvement program that totalled over $5,000,000. A member of the school board last night estimated the total value of the loss at $140,000.

All the new parish school buildings are covered 100 per cent by insurance. All local insurance agencies representing stock companies, numbering over 30, will handle the settlement.

Shortly after he arrived at the fire Chief Hales ordered Deputy State Fire Marshal Garland May notified. Hales left no doubt that he suspected foul play.

The destroyed building was of brick construction on the exterior and wood inside. It had been in service one year last September.

As the heat demolished the numerous glass windows the billowing flames were fed by an unlimited supply of air. After three hours only the twisted metal beams and fragments of the brick wall remained standing in the smouldering ashes.

At one point during the fire six firefighters barely escaped almost certain death when a brick section at the south end of the building fell its full length. The hot brick spattered three feet from where the firemen were manning their only hose.

Swayze school was located outside the city limits. No fire plug was anywhere near the building.

Hales said two truck loads of two and one-half inch standard hose was strung to the drainage ditch water supply.

Broken

It has been like that almost ever since."

There are five men resting against the checkpoint bunker. Their trousers are out at the knees from hitting the deck. These are the survivors of Easy Company's "point"—the men who started the last attack.

They are almost too tired to talk but they give their names as Pfc. Ben Hickman of Middleboro, Ky., Garland Lesley of Hugo, Okla., Anthony Rosario of San Juan, Puerto Rico; Salvatore Martinez of Sacramento, Calif., and Navy hospital corpsman Neil Ginsterblum of Prairie du Chien, Wis.

Hickman and Martinez are the ones who found and captured a Chinese infantryman.

"He was laying in a hole," said Hickman, "playing dead."

"We would have passed him by but the bastard moved his head just a little. Martinez and another guy went down and dragged him up."

Martinez yawned. "I wanted to shoot him," he said, "but then I figured you don't get to capture Chinamen every day."

Somebody yelled and the five shuffled off towards Vegas again.

The Marines were determined to retake the hill which is a key terrain feature. The fighting is not over. It still is bitter but the Marines are on top of Vegas now.

(This dispatch was filed before the Chinese again knocked the Marines off Vegas).

BUDAPEST, Hungary, March 28 (AP)—Hungary's ruling Presidium announced tonight that parliamentary elections will be held May 17.

Jes' Ramblin'

for I enjoyed it so much at the time!" he ventured.

Then he gave his head another series of strokes and his eyes took on a far away look.

"I will call the church and find out!" he declared, and he picked up the first phone that serves only for long distance.

When he discovered his mistake, he decided to go to church and from there inform about the service.

A few minutes later, he telephoned:

"News - Star — World, this is Rev. ——, I found out about that address. It was on hell!"

And Jes' Ramblin' agreed with him that it must have been on such an atomic subject as that, wholly judging from the impression, or lack of impression, it seemed to have left on at least one of its hearers.

The proposed rejuvenation of the Elks Lodge in Monroe seems to have started in motion at least another similar project. A. B. Gaude came to the Morning World office yesterday and stated that he seeks to revive here the Improved Order of Red Men.

Years ago the group was active here and numbered such members as A. R. Kirby, Henry Kihneman, Dan Forst and others and the organization had a fine band at the time. Mr. Gaude wants to know if there are not many men who would like to start up the order again. If so he asks that they so inform him, or make the desire known at the offices of the Morning World.

Monroe surely is growing, judging from expanding business, residence, schools and churches. There will be ground breaking today in two places for first units of churches, the total expense of which will approach $200,000. The first ground breaking will be in Marie Place, choice northside subdivision, where St. Paul's Methodist Church will have an exercise shortly after noon when the first spade is turned.

At 3 p.m. an even more elaborate exercise is planned near the Louisville Avenue, DeSiard road junction when ground will be broken for Our Lady Fatima Catholic Church and school. The bishop will officiate and on a newly - erected platform will contain representatives of city and parish schools and the Ouachita Parish police jury.

Church. The first unit, costing $87,500, will be erected and in use in early fall for the church services and educational unit. Later others will follow.

Catholics of Monroe will break ground near the Louisville Avenue, DeSiard road junction for the first unit of Our Lady of Fatima Church and school, at 3 p.m. today. His Excellency C. P. Greco will officiate and on the platform will be representatives of the parish and city of Monroe schools, the Ouachita Parish police jury, and other groups.

The program will be largely attended and a special broadcast will be given of the proceedings over radio station KNOE.

The public is cordially invited to attend both ground breaking exercises.

on the ground it was bought illegally by aliens, and has made known that action against many other ships is planned.

The default notices could be a preliminary to foreclosure but the owners have a chance to stave off that action.

McCarthy's announcement was made with considerable fanfare at a news conference in the subcommittee's hearing room. The conference was filmed for later television use and the public was admitted along with newsmen.

McCarthy said he understood the non-press persons present were friends of senators. He admonished them not to discuss the announcement until they read it in the newspapers since he stipulated it was for release in Sunday morning papers.

McCarthy said the 242 ships involved in his agreement are owned by the Greeks but fly the flags of various nations. He said 17 fly the British flag, 34 the Canadian, 51 the Greek, 52 the Liberian and 88 the Panamanian.

"Since the outbreak of the war in Korea and up to the present time," he said, "a sizeable number of the vessels covered by this agreement have engaged in this Communist trade.

"The immediate effect of this agreement will be to stop that trade and will result in a substantial reduction of materials, goods and supplies that are now being carried in and out of these Communist ports."

McCarthy's subcommittee had announced that it would start public hearings Monday in an investigation of trade with Red China and other Communist areas.

Some of the ships covered by the agreement with the Greek owners were involved in the probe, being among 96 surplus ships sold by the government after the war. McCarthy contended they were carrying war-useful goods to Communist China and other Soviet areas.

Asked what will happen to the investigation now, McCarthy said it would still be "of interest" to the subcommittee but added "it makes it rather a moot question" insofar as the ships covered by.... the agreement are concerned.

A reporter, curious about why the Greek ship owners suddenly would agree to halt trade with Communist areas, asked if the "quid pro quo" was the dropping of the investigation.

"I don't know all the things that influenced them," McCarthy said. "I think their primary objective was to deal a heavy blow to the Communist cause."

McCarthy said the shipping agreement was worked out with Manuel Kulukundis, whom he described as "an important Greek ship owner and operator and president of the Greek ship owners New York committee."

He also said that subcommittee representatives worked out a similar separate agreement with Stavros Livanos. McCarthy said that Livanos operates 36 of the 242 ships but is not a member of the New York committee.

McCarthy said that negotiations are being carried on by the subcommittee with the Greek owners London committee in an effort to work out an agreement similar to that signed by the New York committee.

"It is anticipated," he said, "that such an agreement will be concluded within a few days and will result in a similar restriction of Communist trade on the part of an additional 100 to 150 merchant ships of Various flags, including Greek, British and Liberian."

Social Work Is Job Of Visiting School Teacher

Speaking before the Civitan club, at the meeting Thursday night, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, city of Monroe visiting teacher, introduced by program chairman, Olin Wolf, discussed the nature of her work. She said in part:

"The visiting teacher program in Louisiana is an outgrowth of Act. 239 of 1944, when the compulsory attendance law was enacted. This involves keeping a continuous census, working with the homebound program, and doing all that is possible to keep children in school and aiding in their regular attendance.

"I would not be able to accomplish desired results were it not for the cooperation of all the school people. As you know, if you have taught or been a parent, a child's classroom teacher is the most important person in the child's life outside the parents. The teacher has the child for the entire school day, molds his thinking and tries to see that he gets the very best out of the school program. But no matter how good a teacher is, she cannot instruct to advantage a child who is hungry or who is embarrassed by lack of clothes like children wear whose parents are in good circumstances. Here is where there is need for the careful, well-directed services of a visiting teacher.

"Through the aid of community agencies it is possible to see that some of the needs are supplied, and to these ever helpful agencies must be given credit for the timely aid that they are so willing to render when less fortunate ones are concerned.

"For example, a month or so ago I was asked by a principal of a school to go to a certain home and find out why a boy was absent so much. At the home I found that the father had a cancer. There was a four-month-old baby, two of school age and also two other younger children. Both clothing and food were required. Through the school's P.-T. A., and the Junior Charity League, these most urgent needs were supplied. The health problem of the family was discussed and a school nurse saw that some help was available through the E. A. Conway hospital. Needed medicine was provided through the Twin City council and it was possible to aid in readjusting the family and getting the boy back in school.

"The organizations listed are by no means the only ones with which I work. The Lions club cheerfully supplies glasses for school children whose parents are financially unable to procure them. Mr. Bob Burns, of a committee of that club, is ever ready to aid. The Red Cross has provided food for needy families and the Kiwanis club and other civic clubs have provided shoes in many instances.

"Mrs. Willie Harris, of the juvenile court, and Mrs. Molly Armstrong, of the child labor division, give invaluable help when needed.

"The organizations mentioned I work with all the time, and then there is the Crippled Society for Children and Adults which can be depended on to give aid when needed. The Pilot club is educating two girls and there are other similar groups that are doing their part in rendering help for children.

"I have mentioned these and their contributions to school children because I think so often we hear of drives for this and that and wonder if it is all worth the time and energy that is being expended. But they really help and the Twin Cities are ever in the forefront with willing citizens who are only too glad to aid in worthy causes. It may be only a small item from each organization, but the sum total makes a complete pattern of help for our most important product of all — the rising generation and its welfare as concerns the making of good citizenship."

Contributions Of Many Increased

R. Lee Vanderpool, fund campaign chairman of Ouachita Parish Red Cross, urges all workers to do a thorough job in order that we can reach the $42,500 quota. Mr. Vanderpool stated, "If Red Cross is to carry on its vital services to the armed forces, in this country and overseas, its blood program for armed forces, gamma globulin serum for prevention of paralysis in polio, and its disaster services, we must do our part of contributing generously. I feel confident that we will get the additional $4,647.36 needed if our workers will concentrate in seeing everyone and not overlooking the employee contributions in each pusiness, even if there is only one or two employees. Their donations are important."

The following employe groups, headed by C. G. Pearce, Sr., doubled their donations over last year's contribution: Brown Paper Mill, J. C. Penney, Walgreens, Silverstein's, F. Strauss, Montgomery Ward, Lee - Rogers Chevrolet Co., Brown Paper Industries, Ouachita National Bank, Morgan and Lindsey, Ouachita Candy Company, Monroe Office Equipment, Lennon Motor, Loper Machine Works, Sears Roebuck, The Palace, Central Savings Bank, Coca - Cola Company, Monroe News - Star, Weak's Supply.

Mr. Vanderpool stated, "I'm certainly pleased with the spirit and cooperation of these firms. I'm sure many other employe groups will equal this record."

The final report meeting will be at Red cross April 6, 2:30 p.m. All division chairmen and captains are urged to have their work completed and make a final report.

Rehabilitation Clinic Slated

A rehabilitation work clinic will be held at the L. B. Faulk post No. 13, American Legion, Sunday, March 29 at 9 a.m. This announcement is made by Percy A. Lemoine, Alexandria, chairman of the committee of the Department of Louisiana.

The purposes of this clinic is to familiarize all members of the American Legion in this department with the basic fundamentals of the Rehabilitation program. The Louisiana department, after considerable study, has secured for this clinic, speakers who are top men in the different phases of the rehabilitation program.

This meeting is open to any post member or post service officer who may be interested in rehabilitation work and should attend this meeting.

These clinics have been held, so far this year, in Alexandria, Shreveport and will also be held at Crowley and Baton Rouge shortly.

There will be no registration fees for this meeting.

Bohlen Fight Did Not Split GOP, Taft Says

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said today no fundamental Republican split in foreign policy was represented in 11 GOP Senate votes against President Eisenhower's nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen as ambassador to Moscow.

The Senate confirmed Bohlen 74 to 13 yesterday after bitter criticism by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and others concerning the nominee's role as a State Department aide at the 1945 Yalta Conference. Only two Democrats — Senators McCarran of Nevada and Johnson of Colorado—voted against Bohlen.

Taft, who supported Bohlen vigorously in the Ohioan's role as majority leader, said in an interview he sees no deep differences in opinion between him and the 11 Republicans who voted against the President's appointee.

He added specifically that he has Carthy, with whom he clashed a no real differences with McCarthy, with whom he clashed a couple of times during the Senate's debate.

"There is no permanent division on foreign policy on the Republican side and I don't think any differences in active oreign policies will arise," Taft said.

"The only thing on which I differed with those who voted against Bohlen was that I didn't believe the nomination involved foreign policy—it related to past policy instead of to future policy."

Bohlen's opponents assailed him as too closely identified with the Roosevelt-Truman-Acheson foreign policies. Taft's reply was that Bohlen won't be a policy-maker at Moscow.

Taft said there are likely to be some differences of opinion among the Republican senators on such issues as the amount of foreign aid.

"But I don't see any fundamental differences that would justify calling this Bohlen vote a split of any kind in the party," he added.

Taft said he thinks McCarthy's part in the opposition had been "overplayed" in news reports. He said McCarthy hadn't started the fight against Bohlen but only joined it after Sen. Bridges (R-NH) announced his opposition at a meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee more than two weeks ago.

"Anything that McCarthy does is played up as a major issue, when as a matter of fact sometimes his actions are not so important," Taft said.

McCarthy and Taft clashed at one point in the debate when the Wisconsin senator suggested that Bohlen submit to a lie detector test to determine whether there was any truth to rumors that the nominee had associated with immoral persons.

Awards Given At Pack Meet

Cub Pack 34, sponsored by Lida Benton P.-T. A., held its monthly meeting Thursday, March 26.

The meeting was opened with Bill Rambin, Den Chief, leading the boys in the Cub Scout Promise. R. C. Bragg, chairman, was presented a pack flag emblem for quality program for the year 1952. Ronald Stewart, Dickie Dickerson and David Morland were presented their Bobcat pins. Tommie Ryland received a silver arrow on his bear. Herbie Ryland received a silver arrow on his Lion. Neil Gunn received silver arrow on his Bear. The theme for the month was wood handicrafts.

Outstanding in the array of things made by the boys was an aircraft carrier made by Tommie Ryland; shoe shine kit made by Herbie Ryland; tie rack made by Ray Taunton; and bird houses made by Jerry Bragg and Dickie Dickerson.

A new den mother, Mrs. A. W. Gersin, was introduced. The meeting was adjourned after the Cub Scout benediction, led by Cubmaster Gunn.

Golson Named President Of Fairbanks PTA

The March program at the Fairbanks School's P.-T. A. was given by grades from the first through the sixth. Most important event was the election of officers for the coming year which was as follows:

R. L. Golson, president; Mrs. Fred Peters, vice-president; Mrs. Spurgeon Welch, treasurer; Mrs. Earl Brimberry, secretary.

"The Muffin Man, I See You and On the Way to School," was given by Carol Ann Peters, Nancy Gholson, Brenda Atwell, Carolyn Sterling, David Whittington, Tommy Gunther, Freddy Adams, Joe Miller, Joe Keyes, Jeanette Nolan, Donna Lynn Miller and Becky York, under the direction of their teacher, Nancy Johnson.

The 5th and 6th grade girls, Cathy Phillips, Ruby Nell Meeks, Sandra Johnson, Phyllis Spence, Peggy Gunther, and Patsy Nolan, sang "Easter Parade."

Carol Ann Peters appeared in a tap dance, Julia Ann Scott accompanying at the piano. Cathy Phillips delighted the audience with a piano solo. Peggy Gunther read two familiar poems: Mary Had A Little Lamb and Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star. Peggy Gunther, Phyliss Spence and John Burton Talley rendered a vocal trio, "Waltz Again With Me." Julis Ann Scott was the announcer for the evening.

Ike Expected To Pick Successor To Roberts

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — President Eisenhower probably will personally pick the next chairman of the Republican National Committee and Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) predicted there won't be any fight over the choice.

The chairmanship was vacated by the resignation yesterday of C. Wesley Roberts, an Eisenhower supporter in last year's campaign. A Kansas state legislative committee held Roberts was guilty of violating the "spirit" of the state lobbying law.

Roberts, who got an $11,000 fee in the handling of a hospital sale to the state before he became GOP chairman, charged in his resignation he was the victim of a "plot growing out of a fierce factional fight in Kansas state politics."

Roberts today sent out a formal call to all members of the national committee to meet here April 10 "for the purpose of accepting my resignation and electing my successor."

Roberts' exit from the GOP chairmanship only about two months after he succeeded Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield in the party post stirred speculation about a long list of possible successors.

Taft said he had discussed some possibilities with other Republicans but didn't want to mention any names because he felt that would put the men involved in the light of being candidates when they might not be available at all.

The Ohioan said he thinks it would be all right for the committee to name an unpaid chairman "if it can find somebody who doesn't have government contracts." Roberts has been paid at the rate of $32,500 a year.

There has been talk among Republicans of getting a "big name" chairman, who would be given several administrative assistants so he would not necessarily have to devote all of his time to political work.

When reporters brought up the names of B. E. Hutchinson, Longtime Chrysler Motors executive, and President Charles M. White of Republic Steel, Taft said he didn't believe either could be persuaded to take the job.

Taft, who has had strong following on the national committee in the past, made it clear that he will not permit his followers to get into any fight over the chairmanship.

He said he presumes Eisenhower will have the final say on the choice of the new chairman, adding "we are not going to have any fight."

The name of R. Douglas Stuart, Quaker Oats executive who has served as a financial officer of the committee was mentioned. But Taft said he thought Stuart is likely to be named ambassador to Canada.

Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, president pro tempore of the Senate, said he thinks John Danaher, former Connecticut senator, would have strong backing in Congress for the chairmanship.

However, Danaher has represented copper interests on bills before Congress and might not be regarded by some committee members as a happy choice.

McIntyre Fairies, California national committeeman who is serving as chairman of the party's Executive Committee, was regarded as a possible choice.

Among others about whom there was speculation were former Senators Harry Darby of Kansas and Fred Seaton of Nebraska, both Eisenhower supporters before Chicago.

Barak T. Mattingly of St. Louis, another early Eisenhower backer and Surrogate Judge Leonard W. Hall of New York also were mentioned.

Registrar Quits, Cites 'Pressure'

ALEXANDRIA, La., March 28—O. G. Beauregard, Rapides parish registrar, said Saturday he quit his job because he was under "constant pressure."

Beauregard, who has announced he is resigning as of June 1, would not say who put the pressure on him. But he said in a letter to the parish police jury that he found it impossible to "take orders from so many people and do my job according to law."

"I tried to do the job like I thought it should be done," Beauregard wrote, "but personal considerations make it necessary that I resign."

No one has been chosen yet to succeed Beauregard.

Stories From Louisiana History

By CARRIE MAE HARPER

During the nineteenth century, before the coming of the automobile, the roads in north Louisiana were terrible. The police juries of each parish issued instructions to property owners as to the upkeep of the roads but the work was done only sporadically and very poorly. There were no bridges and the only connecting links between the crude highways were the ferries operating on all the streams.

Naturally with the roads in such condition accidents were frequent. One of the most tragic accidents occurred in June, 1871.

Crittenden Hallock, who lived in Richmond, made a trip to Lebanon where his two sisters were attending school.

"How wonderful to be through with school for a while," said one of the sisters as they prepared to leave for home.

"I do dread the trip, though," said the other girl. "The weather isn't too good for travel right at this time."

Nevertheless, the journey was begun by the three young people in high spirits. Anxious to reach home as soon as possible the brother drove the carriage as fast as the two mules could safely travel.

They were very pleased with their progress when they arrived at the ferry near Girard and prepared to cross Boeuf River.

As Crittenden Hallock urged the mules forward onto the flat leading from the riverbank to the ferry a cry went up from the men standing on the shore. The flat had pulled loose from the ferry and was moving out into the river.

The river was high, the current swift, and before anything could be done the flat had shot out across the water and the carriage and mules fell into the river.

In the confusion young Hallock struggled to hold onto his sanity. He managed to free himself from the carriage and to get his sisters out.

The two girls were screaming hysterically and Hallock was unable to save them.

"Please! Please, can't somebody help us," cried young Hallock as they went down.

No help came and all three drowned, locked in each other's arms. The bodies were found half an hour later.

In reporting the tragedy the Ouachita Telegraph vehemently condemned those men who had stood on the bank of the river and refused to heed Crittenden Hallock's pleas for help.

The citizens of northeast Louisiana were shocked by the incident and the tragic accident was discussed repeatedly during the next weeks, but there is no record of any investigation being made concerning the deaths.

PLYMOUTH ANNOUNCES NEW LOWER PRICES!

NOW! Greater Value Than Ever!

Substantial Reductions On All '53 Models!

Effective Immediately. The retail prices of all 1953 Plymouth cars are substantially reduced, bringing you the greatest Plymouth value in history!

When the 1953 Plymouths were introduced last fall, even though completely new and advanced in design, they were priced on a "HOLD-THE-LINE" basis. We emphasized then our constant aim of quality, performance, safety and comfort, at decreased rather than increased prices. And we pinned our faith on volume to achieve this objective.

The removal of production controls has made it possible to produce Plymouth cars at the highest rate in many months. Now that higher volume is being achieved and we may reasonably expect it to continue, we are lowering prices accordingly.

Price reductions apply to the entire Plymouth line—all nine body types. Your nearby Plymouth dealer will be glad to give you complete details about the new prices.

Plymouth, long famous for greater value, continues to bring you the quality features of High-priced cars—Now at even lower cost to you!

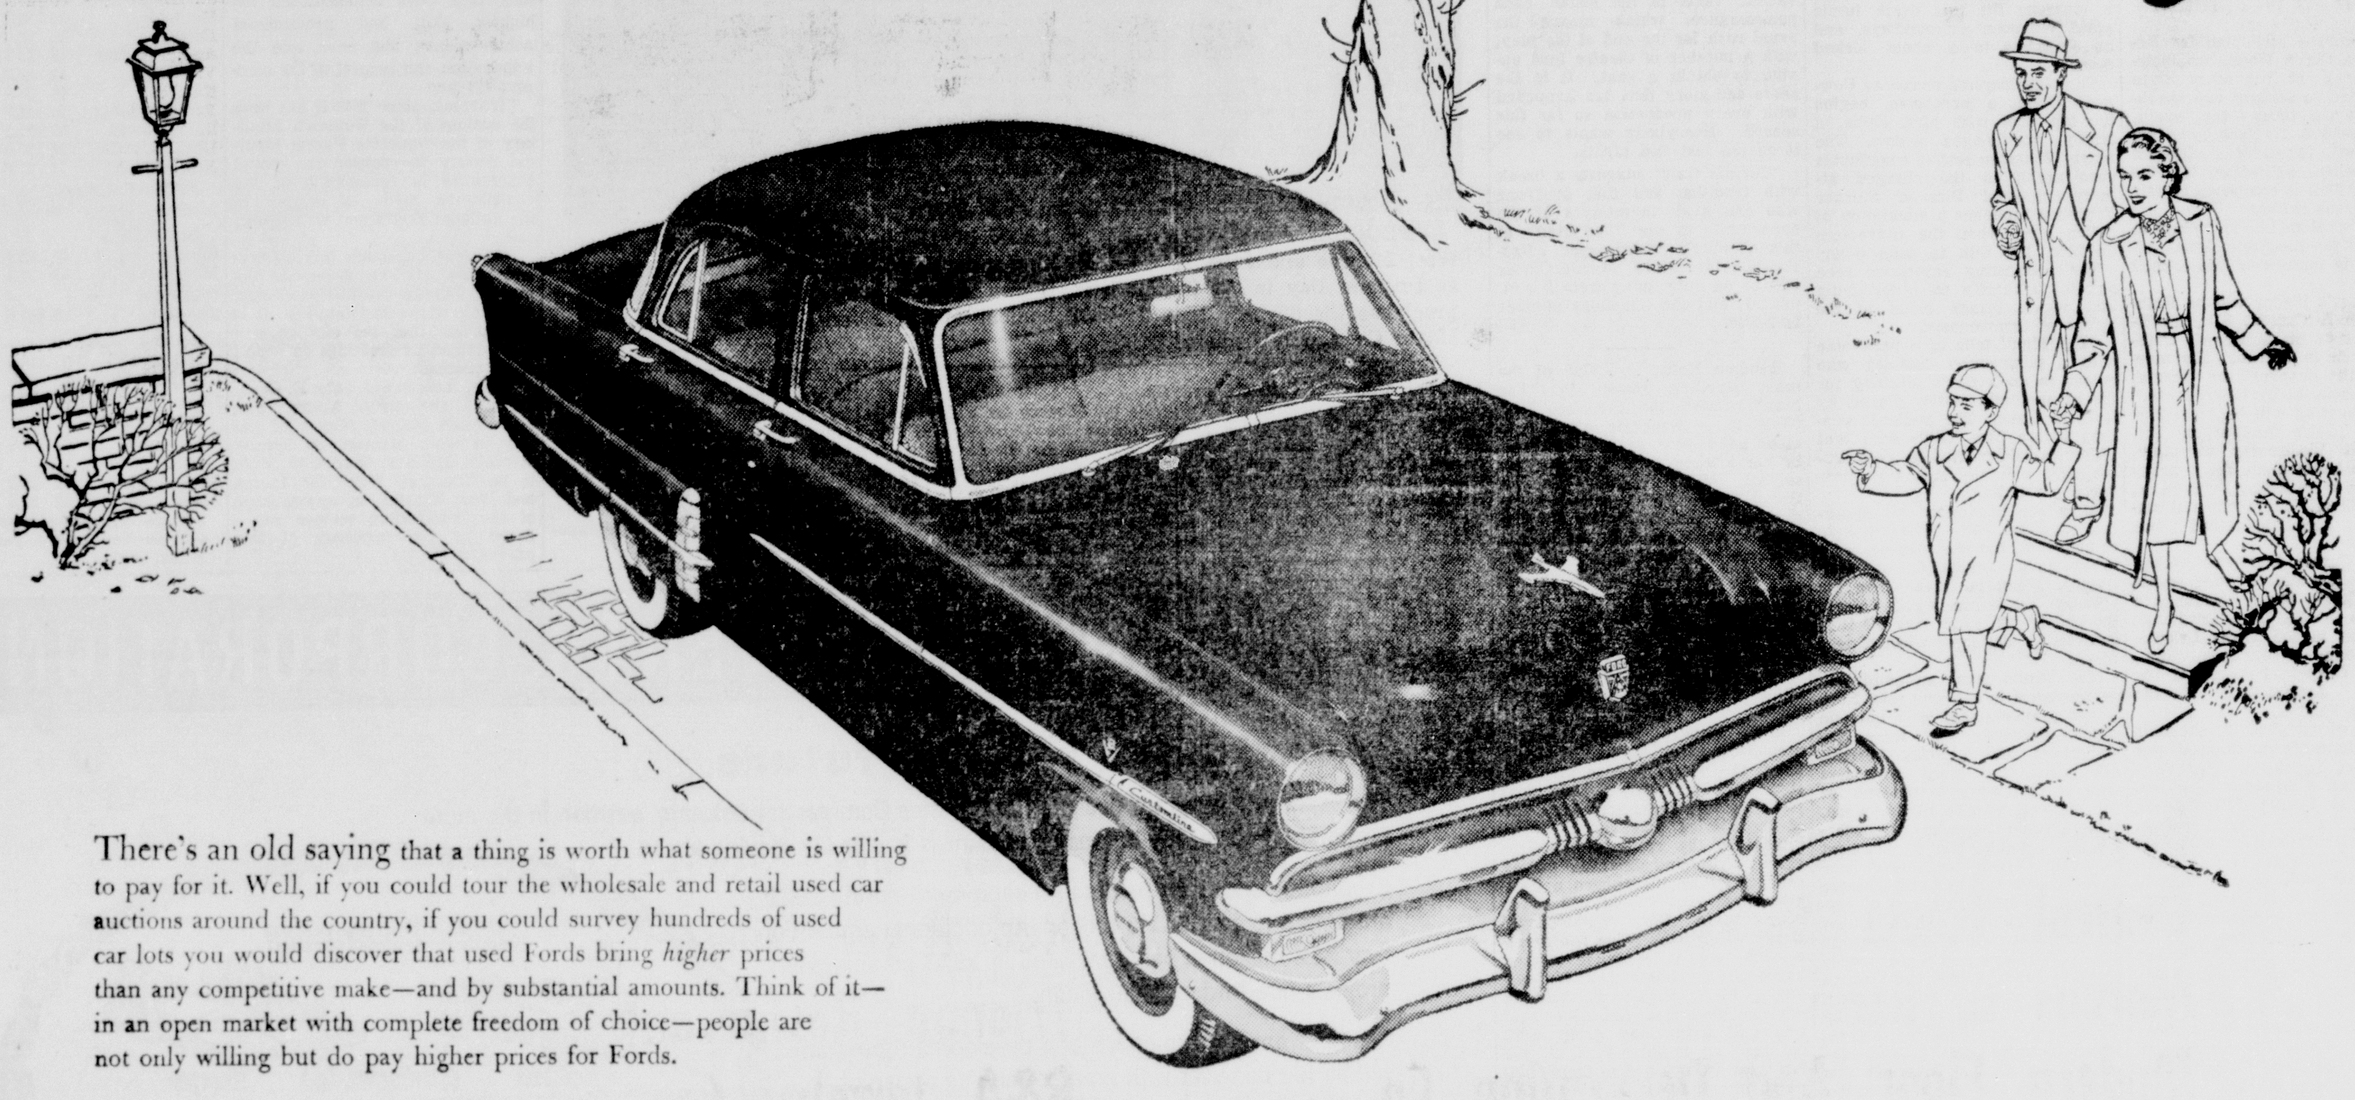
WATCH the TWIN CITIES GROW!

Worth more... and why



There's an old saying that a thing is worth what someone is willing to pay for it. Well, if you could tour the wholesale and retail used car auctions around the country, if you could survey hundreds of used car lots you would discover that used Fords bring higher prices than any competitive make—and by substantial amounts. Think of it—in an open market with complete freedom of choice—people are not only willing but do pay higher prices for Fords.

THAT'S WHY we feel our '53 cars, the finest Ford has ever built, should not be compared with cars in the same price range. Not because our competitors don't do a good job—obviously they do—but because we feel Ford Cars have more in common with the highest priced automobiles. The similarities are far greater than the differences.

For example. Today, the most expensive cars in this country have V-type, 8-cylinder engines. Ford Cars have had this exact same type of engine for over 20 years. Ford has made more V-type, 8-cylinder engines than all other manufacturers combined and no other low-priced car has a V-8 yet!

What's more astounding, the current Strato-Star V-8, a full 110-horsepower, high-compression V-8, delivers all its high-test performance on "regular" gas and sells for hundreds of dollars less than several other makers charge for a six-cylinder car. Now there's nothing wrong with a Six but they do cost less to make. Ford makes a Six—the most modern overhead valve Six in the industry. And if it's a six-cylinder car you want, Ford has it and for less money than the V-8, which is as it should be.

What about ride? Here's another Ford similarity with high-priced cars . . . Riding Comfort. One of the misconceptions of automobile buyers for many years has been that weight—sheer weight—is what it takes to make a car ride well. But the railroads have disproved that, as any one who has ever ridden a modern, lightweight streamlined Pullman knows. It's how you use weight—how you spring and balance it that counts. Ford has found, for example, that you can make a 3000-pound car ride softer and hold the road better by far than many cars that weigh a full 1000 pounds more. In our '53 car, for example, front end road shock has been reduced up to 80%. We say it compares most favorably with the heaviest cars sold today. Chances are you could not tell the difference.

What about automatic transmissions? It would take the fingers of both hands to count the various kinds of automatic and semi-automatic transmissions on the market today. The one we offer is called Fordomatic. It is the most versatile on the market, it represents the most profound consideration of engine-to-wheel power transfer—and that it does the best job for our engines isn't even open to question. It "shifts" better than you could shift by hand and it does it in such a way you hardly know it—automatically.

An interesting safety feature of Fordomatic is that forward and reverse positions are separated by a neutral position on the drive selector. It is "second nature" to handle, and what's more, with Fordomatic there is no time in the shifting when the car is not in perfect control. If you want to "rock" your car to get out of a snowdrift, you can. If you want an extra burst of speed you just step down on the gas and keep your hands on the wheel. In short, Fordomatic gives you the power you want, when you want it—automatically. We know for a fact that Fordomatic is one reason why Fords bring more money on the used car market.

What you can see is also important. Here again Ford Cars lead not only in their price field but in the medium and upper brackets as well. Ford visibility is Full-Circle Visibility. This means huge, curved unobstructed glass area, front and rear, plus side windows that allow all passengers what the hotels call "room with a view." And, it might interest you to know that, inch for inch, very few cars costing thousands of dollars more can beat Ford for window area.

Appearance? A higher price, of course, does not make a car more beautiful. Conversely, beauty in a Ford comes "for free." Ford has found that it costs no more to develop a beautiful car than one that is less pleasing in appearance. You can drive up to the most exclusive doorways in the world and feel perfectly at home in your Ford. It's done every day and if you don't believe it just stand in front of the Waldorf, for example, the next time you are in New York. Or the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco. Fords "belong" . . . in exactly the same social category as the finest, one-of-kind creations. After all, a Ford is a custom creation multiplied.

What about running costs? Here's one place that Ford's advantages are obvious. For oil and gas economy Ford has the big cars whipped. Ford parts cost less. Ford service charges are less. Ford tire mileage is thousands of miles greater. And, as any C. P. A. who looks into it will tell you, Ford depreciation is the lowest of any car on the market—bar none.

What are Fords made of? Some people have the idea that the costliest cars are made of "better stuff." It's perfectly true that some high-priced cars have costlier upholstery and fittings. What Ford has is so good, both in durability and appearance, that you probably could not tell the difference. You might even prefer it, because of its better design and more pleasing appearance.

Then there's the question of sheet metal. If you were to measure and analyze the sheet metal structure in the most expensive car, you most likely would find it identical in thickness to the corresponding panels in Ford. For the most part this applies to castings and forgings also. And here you have another reason why you can pay more but you can't buy better than Ford.

But what do you pay for a Ford? This is an interesting point. When designing and tooling up for a new model, Ford spends a great deal more money than the makers of the costliest cars. For example, the first dozen or so '53 cars cost just about $62,000 a copy, apart from tooling! These cars are never sold—they're experimental models. Then when they are perfected and go into production Ford actually turns out a vastly superior car in every way for the low price you are asked to pay. This is the miracle of Ford production.

After all, then, what is the difference between a Ford and the costliest cars?

In our opinion, the difference is largely a matter of dimensions, weight (and the power required to move it) plus the distinction of owning a car that not so many other people own. The desire for these things is understandable . . . and probably justified for people who are willing to pay the price to satisfy it.

As to comparing Ford with other cars in its price range, by all means do so if you wish. But, as we said before, you'll get a better picture of Ford value by comparing with cars that are most like Fords—those that are priced up to twice as much. As a matter of fact, we think you'll quickly begin comparing the other cars with Ford—because the 1953 Ford has really established the New Standard of the American Road.

'The Man' Represents High Type Theatrical Diversion

By Annie Lee West Stahl

"The Man," Little Theatre's current production, is a superior thriller, tastefully played and imaginatively directed.

The mystery proves the proposition that murder can be excitingly interesting, and the playright, Mel Divelli, illustrates the theory delightfully.

Time was when these melodramatic forays into musty rooms, sinister figures skulking behind window curtains, and occasional bodies thumping to the floor were principally intended to scare the daylights out of shuddering customers.

What with one thing and another, we are no longer susceptible to the calculated chill. The old-fashioned murder mystery has fallen from grace in our not very innocent, and all but unshakable, age. Somewhere along the line cooler heads prevailed.

In the process of restoring an honorable tradition to its rightful place in the popular theatre, Mr. Dinelli has not entirely discarded the old paraphernalia.

"The Man" is not long under way before the audience is aware that the atmosphere has in it something sinister and foreboding. As the evening goes on, there is a vigorous life and death tussle amid Victorian surroundings, and an elaborate to-do about locked doors.

The play inspires terror as Howard Wilton, a paranoiac, begins the life duel with Mrs. Gillis, a kindly, middle-aged widow. The musty Victorian setting contributes considerably to the charged atmosphere, and Director Stocker Fontelieu manages a simulation of action even when the characters do little but talk to each other.

Their arresting cat-mouse race spirals in tensity to a terrifying end which brings chills to the spines of theatregoers.

"The Man" tells of a paranoiac with a persecution complex who comes to do a day's cleaning for the sympathetic widow played by Roberta Guion. The audience realizes before Mrs. Gillis does that Wilton, a role carried by Pete Linton, is a mentally sick man, dangeros yet pathetic.

After she recognizes his abnormal condition, Mrs. Gillis attempts to help him, but she succeeds only in clumsily fanning the neurotic flames. When he makes her his prisoner, the terror begins. Though the end is still some way off it is sufficiently gruesome when it does arrive.

Mrs. Guion gives an admirable performance in a trying role. Hers is not a spectacular part but one which demands an increasing awareness and growing horrow. She brings far more dimension than is customary to the role of the pursued woman of the piece.

Mr. Linton turns in a masterful performance, one of the most intelligent which stage fans here have experienced in Little Theatre history. He employs a sort of psychological subtlety which makes his interpretation of the neurotic wholly convincing. The cat-mouse game becomes a good one through his terrifying toying with his prey. "The Man" grows in stature by the clarity which he gives to transitions between sanity and unsanity. Mr. Linton does not don the mantle of the villain, but rather effects an enormous change of electricity capable at any time of discharging its deadly power.

As the widow's brash niece, Linda Thompson gives a saucy portrayal, particularly in the second act when she manages an entrance while her aunt is locked in a closet. Here the man in the role of the mouse is effective, and with the actor's sharp playing, genuine tension reigns.

Bid Causey, as a roomer in Mrs. Gillis' home, lives up to his reputation in theatre circles and gives his small part all that is possible to convey.

Other minor roles are carried by Joe Milner of "Kiss and Tell" fame, Jimmy Dennis and Art Johnson. Handling their parts smoothly and intelligently, they provide essentials in rounding out Dinelli's perfection of congealed horror which gives stage enthusiasts a high type of theatrical diversion.

Religious Emphasis Week Will Feature Curren At Northeast

Introducing a new plan for Religious Emphasis Week, the Interfaith Council at Northeast State has decided to feature one speaker during the three - day event, March 30-April 1. Each year the speaker will represent a different denomination, according to the Council, which is composed of various religious faithes.

The general public is invited to attend all the meetings, John Luffey, faculty adviser of the council said.

This year's leader will be Father Dennis A Curren, S.J., assistant pastor of St. Matthew's Catholic Church in Monroe. His messages will develop the theme, "Christ Looks at Northeast State."

Each meeting will begin at 9:50 a.m. in Brown Auditorium Following the Wednesday assembly, plans are being made for a group discussion to be led by Father Curren. All faculty members and students are urged to attend these meetings.

Father Curren, known as "Bobo," was quite an athlete prior to his priesthood. He has reported as a pitcher to the St. Louis Cardinals, to Houston in the Texas League, Delta League at Jackson, Miss., the New Orleans Pelicans in the Southern League and Florida League at Tampa.

He was educated at St. Simeon's school (where Mercy Hospital now stands), at Loyola of New Orleans before it became a university and at Spring Hill College, where he was a star pitcher, star left tackle and captain-elect of the football team. It was there that he cast aside pigskin fame to enlist in the United States Army, and later return to Spring Hill to receive the B. A. degree.

Father Curren also studied at Macon, Ga., Grand Coteau, Gonzaga University Spokane, Wash., where he won his master of arts degree. He continued work in theology at St. Louis University, at Cleveland, Ohio, and Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

He was ordained in June, 1933 and said his first mass in New Orleans on July 1, 1933 at Our Lady Star of the Sea.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

With four down and four still to go, the Little Theatre's fourth production of the season "The Man" is establishing itself as one of the most talked about plays ever presented before the footlights of the little Playhouse. The general vein of comment could be summed up in the simple statement "This play is exhibiting some of the finest acting ever to trod the local boards."

Although there have been lots of "ohh!" and "Oh!" and plenty of compliments for the production, the Little Theatre going crowd is again running true to form. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings there were some several vacant seats in the house each performance, which means the usual rush for the end of the play, with a number of theatre fans unable to obtain a seat. It is the same sad story that has happened with every production so far this season. Everybody wants to see it on the last two nights.

"Curtain Call" suggests a break with tradition and that everyone who can avail themselves of the opportunity to see "The Man" at this evening's performance. Reservations secretary, Myrtle Carter will be on duty today from 2 p.m. until 7, and the telephone number is 3-4263.

Random Notes . . . One of the most startling scenes in "The Man" is when the terrorized Mrs. Gillis in a desperate attempt to elude her captor, crashes the glass in the kitchen door with an iron skillet. Friday evening Roberta Guion (Mrs. Gillis) shattered the glass and a flying piece cut her hand but trouper that she is, the audience was never aware that this bit of business was not in the script.

Little Theatre members, Lydia Nichols and Ruby Warner welcomed their sister, Mrs. Maude Clay, librarian with the state department, home from Japan this week.

Little Theatre groups are still recounting many humorous stories about the recent Jaycee membership drive in which a little goat played a very prominent part. One of the stories that struck us as typical of the spirit of the Jaycee's was the one about Mal Cooley sending Henry Biedenharn a goatgram that read "Goat will reach your home late Wednesday." Henry wired back "You and membership committee invited to goat barbecue, my home, late Wednesday." P. S. Henry did bring a new member and the little goat was still living and doing well, the last we heard. Plus all the fun those fellows had in their campaign, the deal netted seventy-five new members, the largest number ever to be inducted at one time.

Speaking of the Jaycees, four of the men prominently connected with the current production "The Man," are very active workers in the Junior Chamber, Director Stocker Fontelieu, and actors, Pete Linton, Bid Causey and Art Johnson. . . . The youngest hostess ever to serve at Little Theatre is Marie Martin, daughter of Mrs. D. H. Martin, who came to her mother's rescue Friday evening and served as co-hostess in the place of Mrs. Sara Kennon who was taken ill at the last minute. . . . Jimmy Dennis of the cast of "The Man" spent Saturday in Natchitoches, La., representing the Neville High track team.

Little Theatre Sketch

Arthur B. Johnson, Jr . . . who is making his first stage appearance in the current production "The Man," was born in Philadelphia, Penn., but moved south in 1943 and completed high school at Warren Eastern High in New Orleans, where he was a member of the high school band.

Art, as his friends call him, spent two years in the Navy and was Phm 3C with the hospital corps from 1946 to 1948. After his stint with Uncle Sam's salt water buddies, he returned to Tulane to major in commerce and business administration. It was during this time that his family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Johnson, Sr., moved to Monroe and Art followed in the summer of '50 to join the staff of Brown Container Co.

He left Monroe for a short while to attend the University of Mississippi and won his degree in personnel and industrial management in January of this year. He is now purchasing agent for Brown Container Co.

A member of the Y's Mens club, he was among the recent recruits for the Junior Chamber of Commerce and is a member of the Lutheran church. Fishing is his favorite hobby and, now that he has been initiated to the stage, we should be seeing more and hearing more about him as an active member of the Little Theatre.

PROCLAIM DOCTORS' DAY IN TWIN CITIES — Mayors J. Allen Norris of West Monroe and John E. Coon of Monroe have proclaimed Monday, March 30, as Doctors' Day in the Twin Cities. Doctors' Day Is Proclaimed Here By Two Mayors

Mayors J. Allen Norris of West Monroe and John E. Coon of Monroe have proclaimed Monday as "Doctors' Day" in the Twin Cities and have extended city greetings in behalf of all citizens. The proclamation was signed in the Monroe city hall Friday.

The proclamation read as follows:

"Whereas, the doctors of Ouachita Parish have helped to establish Monroe as one of the outstanding health centers of the State; and

"Whereas, in the performance of duty they have demonstrated the highest skill and professional achievements, and have won the admiration and respect of the community; and

"Whereas, since 1942 it has been the custom of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Ouachita Parish Medical Society to sponsor an annual observance in recognition of the contribution made by doctors to the national health and well being; and

"Whereas, although this observance does not extend beyond the members of the medical profession and their wives and families, it is appropriate that the city government extend its greetings on behalf of all citizens:

"Now, therefore, I, John E. Coon, Mayor of the city of Monroe, and I, J. Allen Norris, Mayor of the City of West Monroe, do hereby proclaim Monday, March 30, 1953, to be "Doctors' Day" in Monroe and West Monroe, in appreciation of the outstanding service rendered by the members of this profession."

'Cousin Rachel' Is Outstanding

Since authoress Daphne du Maurier first gained international literary recognition in the 1930's, Hollywood and London film studios have found her stories ideal for successful motion picture photoplays.

Her novels continually on the best-seller lists the English-speaking-world-over, Miss du Maurier is currently represented on U. S. Theatre screens by Twentieth Century-Fox's heralded dramatization of her latest success, "My Cousin Rachel," which stars Olivia de Havilland as the provocative heroine.

"My Cousin Rachel," which opens today at the Tem Theatre, is another triumph in a long line of Du Maurier screen hits which movie audiences have learned to treasure.

Miss du Maurier's first writing reached the celluloid in 1939 when Paramount filmed her tale of Caribbean intrigue, "Jamaica Inn," with Charles Laughton, Maureen O'Hara and Robert Newton starred.

A few years later, David O. Selznick produced Miss du Maurier's great masterpiece, "Rebecca." With Laurence Olivier and Joan Fontaine co-starred, the film emerged as one of the decade's most important dramas.

More recently, Paramount produced "Frenchman's Creek," her romantic-novel of 17th century France with Joan Fontaine, Arturo de Cordova and Basil Rathbone essaying the major roles.

England, Miss du Maurier's native land, also has come up with outstanding film versions of her stories—"Hungry Hill" and "The King's General," the latter to be released later this year.

To illustrate the authoress' dynamic appeal, it took the work of a novelist of her caliber to lure Olivia de Havilland back to Hollywood after a four year absence to play the title role in "My Cousin Rachel."

"My Cousin Rachel" has proved to be Miss du Maurier's most popular novel, still maintaining a high position on the international best-seller lists. Read by countless millions, it also appeared in the Reader's Digest Condensed Book form.

A Nunnally Johnson production, "My Cousin Rachel" was directed by Henry Koster from a screen play by Mr. Johnson. Featured in support of Miss de Havilland is newcomer Richard Burton, the English stage star who is making his American motion picture debut.

In other supporting roles are Audrey Dalton, Ronald Squire, George Dolenz, John Sutton, Tudor Owen and J. M. Kerrigan.

'President's Lady' Superb Love Story

Opinion about the real character of Andrew Jackson as a man will be considerably changed when "The President's Lady," which opened yesterday at the Paramount Theatre, is shown around the country.

Most people think of the seventh president of the United States as a rough and ready man of quick temper, spoiling for a fight either with fists or guns, a gambler and a despoiler of women, but the screen version of Irving Stone's splendid novel reveals him as a man of courage and tender feelings, capable of great love which he showered unsparingly upon his wife, Rachel.

Susan Hayward as Rachel Jackson and Charlton Heston in the role of Andrew bring this tender love story to life on the screen with highly sympathetic performances to make "The President's Lady" a really distinguished motion picture. Play-wright John Patrick's script has accentuated the warmly human quality and intensely dramatic aspects of the story while at the same time giving an historically accurate account of the private life of the Jacksons.

From the day they were married until Rachel's death she was snubbed by society and became as Author Stone reveals, "the most maligned woman in American history," The insults heaped upon her in private and in public precipitated the duel Andrew fought in behalf of her good name and while he made good his promise to make her "First Lady of the Land" Rachel died before his inauguration.

This death scene, which Miss Hayward does so superbly, is only one of the poignant highlights of the story which superbly pictures adventure, Indian fighting, horse racing and the easy luxurious life at Hermitage, Jackson's palatial home in Nashville, to make it absorbing screen entertainment. Director Henry Levin and Producer Sol C. Siegel have given it flawless production.

"The President's Lady" is a grand picture that must not be missed. It is superlative from beginning to end.

2 Fined In Franklin On Game Violations

Fight Continues At Burning Well

HOUMA, La., March 28 (AP)—Gas well trouble shooters continued efforts today to cap a geysering gasser near here.

The well blew out a second time after being brought partially under control earlier yesterday. Sand choked the pipe bringing gas and distillate from the earth and reduced the flames that broke out Tuesday. Steam put out the rest of the fire.

Then, with trouble shooters preparing to cap the well, it blew out again yesterday.

WHITE CROSS Now Sending Out FREE Information in Nation-Wide Drive

Low-Cost Plan Pays You Cash for Doctor, Hospital Bills

—includes Maternity Benefits, Medicines, X-Ray and Laboratory Fees, Money to Live On, etc.

OVER 5 MILLION NOW ARE PROTECTED BY FAMOUS WHITE CROSS PLAN

You and your family are eligible — you don't have to belong to a group.

Just a few pennies a day covers all these benefits:

MONEY FOR YOUR DOCTOR

—even for ordinary illnesses!

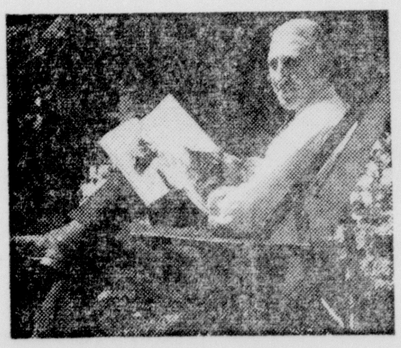
Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN you get up to $150.00 for doctor visits at your home, doctor's office, or in hospital. Choose any doctor you want. (IMPORTANT: You do not have to take a physical examination to enjoy White Cross protection.)

(You can enjoy the peace of mind that comes from knowing that your doctor's bills are provided for.)

MONEY FOR YOUR SURGEON

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN you can get $5.00 to $250.00 for your surgeon when you or any member of your family needs his skill. Choose any surgeon. Fractures, tonsils, appendix, sinus, hernia, hemorrhoids, varicose veins, and much more are covered . . . even stitching a simple wound ($5.00.) Operations may be done in hospital, your home, or doctor's office.

(6 out of 10 hospital cases need surgery and it usually means a sizable expense. So why not be protected in this sensible way?)



UP TO $200.00 A MONTH TO LIVE ON

when you are unable to work because of sickness or accidents

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN you can get up to $300.00 a month for hospital care; and up to $200.00 a month while recuperating at home. You can get this family-saving protection separately if you wish.

(It's frightening to have doctor, hospital bills pile up WHEN THERE ISN'T ANY MONEY COMING IN. WHITE CROSS saves you from this worry and thus helps you get better faster.)

up to $15.00 a day for 100 days

Choose any hospital you wish. Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN you can get up to $15.00 a day for as many as 100 days for each sickness or accident, per person in the family. Hospital room and meals are included. We send YOU the money. It's yours to do with as you please.

(One person in every 2 families will need hospital care this year. But there's no need to let a big hospital bill wreck your family's plans for the future.)

MATERNITY BENEFITS

for childbirth or any complication of pregnancy

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN you can get (after you have been a member for 9 months) hospital expenses for childbirth or any complication of pregnancy, or miscarriage—up to 10 times the daily hospital rate in your policy. (Any hospital you choose.)

(Any baby is all the more welcome when you're under the WHITE CROSS PLAN. The money you save this way can be put aside for other babyhood expenses.)

MEDICINES, DRUGS, DRESSINGS, X-RAYS, IRON LUNG, ETC.

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN you can get cash for many expenses you might not ordinarily expect to be covered. Operating room charges, anesthetics, X-ray, laboratory examinations, medicines, drugs, dressings, and any other necessary hospital expense. Yes, even ambulance service, blood transfusions, oxygen, and use of an iron lung.

(This WHITE CROSS PLAN protects you against many extras that often can double a hospital bill. Few plans give you all this special protection.)

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Baseball takes a firmer grip on the Twin Cities area this week with the major activity centered around Legion Memorial Stadium where the Monroe Sports begin reporting to Manager Charley Harrington tomorrow for the opening of spring training for the Cotton States League club. The Monroe squad will be moving in where Augusta's Rams of the South Atlantic League have been holding sway for two weeks, but while the Sports are spending the late morning and mid-day hours in workouts, the Rams will be pushing on into their exhibition campaign that includes dates here tomorrow afternoon and Tuesday with the Texas League's Tulsa Oilers.

But the pros, although occupying the spotlight generally aren't hogging the whole show. The college variety of baseball is already in full swing at Northeast State college and Louisiana Tech, both with fair looking teams and Tech conceded a possibility of nailing down the Gulf States Conference crown. The high schools are busy as well with Neville of Monroe already two games deep in wins although Coach Jim Coats is getting frantic over the build-up his team has been getting; Coach Ben Carroll seems to be offering a winner at Bernice High; and Calhoun and LaSalle of Olla also are among the other prep teams getting off to an early start.

Jim Hodgins is bringing Ouachita High of Monroe back into baseball activity after being out of competition last year. Hodgins hasn't promised a title contender, but the Lions have some fair looking boys, particularly in Walter Bennett, leading hitter for Monroe's state champion American Legion Junior club last summer.

Activity is also picking up for the semi-pros and independent amateurs with the foremost circuit around here in this category being the Big Eight League run by L. J. Fox of Ruston. Fox will be getting his loop off to final planning for the season at a meeting at Ruston's city hall Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Another circuit has been reported in the making for this area with interest centered around Winnsboro, but so far nothing definite has been announced. West Monroe, too, is planning to have a baseball team although Cloyd's Park is no more, and any team West Monroe works up will have to seek a new field, possibly at the fair grounds. I. O. Beavers is already busy getting a combination of the old West Monroe Rebels and Volunteers together with former Hunt and Whitaker Sports, and this afternoon the team is due for an exhibition at Eureka. Beavers reports there is hope of working up a "Sunday league" for clubs of his caliber.

The Jackson-Bienville League down around Jonesboro, Quitman and vicinity can be expected to blossom forth again soon. The "Jack-Bien" has become firmly entrenched in its area as a "Sunday league" in the last few years.

But it will be interesting to know what Harrington is going to have to work with in the way of talent for the Monroe Sports. A lot of new faces will be moving in, some are coming here highly recommended, but it's gratifying to know they won't all be strangers right from the start. We've got Shortstop George "Andy" Andrews back. Also on hand will be Marv "Hoppy" Hatcher, our no-hit pitcher of last year.

Andrews is the early arrival. He and his family moved in Friday from their home in Pennsylvania, and Andy turned up at Legion Memorial Stadium intending to see the Augusta-Shreveport game that was called off because of rain. But Andrews didn't count the day lost. He had a chance to renew acquaintences with Jesse Van Winkle and Ottis Jacobs, Monroe stars last summer who are now in Ram uniforms.

By the way, unless Andrews found what he was looking for yesterday, he says he needs an apartment. Any baseball fans who want to take care of Andrews and his family in this matter should contact Business Manager Paul Manasseh.

Snead 2 Strokes Ahead At Greensboro

Oliver Holding Second Place; Ford Pulls Up

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 28 (AP)—Sam Snead put together a pair of two under par 33s today to increase his Greensboro Open Golf Tournament lead to two strokes at the halfway mark.

The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., slammer tacked a four under par 66 onto yesterday's 67 for 133 and a two-stroke lead over Ed (Porky) Oliver, Palm Springs, Calif., going into tomorrow's 36-hole windup. Oliver had 67 today to retain second place, although dropping another stroke back.

In third place with 136 was Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y., who matched Snead's 66 today. Three players had 137 to tie for fourth place, four strokes back of Snead. They were Fred Wampler, former National Inter-collegiate champion from Indianapolis; Art Wall Jr., the hole-in-one artist from Pocono Manor, Pa., and Skee Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., a former National Amateur champion.

Jackie Pung Leading In New Orleans Golf Meet

By JAMES SAGGUS

NEW ORLEANS, March 28 (AP)—Jackie Pung, buxom Hawaiian master of booming drives, caught fire on the greens today to take a two-stroke lead in the opening round of the New Orleans Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Pung, now playing out of Glasgow, Ky., carded a 37-35—72, bettering women's par by two strokes, over the 6,539-yard City Park course No. 1.

She played consistent golf, going over par on only three holes and collecting five birdies. She played it safe all the way heading straight down the fairways to the greens on every shot. Only two approaches landed in trap.

Her almost monotonous perfection gave her a two-stroke lead over Patty Berg, the defending champion from St. Andrew's, Ill., and Mrs. Alice Bauer Hagge of Sarasota, Fla. both had par 74's.

Biggest disappointments were Louise Suggs, the nation's top money winner last year and Betty Jameson, another tourney-wise veteran, of San Antonio. Both had 81's. Miss Suggs did well with her drives and approaches, but had putter trouble.

The leaders:

Jackie Pung, Glasgow, Ky., 37-35—72.

Patty Berg, St. Andrew's, Ill., 37-37—74.

Alice Bauer Hagge, Sarasota, Fla., 38-36—74.

Babe Zaharias, Tampa, Fla., 39-37—76.

Peggy Kirk, Ponte Verde Beach, Fla., 39-38—77.

Betty Bush, Lake Point, Mich., 37-40—77.

Betty Dodd, San Antonio, Tex., 40-39—79.

Marlene Bauer, Sarasota, Fla., 41-38—79.

Betty MacKinnon, Dallas, Tex., 40-40—80.

Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S.C., 40-40—80.

Louise Suggs, Atlanta, 41-40—81.

Marilyn Smith, Wichita, Kan., 42-39—81.

Betty Jameson, San Antonio, 42-39—81.

Diana Garrett, Houston, Tex., 43-41—84.

Mary Ann Villegas, New Orleans, 43-42—85.

Mrs. Sam Israel Jr., New Orleans, 43-43—86.

Mrs. Robert Wilson, New Orleans, 45-42—87.

Gloria Armstrong, Oakland, Calif., 45-43—88.

Mrs. Philip Foote, New Orleans, 47-43—90.

Mrs. J. W. Holtgreve, New Orleans, 47-43—90.

Baseball Interests Plan Amateur Loop

Organization of an amateur baseball league for teams in the Monroe area wil lbe attempted Wednesday night at a meeting of interested clubs at Hinton's Barber Shop in West Monroe.

R. G. Hale, formerly president of the Delta League, last night announced plans for forming the new circuit, and said teams invited to be represented at the 7:30 meeting include Sterlington, Marion, and West Monroe.

Mexico Decides Not To Bid For Olympic Games

MEXICO CITY, March 27—UP—Mexico will not bid for the 1956 Olympic games if Australia decides to give them up, a high Mexican official said Friday.

Marte R. Gomez, vice-president of the Mexican olympic committee and one of the two Mexican delegates to the international Olympic committee, said this country is not in a position to meet "such a serious commitment."

"In the event. . .that the seat (of the Olympic games) should be changed, I don't consider Mexico to be in a position to enter its candidacy," he declared.

The international olympic committee will meet here next month to consider organizational problems but also is expected to be handed the job of finding a new seat for the '56 games.

Australian officials have indicated they may not be able to finance the world athletic competition slated to be held at Melbourne, and expressed hope Mexico City, Rome or one of the other top candidates might be selected as a substitute site.

Big Eight Loop Holds Meeting Tuesday Night

RUSTON, La., March. 28 (Special)— A meeting of the Big Eight Baseball League has been called for Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Ruston city hall, according to an announcement by Larry Fox, league president.

Plans for the opening of the 1953 season are foremost on the program.

Red Sox Option Harry Agganis To Louisville

SARASOTA, Fla., March 28 (AP)—Harry Agganis, Boston University's recent star athlete, today was optioned to the Louisville Colonels by the Boston Red Sox.

Agganis, a bonus player, was expected to remain with the Sox but manager Lou Boudreau decided the "Golden Greek" needed experience and because first baseman Dick Gernert has been hitting well in exhibition games.

Agganis, a first baseman, may be used as an outfielder with the Colonels, Boston's top farm in the American Association.

Football rights to Agganis, a deft southpaw passer, recently were traded by the Cleveland Browns to the Baltimore Colts but the Lynn, Mass., athlete has said he is sticking with baseball.

Harper Holds Lead In Great Southern Golf

GULFPORT, Miss., March 28 (AP)—Charley Harper took another stride toward the Great Southern $5,000 invitational golf tournament today by shooting a one-under-par 70 for a three round total of 207 to lead by three strokes.

Harper's putting was still off the form he displayed in the opening round when he fired a torrid 66, but other early leaders also had rough going today and the Fort Benning, Ga., Country Club professional was able to widen the gap on the 90-player field.

Leading scorers:

Charley Harper, Fort Benning, Ga. 66-77-70-207.

Broyles Plemmons, Valdosta, Ga., 73-66-71-210.

Jake Fondren, Memphis, Tenn., 71-73-68-212.

Hot Springs Hires 2 Negro Pitchers

HOT SPRINGS, March 28 (AP)—The Hot Springs Bathers of the Cotton States Baseball League have hired two Negro pitchers for the 1953 season.

They are James and Leander Tigerson, Florencevilla, Fla., brothers who played with the Indianapolis Clowns last year.

General Mgr. Jewell Thomas said today their contracts were approved yesterday by the National Association of Minor Leagues. He did not disclose the purchase price or salaries.

Loyola Defeats LSU Nine, 5-3, In Non-Loop Game

BATON ROUGE, March 28 (AP)—Loyola of New Orleans downed Louisiana State University 5-3 in a non-conference baseball game today.

It was Loyola's fifth victory against one defeat and it evened the series between the teams. LSU won the opener yesterday 17-13.

Lefthander Al Belaire pitched all the way for Loyola and lost his shutout in the eighth. With the bases loaded and two out, he dropped a high pop fly and three runs scored on the error. Otherwise, he scattered six hits.

Bill Lee of LSU pitched a four-hitter over the nine innings, but lost the game when Loyola bunched three of the hits, with two walks, for four runs in the seventh.

Layne, Charles Go Into Final Training Grind

SAN FRANCISCO, March. 28 (AP)—Heavyweights Ezzard Charles and Rex Layne, preparing for their rubber match and what they hope will lead to a crack at the title, go into the final training tomorrow for their 10-round fight here Wednesday night.

The nationally televised bout will start at 9 p.m. (CST) at Winterland Pavilion before an expected capacity crowd of approximately 7700.

Contenders for the crown now worn by Rocky Marciano, Wednesday's bout is extremely important to both. A decisive result will put the winner in a spot to clamor loudly for championship engagement.

Former champion Charles is an overwhelming favorite to whip his bulkier rival. Ezzard is expected to scale between 185 and 187 pounds with Layne coming in around the 220-mark.

Charles scored an eleventh round knockout over the Lewiston, Utah, swinger in 1951. Layne was awarded a 10-round decision in their meet at Ogden last year. Old time champ Jack Dempsey was the referee. He called seven rounds even and gave the nod to Rex on a 2-1 round count.

Charles and his handlers screamed over that decision.

ELIS DROP BUCKS

COLUMBUS, O., March 28 (AP)—Yale's well-balanced swimming team dethroned Ohio State as the N. C. A. A. team champion tonight, the Eli squad scoring in 12 of 14 events for a 96½ points total to 73½ for the Buckeyes.

Australia Says 1956 Olympics Definite There

SYDNEY, Australia, March 28 (AP)—Australians said today they fully intend to start the 1956 Olympic Games at Melbourne despite a statement by a high Olympic official in Switzerland that the game should be held somewhere else.

W. S. Hughes, chairman of the Melbourne organizing committee, said all doubts that Melbourne would hold the games were dispelled by recent financial guarantees by the federal and Victorian state governments.

He was commenting on a statement by Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committe who said that Lausanne, Switzerland:

"We gave Melbourne the 1956 games four years ago and up to now they have done exactly nothing. It will take them at least three years to build a stadium and the Olympic village and make the necessary preparations."

Mayer added that the only satisfactory way to run the 1956 games would be to give them to some city where there already is a suitable stadium.

Hughes said he was the only official channel of communications between Melbourne and the International Olympic Committee and that if Mayer were really disturbed about the 1956 games, Mayer would have got in touch with him officially.

However, Hughes added, not one IOC member has communicated with him by any method.

In Chicago, Avery Brundage, chairman of the IOC, said he knew nothing of reports that Melbourne already had abandoned its role as host for the games.

(These reports were carried by a British news agency, but not by the Associated Press).

Practice Halted For Palace Nine

Practice for the Palace entry in the Little League has been suspended due to the death of coach Bob Harmon's sister, Mrs. Berta Baier, West Palm Beach, Fla. Saturday morning.

Mr. Harmon, who had previously departed for the Florida city when word of Mrs. Baier's illness was received, will remain there indefinitely.

Wins Aussie Open; 5 Below Ex-Record

ADELAIDE, Australia, March. 28. (AP)— Kel Nagle, 32-year-old Sydney professional, lowered the Royal Adelaide course record for 72 holes by five strokes today as he won the "Advertiser" Open Golf Tournament with 279.

Nagle won $1,120 for rounds of 71, 67, 72 and 69. Ossie Pickworth was second, only one stroke back of Nagle, and Peter Thomson of Australia finished third with 282.

Doctors Tell Neyland In 'Nice Way' To Quit

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 28—UP—Tennessee's Gen. Bob Neyland won't admit it, but it appeared Saturday his doctors have decided he is through as an active football coach.

A carefully-worded statement said they have advised him against coaching again for an "indefinite period," and obviously he is taking that advice.

The fabulous Neyland, whose teams have won more major college football games than those of any other man in history, has been ailing for a year. Rumors of his retirement have lasted about as long.

But when he took a year's leave as head coach last month and entered Washington's Walter Reed hospital for an extensive physical checkup, they gained credence.

During his stay there, he wrote friends that the "medicos don't seem to find anything serious." He told reporters he was "feeling fine."

He was released Friday and flew back to Knoxville, where he immediately resumed his duties as athletic director at Tennessee.

Then came this statement:

"The doctors at Walter Reed Hospital have advised me that I have a moderate impairment of the liver which has probably existed for a period of some years.

"They have recommended that I do not attempt to coach football for an indefinite period, and are not willing to estimate when this situation will change."

Neyland himself has not decided yet whether he is finished as a football coach, and said he may not make that decision for at least a year.

He plans to continue active control of the university's sports program as athletic director. After supervising the spring sports activities, he will go to his home at Sarasota, Fla., for a vacation.

He'll be back, but the doctors apparently have decided that the man who must be ranked with such mentors as Knute Rockne, Amos Alonzo Stagg and Frank Leahy, will not return to active coaching.

Tuscany Scores Victory In Rowe Memorial Sprint

BOWIE, Md., March 28 (AP)—The favored Tuscany, from the stable of Mrs. Samuel Pistorio, easily won the $11,320 Rowe Memorial Handicap today before a crowd of 20,060 at Bowie race course.

It was a repeat performance for Tuscany, which won this same race last year and hasn't started since due to a foot injury.

The time for the six furlongs was a snappy 1:11 flat on a fast track.

Tuscany, ridden by Nick Shuk, took the lead going into the final turn and defeated eight other classy sprinters without any trouble, scoring by three lengths.

The second choice, Eugene Constantin, Jr.'s Nimble Fox, got second by a neck in a photo finish over the Bobanet stable's Brazen Brat.

The winner, coupled in the betting with Brazen Brat since both are trained by J. B. Bond, returned $4.60, $3 and $3.80. Nimble Fox paid $3.60 and $3.40 to place.

City Softball Circuit Meets Tuesday Night

Reorganization of the City Softball League is scheduled for Tuesday night when representatives of prospective clubs meet at 7 o'clock at the Monroe Recreation Center.

"There is also some talk of starting a softball association," Jack Hesketh, recreation director, said, and anyone interested in participation in the City League or in forming an association should be present at the meeting.

First Two Tilts Of Season Taken By Farmerville

FARMERVILLE, La., March 28 (Special) — The Farmerville High School baseball team went into action this week to win two games, beating Marion High, 9-6, in the Farmers' opener Tuesday, and following with a 4-0 victory over Calhoun.

Coach James Tinsley sends his Farmers against Marion again here Monday afternoon at 1:50 o'clock. Tuesday Farmerville will play at Linville, and come back home for a Wednesday engagement with Bastrop.

Next Thursday the Farmers will visit Monroe for a meeting with Neville High.

Farmerville collected 16 hits in the season opener with Marion, Nolan getting four for five, Anderson three for three, and Baughman socking a homer. Top hitters for Marion were Phillips, three for four, and Causey, two for three.

Good pitching featured the game with Calhoun, Jimmy Tucker hurling a three-hit job for Farmerville, while Coker, Weims and White shared a five-hitter for Calhoun.

Scores by innings:

Fmville	512 812 0—19 16 3
Marion	201 201 0— 6 9 2

Nolan, Patterson and Allen, Garris; Benton, Gilbert, Jones and Phillips.

Calhoun	000 000 0—0 3 1

Coker, Weims, White and Finley; Tucker and Allen.

Cleveland Sends 9 Players To Daytona

TUCSON, Ariz., March. 28 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today announced they were sending nine players to their farm club training camp at Daytona Beach, Fla., for further spring training.

The players are Herbie Adams, Bill Abernathie, Joe Macko, Harry Malmberg, Mike Lutz, Jim Fridley, Sam Jones, Wilber Striker and Al Smith.

Arkansas Derby Won By Carragh King, Pays $5.40

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 28 (AP)—E. M. Goeman's Curragh King flashed across the finish line one and three quarters lengths ahead of the field to win the 17th running of the $10,000-added Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park here today.

C. H. Everitt's Supreme's Bub, the pre-derby favorite, finished second by six lengths over Henry Forrest's Wismo.

Curragh King, ridden by Johnny Adams, came up from second place in the stretch and crossed the wire in 1:49 3-5 for the mile and a furlong event. He paid $5.40, $3 and $2.40.

His time was two-fifths of a second faster than the Derby record set by Gushing Oil last year.

Early Mist Cops Grand National Aintree Jumps

AINTREE, Eng., March 28 —UP—The Luck of the Irish prevailed in the world's toughest horse race Saturday as Early Mist —Irish bred, Irish owned, Irish trained and ridden by an Irish jockey—pounded home a 20-length winner in the historic Grand National Steeplechase, the key to the Irish sweepstakes.

Thirty-one horses started and only five finished.

The rest, including highly-favored Little Yid, spilled disastrously about the treacherous course as a quarter-million persons looked on. The only American horse entered, John Hay Whitney's Old Kentucky, was a last-moment scratch.

Early Mist, a 20-1 shot, tumbled at the first jump last year. But Saturday he was off with the leaders and thundered into first place at the 17th jump of the 30-jump grind when front-running Ordnance hit the fence and sprawled to the turf. Early Mist won by 20 lengths with 18-1 Mont Tremblant second and 33-1 Irish Lizard third, four lengths behind.

The only other horses to finish the four-mile, 856-yard race were Overshadow and Senlac Hill.

Early Mist, bred in Ireland, sold for only 250 guineas ($735) as a yearling. But he cost Irish Company Director J. H. Griffin 5,300 guinea as $15,582) when he got him. The profit is still a good one. First place Saturday was worth 9,431 pounds $26,406.80, and Griffin smilingly admitted he had placed "a good bet" at early 33 to 1 odds.

Spearsville Has Streak Broken By Dubach Nine

SPEARSVILLE, La., March. 28. (Special) A 12-game winning streak that extended from the 1952 season was snapped for Spearsville High School this week when the defending state Class B champions were defeated on their own field by Dubach High, 1 to 0.

Bobby Griffon, the free-wheeling hurler for Spearsville, gave up only three hits but took his first loss in eleven games. Roy Colvin, Dubach southpaw, also tossed a three-hitter, all singles by Fred Futch, Vernon Smith and Terry Futch.

Dubach's winning run came in the seventh inning on an infield hit, a passed ball, and a broken-bat single.

Score by innings:

Dubach	000 000 1—1
Spearsville	000 000 0—1

Colvin and Hunt; Griffon and Smith.

Fort Leonard Wood Takes Cage Crown

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., March. 28. (AP)— Defending champion Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., won the Fifth Army basketball championship with a 78-72 victory over favored Fort Riley, Kas., today.

The Missourians Dick Baumgardner led scoring with 17 points. Robert Bella led Riley scoring with 15 points.

Thorpe Tales Still Good

(Editors: At the time Jim Thorpe was voted the outstanding athlete of the half-century in an Associated Press poll of sports writers and sports casters, Hugh Fullerton Jr. wrote an interesting story on the big Indian's life. We are repeating that story. It is still timely.)

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, (AP)— There are a thousand good stories - some of them true--about old Jim Thorpe, the greatest all-around athlete of the past 50 years.

And, in the nearly 40 years since the muscular Sac-Fox Indian first flashed to athletic fame at Carlisle Indian School, it has become increasingly hard to tell where the truth ends and where excusable exaggeration begins.

James Francis Thorpe is not merely a legendary figure in American sports. He's the kind of man about whom legends grow. And Thorpe himself seldom hesitated to add to the fable of old Jim. Perhaps, in later years, when he found it hard to earn a living, his memory played him false on dates and details. Or maybe Jim liked to make a good story better, too.

Taking fact and fable for what they're worth, the sports writers and broadcasters of the United States, participating in the Associated Press poll, voted Thorpe the outstanding male athlete of the first half of the 20th century. They put him far ahead of Babe Ruth, Jack Dempsey, Ty Cobb, Bobby Jones and Joe Louis--all great athletes about whom some colorful yarns also have been told.

Of the 393 voters, 252 named Thorpe first, 45 named him second and 29 third. Ruth drew 86 first place votes, 118 seconds and 45 thirds. Dempsey was ranked third with 19, 67 and 55.

In other ballots, the experts also chose Thorpe--now 61 years old--as the outstanding football player of the 1900-1949 period and ranked him second only to Jesse Owens in track.

According to legend, Thorpe was virtually indestructible; the kind of guy who'd ask; "who could get hurt playing football?"

Yet Jim was hurt more than once playing football. In his first big season, 1911, he was on crutches most of a week before he led a 16-0 route of Pennsylvania and his legs were heavily bandaged the day he kicked four field goals, the last 48 yards, to upset mighty Harvard.

There's a legend that Thorpe was a one-man track team who once beat Lafayette single-handed in a dual meet. Harold Anson Bruce, then Lafayette coach, has a different version in which Carlisle brought four men to help Thorpe. All Jim did that day was finish second in the 100-yard dash and win the pole vault, high jump, broad jump, shot put and low hurdles.

And there's a legend that Thorpe couldn't hit a curve ball, a weakness which finally forced him out of the major leagues. Yet Jim was good enough to remain in the majors six seasons and to draw a $7,500 salary when $7,500 really meant something.

His "lifetime" major league batting average was .252, but in 1919, his last season, he hit .327 for 62 games. Eddie Roush won the National League championship that year with .321 for 133 games. In the next two seasons Jim batted .360 for Akron in the International League and .358 for Toledo in the American Association.

Pointing to those figures Thorpe asks: "does that show I was a sucker for a curve?"

The established facts are almost as incredible as the fiction.

Playing football for a little school that usually was outmanned and outweighed against the strongest of the big eastern colleges, Thorpe scored 25 touchdowns and a 198 point total in 1912. That same year he had won both the Pentathlon and Decathlon at the Stockholm Olympic Games, winning four events in each competition.

Later, when his medals and trophies were taken from him because he had violated the strict Olympic code of amateurism by playing professional baseball for $80 a month, his defeated rivals refused to accept them. They insisted: "Thorpe won them fairly. He is the greatest athlete in the world."

Rediscovered records of Thorpe's Olympic feats, superb as they were at that time, show that he couldn't be considered any great shakes by modern standards. In only one event, the high jump, did he surpass Glenn Morris' 1936 world-record decathlon. By the same scoring system, Jim would have finished about even with 17-year-old Bob Mathias when he won in 1948. But in his specialties, the sprints, hurdles and broad jump, Thorpe wasn't far from the 1912 world records and his point total was by far the highest ever compiled at that time.

Thorpe also starred in baseball, basketball and lacross at Carlisle and had a fling at wrestling. When he later tried golf, he learned to shoot in the 70's. In his prime, Jim was a perfectly co-ordinated 185 pounder standing 6 feet 1 ½ inches in his moccasins.

Added to his all-around ability was a magnificent laziness--a disinclination to train or to exert himself more than was necessary--and a notable weakness for firewater that has become the subject of more than one Thorpe legend.

Enroute to the 1912 Olympics he is said to have spent his time lolling in a hammock while his teammates devoted hours to running around the ship's deck. And when the team was about to sail for home, one tale says a royal equarry brought a message that the king of Sweden wanted to see Thorpe at the palace in order to congratulate him.

Jim replied: "huh, I don't know much about kings. I guess I won't go. I could enjoy a sleep better."

How Thorpe's baseball feats have been magnified is shown by a clipping on file in the National League office.

It tells how old Jim spun a yarn about hitting three home runs in three different states during a spring exhibition in the state-line city of Texarkana. The first, he said, was inside the park, which was entirely in Texas. The second went over the right field fence into Arkansas and the third over the left field fence into Oklahoma.

The item concludes: "Thorpe rated the greatest all-around athlete who ever lived. He must have been to hit that last home run, for the Oklahoma border is some miles beyond the left field fence he describes."

Wildlife Group Will Hear Talk On Duck Grounds

Richard K. Yancey, a biologist for the U. S. Wildlife Service, working out of the Baton Rouge office, will speak at a meeting of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation here Tuesday night.

Yancey will report on a proposal to establish a public duck-hunting area in Lafourche swamp near here, and all interested sportsmen are being urged by Floyd Martin, unit president, to be present.

The Ouachita unit is already on record favoring the establishment of a game refuge in Lafourche, and Yancey has been reported as declaring he does not intend to promote the duck-hunting location if it conflicts with plans for a refuge.

It was pointed out that federal funds are already available for establishing the duck-hunting area, and Jake Benton, a member of the unit's executive committee last year, who was instrumental in bringing Yancey here for the meeting, last night said "if we don't accept this offer for a duck hunting location, it will go somewhere else."

Benton said the government will require leases on land to be used for the public hunting grounds.

The meeting Tuesday night will begin at 7:30 o'clock at Hotel Virginia.

Meeting Called For Organizing Boat Club Here

An organization meeting to establish a local boat club will be held Tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the Community Center in West Monroe.

Anyone interested in boating is urged to attend the meeting. At least 30 or 40 persons have been contacted and informed of the meeting. And any others are welcome, according to an organizational spokesman.

The Community Center is located on Coleman avenue, West Monroe.

WRESTLING

At Gus Kallio's Arena—Tuesday night. Starts at 8 p.m.

Irish Jack Kelly—St. Louis, Mo. Calls himself pride of The Yankees.

Just a small part of Kelly's statement and compliments after the match last Tuesday night with Jack Curtis. Kelly said, that Curtis never had me down but referee gave it to Jack Curtis. I can beat Curtis and I had him beat now, but referee didn't even watch Curtis shoulders when I had him down. I want to wrestle Curtis winner takes all, if I don't get a match I am going to file a suit against the Promoter and the referee.

Jack Curtis—Former World's light-heavy-weight champion.

I feel like Kelly can't make me do anything. Talking about filing suit, it sounds like some bad boy got a little beating in the alley and then runs to his mother for help. I think Kelly is just a big over-grown cry baby. If he thinks that another match will help to make him feel better, he should be well satisfied as next Tuesday night I will meet him again and this time match will be with on terms just exactly as Kelly asks for. Gate receipts will go to the winner and there will be two referees.

Main event—90 min. time limit—two falls to win—Jack Curtis VS Irish Jack Kelly.

Semi final—One hour time limit—2 falls to win—Raual Lopez of Mexico City VS George Curtis—Vicksburg.

Northwestern Shades Northeast On Diamond, 2-1

Demons Triumph On 3 Hits; Tribe Gets Five Blows

Northwestern State's Demon Douglas Logan went the full route in holding the Northeast State Indians to one run here yesterday afternoon and leading his Natchitoches team to a 2-1 victory. Logan's slim lead was threatened in the last half of the ninth frame, however, when the Indians scored their run and prevented the Demon pitcher's bid for a shutout.

J. B. Nolan started on the mound for the Indians and was relieved by Bob Bennett in the top of the sixth frame after hurling three-hit ball. Bennett stayed in for two innings, and was relieved by Mark Boatright, who came off his regular first-base position in hopes of pulling the game out of the fire.

An Indian explosion in the bottom of the ninth was quiet similar to one recently against Southeastern of Hammond. Camillo Detore, fleet center fielder, lead off with a smashing, stand-up triple to left field. Detore scored when Boatright lined a single over third base. Then Boatright stole second base and went to third on a sacrifice by Gerald Hare. The rally fell short, however, when Boatright attempted to steal home after Nolan's strikeout and was tagged out by Northwestern Catcher Johnston.

Northwestern's first score came in the top of the second inning when Johnny Emmons singled to left field, scoring Jack Enloe. A double play by the Indians stopped any further scoring in that frame. In the top of the fourth the Demons chalked up their second tally of the game when Clements doubled to center field and brought Pat Lyons home from first. NSC loaded the bases in the first half of the ninth, but failed to score.

Northeast States next regular scheduled game will be played here on April 4 when Arkansas A and M will come to Monroe from Monticello, Ark. for a nine-inning contest at the college diamond. Game time is 3 p.m.

GAMES RE—SCHEDULED

Coach H. W. (Woody) Boyles anncunced yesterday that the rained-out game with the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs Friday has been re-scheduled for 3 p.m. Monday at the Northeast State diamond. A large crowd is expected to attend the game, since a number of Tech fans are planing to come to Monroe from Ruston to see the contest.

J. Curtis, Kelly In Main Event; George Vs. Lopez

Tuesday night's wrestling program will feature a return match between Jack Curtis and "Irish Jack" Kelly, in a best-of - three falls to win, 90 minute time limit main event; and a one-hour time limit semi-final, two falls to win, between George Curtis and Raoul Lopez.

Jack and "Irish Jack," who wrestled last week, with Jack Curtis emerging victorious after three falls, ended their bout with plenty of bloody slugging; Kelly doing the bleeding, as a result of Curtis' machine-gun-like punches. In fact, the last two falls were more of a boxing match than a grapple bout, when Curtis, infuriated at Kelly's usual tactics, knocked his husky adversary all over the ring in the second fall, and flattened the villain for the pin in just three minutes of action. The third, and deciding fall, with Kelly emerging from his dressing room looking like he had been run over by a truck, ended in one-third the time of the short second, with both matmen slugging away until "Irish Jack" wound up through the ropes and on the press table, only to climb back in the ring and be flattened again by Curtis' flailing fists, long enough for the referee to count him pinned-much to Kelly's vociferous disapproval. A rematch was scheduled, with Kelly demanding two referees, so Tuesday night, Pat Willis will aid Bill Barney in the officiating duties. That in itself may develop into a good fight, since these two were on opposite tag teams just three weeks ago.

Young George Curtis, Jack's hefty "little" brother, takes on Mexican Raoul Lopez in the semi-final, in what promises to be an excellent match. Lopez, who hasn't appeared here since Farmer Brown and Daisy Mae ganged up on him, is a skilful, smooth-skinned grappler, who knows his stuff. George, who had a good match last week with George Bruckman, will find the going even tougher this week with the grim black-hair from old Mexico.

Redskin Tennis Team Tumbles Before Demons

Northeast State's tennis team dropped its second match of the season when the Northwestern Demons topped them 5-1 here yesterday afternoon. The Indians' only victory came in a singles match when Ralph Abraham defeated Bob Burham of the Demons, 6-1, 6-3.

In the other singles, James Shively of Northeast State lost to Mile Lelong, 5-7, 2-6; Chris Gatzoulas dropped two sets to Lucien Spataro, 4-6, 1-6; Dick Pipes dropped matches to Mike Torrans, 4-6, 2-6.

In the doubles contests, Abraham and Shively lost to Burham and Spataro, 7-5, 8-10 and 3-6; Gatzoulas and Pipes lost to William Edwards and Torrans, 3-6, 1-6.

A return match is slated with the Demons in Natchitoches, according to Northeast Tennis Coach Bully Willis.

Beall Rebuilds His Crowville Grid Machine

CROWVILLE, La., March. 28. (Special)— Spring football practice at Crowville High School will reach its climax Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock when the "Bulldogs" meet the seniors in a Crowville band benefit game.

Coaches Vernon Beall and Thompson have only four lettermen around which they have been building their 1953 team. Lettermen backs Fay Riser, Lloyd Cox, and Darwin Southern are finding the going rough among 13 candidates out for backfield jobs. Tackle "Bill" Busby, the only returning lineman, is finding the competition stiff with such faces as Bob Dunham, Doyle Prince and Kieth Haralson among the 28 linemen on the squad.

Other linemen who are showing up nicely are centers McManus, Martin, Clark and Tucker; guards Spearman, Peters, Hamilton and Williams; tackles Haralson, Dunham, Prince, and Parker; ends D. Parker, Franklin, Deen, and Holloway.

Promising backfield prospects include quarterback Huey Martin, halfbacks Ashley, Watson, and D. Riser, fullbacks Smith, Mixon and Guy.

The spring training roaster is as follows:

Ends — M. Franklin, Beall, Deen, D. Parker, J. Parker, R. Holloway, Presley, Graham.

Tackles — Busby, Dunham, Prince, Haralson, H. Parker, M. McDuffie.

Guards — Spearman, Peters, Hamilton, Williams, R. McDuffie

Guards — Spearman, Peters, Hamilton, Williams, R. McDuffie, McVay, Weems, Peebles, B. Holloway.

Centers — McManus, Clark, R. Martin, Simmons, Tucker.

Quarterback — Cox, H. Martin, B. Franklin.

Halfback — Riser, D. Riser, Watson, Southern, Kennedy, Ashley.

Fullback — Smith, Guy, Mixon.

Marnell, Corkran Sign For Pro Grid Careers

Two of Northeast State's most outstanding gridiron players, Pat Marnell and Harold Corkran, both tackles, were signed this week to play with the New York Giants, professional football team coached by Steve Owen, one - time grid great.

Signing of the contracts took place at Northeast State with Athletic Director Arnold Kilpatrick and Head Football Coach James L. Malone witnessing the event, marking the first time that any local college gridders have ever gone directly into pro ranks since the school was advanced to four-year status. One former player, Ben Staurett, joined the Pittsburgh Steelers in the late 1930's when he was a student at the former junior college here. He later played with the Green Bay Packers and the San Francisco 49'ers.

Marnell and Corkran have been under scrutiny by various pro teams during the past year.

Both are fast and agile, and each weighs 230 pounds. Marnell is only one inch shorter than his contemporary. Both are physical education majors.

Marnell, married and the father of two children, was voted the most valuable football player at Northeast State last year. He is a native of Greensburg, Pa., where he participated in football for three years. At present his residence is Calhoun, La. His plans are to play pro ball, and to coach athletics in the Monroe area later. He is now practice teaching at Ouachita Parish High School and will be graduated in June.

Marnell, whose nickname is "Bear," is classified as 3-A in the selective service. He is a former ROTC student at the college. Football is his favorite sport, but he has played some baseball. A defensive tackle, he has never received a serious injury during his grid career. His high school coaches were Earl Ewins and Joseph Cates, Greensburg.

Corkran (better known as "Corky") is a hard-hitting blocker and topnotch defensive tackle. He is also a married man. His home is in Marianna, Ark., where he lettered in football two years. Also a physical education major in college. Corkran is classified as a junior. He has been an outstanding ROTC student and plans to enter the service as a commissioned officer upon completion of his college work. While in high school in Arkansas he was a member of the National Guard.

In 1951 and 1952 Corkran was voted the most valuable lineman at Northeast State. In high school he was coached by Woody Johnson and Ralph Turner.

Both men have experience in the T formation and the single wing. When asked who was the person or persons who did the most to encourage and develop them in football, both replied "Coach Malone."

Northeast State has two former students in the pro ranks at the present time, both of whom attended the junior college here in recent years. A former Indian with the Pittsburgh Steelers is George (The Thing) Tarasovio, who gained fame as a defensive center with the L. S. U. Tigers two years ago and was named to two All-America teams. The other is Hugh Taylor, now with the Washington Redskins, who last season set a pass-receiving record for professional football. Taylor matriculated at Oklahoma City University after leaving here. He was named to the All-Pro first team last season.

Pitching Or Hitting Year?

By J. P. FRIEND

Blytheville, Ark., March. 28. (Special)— What does the 1953 season hold in store for the Cotton States League? Will it continue to be a pitcher's paradise? Will the batters return to power with the advent of another .400 hitter? Will the Summer see the end of the loop's home run record that has survived 22 years? Or will the first 30- game winning hurler emerge?

These are a few of the questions that are being batted about over the league territory on eve of the official training period. With exception of those clubs affiliated with leagues of higher classification, the Pine Bluff Judges (St. Louis Browns), and the Monroe Sports (Shreveport) whose playing talent has been assembled with their other organizations, the members will get the ball to rolling April 1, just three weeks from opening date of the championship race which gets under way, April 21.

Ever since the circuit began operating back in 1902 it has been referred to as a "pitcher's league" even though some powerful hitters have graced the rolls. A grand total of 82 moundsmen have etched their names on the 20-game honor roll. In 1907 six made the grade, while the 1904-1911 and 1927 campaigns produced five each. During the last two seasons three joined the select circle to edge closer to the 100-mark in 38 years of operation. There may have been even more since no records are available for 1902 and 1905.

No league pitcher has even scaled the dazzling 30-game height although Eddie Albrecht was credited with 29 victories for Pine Bluff in 1949. He won two more in the playoffs. Howard Camnitz (Vicksburg) had 26-7 in 1903. Lee Vernuelle piled up a 26-14 record for Mobile in 1906, while Joe Benn compiled a remarkable 26-4 chart for Pensacola during 1913. Bruner (Mobile won 25 while losing 18 in 1907.

Shoutouts, no - hit gems and amazing strikeout feats have highlighted the pitching records down through the years. While no record has been tabulated on the shellacking jobs turned in during the season, they have been quite prominent. In 1951 there were 78 blankings recorded over the 140-game distance. Despite two weeks less play last year, the opposition was held scoreless 77 times, both unofficial high marks.

Baker, Greenville ace, hurled the first no-hit, no-run game in league history by outduel-Brucker of Vicksburg in a stirring 1-0 battle on April 19,1902. There were two others in that first season. Since then the stunts have been two frequent to be novel. George Foye threw a pair in 1904 for Monroe. Marvin (Hoppy) Hatcher, Monroe, and "Red" Kinney, Greenville were the last to enter baseball's Hall of Fame during 1952.

Albrecht wrote a fabulous total of 389 strikeouts into the loop annals in 1949 that may withstand many years of firing. He literally wore himself out that year and may have cut short his baseball career. He has been plagued with a sore arm since his recall by the Browns and has not reached expected major league stardom. Bob Schultz was the whiff record holder before Albrecht. He fanned 247 for Greenville in 1947, eclipsing Lloyd (Whitey) Moore's 244 for El Dorado in 1936. Incidently, Harry Chozen was the No. 1 catcher during all three record-breaking performances. Harry managed Greenville in '52.

As expected, the annual earned run leaders have been on the scotch variety. Since 1929, when the ERA column was inserted into the permanent records, eight pitchers have led with figures considerably less than two tallies per nine innings toiled. In 1948 Labe Dean (Greenwood) posted an impressive 1.34 for low over the entire season play.

Only in 1941 have batters enjoyed a real prosperous stick binge, but that was a whopper during which five new plate marks were established, including highest team batting, .314, Hot Springs: most hits, 312, Hot Springs, and most total bases, 2379, Hot Springs. It was the first time a club has crashed the coveted .300 group. Roy Bueschen, Greenville, won the batting crown with .380 this year.

Minn. Vice Trial Opens On Monday

MINNEAPOLIS, March 28—UP—Beautiful girls who earned up to $150 a night in Chicago's most lavish "call house" go to court Monday for one of the biggest vice trials in years.

The girls will be called as witnesses in the trial of Frances Elliott, 31, accused of transporting them from Minneapolis to Chicago for immoral purposes.

The case involves a vice ring that allegedly recruited co-eds and other attractive young women from Midwestern states, and kept tab of the Dun & Bradstreet financial rating of its playboy customers.

Two "little black books," seized by the FBI in a raid on the Chicago call house Jan. 27, list 1,000 customers. After each name is noted the customer's financial status, his preference in girls and the amounts they paid.

Some prominent persons could find themselves embarrassed, not only by being listed in the books, but by having the notation "Sunday" after their names. Authorities said "Sunday" meant "cheapskate."

Two other persons, Minneapolis bar operator John Gawron and divorcee Daisy Wheeler, were indicted with Miss Elliott. Both pleaded guilty when their cases came up in federal court last Wednesday.

Authorities said the sensational nature of the information contained in the little black books may have prompted the guilty pleas.

There was a possibility that Miss Elliott, too, might change her mind and plead guilty at the last moment. But her lawyer said he doubted it.

If Miss Wheeler pleads innocent and stands trial, Assistant U.S. District Attorney Alex Dim said the little black books will be introduced as evidence.

Papers Move Into New Home At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La., March 28—UP—Charles P. Manship Jr., editor and publisher of the State Times and Morning Advocate, started the presses rolling Saturday at the paper's new ultra-modern, four-story plant.

Manship, assisted by General Manager C. P. Liter, pressed the buttons that sent the newspaper's Sunday magazine section flowing through the presses. It was the first time in 40 years that any portion of the State Times and Morning Advocate had been printed anywhere other than on Baton Rouge's Florida Street.

Manship said the entire Monday edition would be printed in the new multi-million dollar plant.

The State Times and Morning Advocate has occupied its present building on Florida Street since 1938. The buildings it occupied in its first 25 years of publication also were on Florida.

The new building, a modernistic rock and brick structure slashed with huge glass panels, is located on Lafayette near the Mississippi.

Officials of the paper have announced they will hold open house on Friday afternoon, April 10.

Logtown Club Has Meeting At Filhiol Home

The Logtown Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. John Filhiol Wednesday. Lovely Iris were placed in the solarium where the guests were assembled.

The business of the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Filhiol, president. Mrs. W. J. Lowe read a poem entitled, "He Who Hath a Garden," which fitted in with the timely demonstration given by Mrs. W. A. Calloway on "Flowers." Mrs. J. B. Halley gave a brief talk on corsage making.

Mrs. Filhiol served a delicious salad course to the following members at the close of the meeting, Mrs. W. J. Lowe, Mrs. J. C. Williams, Mrs. Neil McHenry, Mrs. W. A. Calloway, Mrs. Jewell McQuiller, Mrs. Dave Brown, Mrs. John Filhiol, Jr., Mrs. Gene Berry, Mrs. Bill Luton, Mrs. J. B. Holley, Mrs. Marvin Shipp and Mrs. J. Y. Pipes.

Miss Jo Marie Scalia Is Honored At Bridal Shower

A bridal shower honoring Miss Jo Marie Scalia was given recently at the home of Miss Deon Bezz on North Fifth Street. For this occasion the honoree was wearing a black taffeta dress trimmed with rhinestones and spangles complimented by a corsage of white carnations, a gift of the hostess.

Miss Bezz received the guests, wearing a pink mauve pure silk dress with rhinestone clips.

A lovely arrangement of spring flowers centered the dining table where trays held tuna salad on pattie shells, individual cakes and mints in pink and blue and Italian cookies.

Those enjoying this occasion with Miss Scalia and the hostess, Miss Bezz, were Mildred Bonnette, Mrs. Charles Turnage, Mrs. Crusman Gillette, Bonnie Fluitt, Mrs. Donald Jones, Mrs. Ronald Lary, Mrs. James P. Scalia and Mrs. Ben Bezz.

Local Women Attend Meeting In Lake Charles

Twin City group at Woodman Circle Convention attending the 20th Biannual State Convention of the Supreme Forest Woodman Circle held in Lake Charles on March 20-21 were the following: Mrs. Nancy Neyland, Mrs. Jewel Earl, Mrs. Opal Thompson, Mrs. Etta Bolen, Mrs. Ora Beasley, Mrs. Chilea Wilson, Mrs. Walterine Caldwell, Mrs. Ruth Taylor, Mrs. Lillie Mae Sugden, Mrs. Thelma Edwars and sons, Mrs. Ann Bouler, Mrs. Mattie Edney, Mrs. Johanna Barney, Mrs. Maudie Fant, Mrs. Daisy Wetzel, Mrs. Aliene Gulledge, Mrs. Lorelli Ellis, Mrs. Manny and Miss Jerry Earl.

National officers present were Miss Louise Patrick, national publicity director, Omaha, Neb., and Miss M. Ione Barke, hostess and state manager, New Orleans.

The state president, Mrs. Nancy Neyland, West Monroe, presided over the meeting and Miss M. Ione Burke was mistress of ceremonies.

Highlights of the convention were the president's reception, the banquet, sightseeing, exhibitions given by Square-dance clubs, and drills from Shreveport, New Orleans and Monroe, and a junior drill team from Shreveport.

Mrs. Jewel Earl, state attendant, gave the response to the address of welcome.

The Monroe team of eight assisted in the initiation of two junior graduates.

Parlor City Grove No. 288 of Monroe was honored by having Mrs. Nancy Neyland, over three other candidates, elected as first representative to the national convention to be held in Chicago, Ill. in July.

Mrs. Ora Beasley, West Monroe, charter member of Parlor City Grove No. 288, was elected as state ritualistic supervisor.

The Monroe grove had charge of the memorial service and draping of the charter, with Mrs. Ora Beasley presiding and Miss Louise Patrick delivering the eulogy.

Mrs. Forrest Linquist Is Honored at Several Parties

Mrs. Forrest Linquist, who with Mr. Linquist, will leave soon for Houston, Texas, where they will reside in the future, has been the inspiration for a number of informal luncheons, dinners, and teas.

Among these, Mrs. Allen T. Givens entertained with a beautiful conversational hour in her home on Auburn. Another courtesy extended Mrs. Linquist was the luncheon at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club given by Mrs. R. Frank Thompson.

Also entertaining were Mrs. Herbert E. Dickard and Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, of Amarillo, Tex., who were co-hostesses in the Dickard home at a coffee hour.

Mrs. F. L. Jones was hostess at a lovely luncheon at the LaCasa Tea Room. Also complimenting Mrs. Linquist was the seated tea in the home of Mrs. Floyd Taylor with Mrs. A. B. Hobson as co-hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Strausser named Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Linquist and Mr. and Mrs. T. Fitzhugh Wilson, who are also being transferred to Houston, as honor guests at a dinner in their home on Riverfront.

Miss Maurine Linquist who is a senior at Louisiana State University, will join her parents in Houston in June.

Business And Professional

The Business and Professional Women met at the Y. W. C. A. for a program presented by the education and Vocation Committee, Mrs. Lucille Mathis, chairman. Members of Mrs. Mathis Committee are; co-chairman, Miss Jennie Smith, Mrs. Lela K. Breard, Mrs. Madeline Hirsch, Mrs. Vivian Murray, Mrs. Frances Ritter, Mrs. Emma Rosenbaum and Mrs. Pauline Welch.

Mrs. Mathis opened the program with a brief discussion of the club theme, The Ramparts We Build, as applied to vocations and encouraged members to do their best in the jobs they were in. To do better in one's present job or to seek advancement one should ask questions, consider all facts, control personal feelings and constantly check oneself.

Mrs. Emma Rosenbaum spoke on "Over Forty and Looking for a Job" suggesting the following steps: summarize job qualifications, register with the local employment office and placement bureau, ask friends about openings, call employers, apply firms, answer help wanted ads, and watch newspapers for new concerns.

Mrs. Pauline Welch closed the vocational section of the program with "Who Goes Furtherest Fastest" summarizing the possibilities for advancement for women in business.

Mrs. Mathis then introduced Rev. Henry C. Blount, Jr. assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church of Monroe. Rev. Blount spoke on the necessity of church education for people of all ages. Rev. Blount reviewed the work of the First Methodist Church in its program of church education for young people.

The meeting closed with a prayer led by Mrs. Faye Heard and closed by Rev. Blount for members of the club who had been injured returning from the B & PW District meeting in Bastrop last Sunday.

Those attending were served delicious refreshments planned on a Saint Patrick theme. They were: Jennie Smith, Emma Rosenbaum, Maibel Hood, Lucille Mathis, Pauline Welch, Blanche Lane, Agnes Krogmire, Faye Heard, Ava White, Gladys Miles, Edna Vaughan, Bessie Skinner, Myrtle Y. Central Grammar P.-T. A. Hears Eleona Brinsmade

The Central Grammar P.-T. A. held its seventh regular monthly meeting Thursday, March 18, in the school auditorium. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Ralph McNabb in the absence of the president, Mrs. Clifford LaFrance, and the devotional was given by Mrs. Joe Hundley.

A program was given by the pupils of the two third grades, under the direction of their teachers, Mrs. Mattie Rogers, and Mrs. Elizabeth Carlisle.

The program chairman, Mrs. Laura Ishee, introduced the guest speaker, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, visiting teacher Monroe City Schools, who spoke on "Working with Community Agencies." Miss Brinsmade explained the many ways in which various civic organizations assist the school children in Monroe. She complimented the local P.-T. A. unit for the splendid welfare work accomplished this year.

The treasurers report was read by Mrs. Louise Shelton. Report was made by Mrs. James Moore, who together with Mrs. Clifford LaFrance, Mrs. Ralph McNabb and Mrs. H. H. Morgan attended the district P. T. A. meeting held at Woodlawn School.

The scrapbook, which received superior rating at the district meeting, was placed on display and Mrs. Clifford LaFrance, who compiled the book, was complimented for the splendid job done by her in this connection.

Room count was won by Mrs. Carlisle's third grade.

Concert Division Leaders Make Campaign Plans

Miss Freeda Mickel, membership director of the Twin City Concert Association entertained the division leaders of the concert association, Tuesday evening at her home on Auburn Ave.

Plans were discussed for the membership campaign of the association which gets under way with the Annual Kick Off Dinner to be held April 20th. The splendid work of the division leaders has made for the success of the membership drive each year, Miss Mickel stated.

The Twin City Concert Association this year presented the world famous Boston "Pops" Orchestra and will present James Melton, leading Tenor with the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York on April 13th. Recognized internationally, Melton has been acclaimed for his work on the stage, screen, radio, television and concert.

Those division leaders present were: Mrs. H. V. Collins, Miss Hermoine Driskell, Mr. John Cale, Mr. Max Kulcke, Mrs. R. L. Ross, Mrs. Z. C. Ambrose, Mrs. Florence Allbritton. Present also were Miss Mamie McNelll secretary of the association and John Cale, vice president.

When Napoleon 111 entertained at the Chateau of Compiegne in the days of the Second French Empire, music for the imperial dances often was supplied by one of the first mechanical pianos, at one side.

Mrs. Claire Lee Chennault Entertains At Lovely Tea

Over Fifty Guests View Display Of Jade Collection At Wednesday Event

Mrs. Claire Lee Chennault, wife of Major General Chennault, entertained at tea on Wednesday afternoon when fifty guests called to see the General and Mrs. Chennault's priceless collection of jade, porcelain and amber which was on display in the new addition of the house on Cole Avenue.

Mrs. Chennault, wearing native dress with jade jewelry, welcomed guests along with Mrs. James A. Noe. Extending courtesies in the dining room were Mrs. W. E. McCoy, Mrs. Harry LaFoe and Mrs. L. DeLee. Mrs. J. Nelda Averette, of Shreveport, presided at the tea and coffee services.

Arrangements of white flowers were used throughout the receiving rooms and as the central decor on the dining table. Silver trays held tea sandwiches, cheese straws and cakes. The Chinese dish, which was also served and tea, were brought from Formosa.

Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher and Mrs. Roy Holloway greeted guests in the Chinese Trophy Room where the major and Mrs. Chennault's collection of jade, porcelain and amber is placed. Carrying out the Chinese theme were the two lovely Oriental rugs. Over the fireplace hung a hand-embroidered picture of a flying tiger presented to the general by the Chinese people in appreciation of his work. Also of interest were the paintings on rice paper by Mrs. Chennault and the large portrait of the general. Glass cabinets held the rare collection of jade, porcelain and amber which was on display. Also on display were the Chinese screens and other valuables placed at vantage points about the room.

Over fifty guests called between the appointed hours of 3:00 and 5:00 p.m.

LaSalle P.-T. A. Has Meeting

The LaSalle High School P.-T. A. held the regular monthly meeting in LaSalle High School auditorium Monday. Mrs. Ted Nethery reported on the Eighth District meeting held in Alexandria. Rev. B. T. Milford, pastor of Tullos Baptist Church, brought a challenging message for parents and teachers of high school by boys and girls.

This was followed by questions and answers on P.-T. A. by Mrs. Roy Kirkley, eighth district leader. A very impressive service in which Mrs. Kirkley installed officers for 1953-54 followed.

President is W. H. Holloman, Olla, vice-president, Mrs. Howard Ray, Urania, secretary, Mrs. H. H. Russell, Tullos, and treasurer, Mrs. Charles Gaines, Olla.

Farm carts in Argentina were once built with eight-foot wheels so that they could negotiate the deep mud of unimproved roads behind three to four yokes of oxen, the National Geographic Society reports.

Twin City PTA Council Has March Meeting

Twin City Council of P.-T. A. had a most interesting program when it held its March meeting. The panel discussion entitled "Will You Spare An Evening to Save a Child" was presented by Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. G. B. Wilson and Mrs. M. L. DeFreese.

The discussion pertained to the problem of juvenile delinquency and how it is being handled in various parts of the country by juvenile conference committees.

One plan of action for the control or prevention of this wave of lawlessness was discussed in detail, a part of which is herein below mentioned.

Seven years ago the juvenile conference committee plan was adopted by Monmouth County, N. J. Today there are more than forty such committees in the county and several more in other counties in the state.

This committee is made up of members from various groups - for example a probation officer, a high school superintendent, a minister, a child welfare worker, a representative from a minority group, etc. Persons especially interested in "saving a child" and willing to give time to study of the problem presenting itself.

The person, or persons, preferring charges may choose whether the case may be heard by the juvenile court judge or the juvenile conference committee. If the decision rendered by the committee is not acceptable to the person, the case may still be taken before the juvenile court.

Before making its decision the committee investigates the case thoroughly and a copy of the case history is given to each member to be studied. The child's background and all facts are taken into consideration.

The committee meets on a stated evening - only if they have cases to hear, usually once a month. The hearings are private. They are started and finished in one evening, thus avoiding the inevitable delays and postponements of a regular court. A cousel (lawyer) may be present as a friend of the family or of the person bringing the complaint.

After the committee decides what is to be done, they select one of the members to speak for the group to tell the youngster what he will have to do. This is not done by reading the cold, formal verdict, as in court. Instead, the committeeman explains to the youngster what his punishment will be. He tries to make him understand why what he did was wrong or harmful and why he must go on probation.

If put on probation, the child is placed under the supervision of a committee member, usually a clergyman with the same religious background. He must report to the clergyman, once a week generally, so that he will receive friendly guidance and know what someone is taking an interest in him. That is the real heart of the plan, for this is the way a committee can really help the child.

It has been found that decisions of the committee have benefitted many minors, in many cases eliminating circumstances and conditions that caused the child to ever commit a wrong in the beginning.

The entire discussion was most interesting and furnished food for thought, as the entire country is anxious to find ways to solve the growing problem of juvenile delinquency.

Prior to the discussion the council elected two new officers for the coming year. Mrs. Darwin Nichols was elected as second vice president and Mrs. E. L. Walker was elected secretary.

Mrs. Paul Thompson, president of the Twin City Council of P.-T. A. was elected to represent the council at the state convention to be held in Lake Charles, La., April 16, 17, and 18.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Miss Patricia Ann Trull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Trull, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Don Eugene Hendricks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hendricks, of West Monroe, is announced today. The wedding will be solemnized Saturday, June 20.

Chapter V, P.E.O. Honors Mrs. D. Martin At Meeting

Mrs. D. H. Martin was named honor guest at the recent meeting of Chapter V, P. E. O., held in the home of Mrs. E. T. Nichols. Mrs. Martin was celebrating her twenty-fifth year as a P. E. O. and was presented with a corsage of Marguerite daisies and a guard for her pin by the local chapter.

During the business session, the Cottey College tea for high school seniors was discussed. This tea will be held on Saturday, April 11 at the home of Mrs. R. T. Farr and will acquaint the local high school girls with Cottey College which is sponsored by P. E. O.

The local members are looking forward to the state P. E. O. convention to be held in Baton Rouge on April 29 and 30.

Mrs. Milton Adams gave an inspiring review of "A P. E. O. Garden" from The Record, official P. E. O. magazine. Mrs. John Crump delighted the group with several of her original poems which have been published. The program was in charge of Mrs. Carter Ackel and was entitled "Do It Up Right For Spring." She told of new spring fashions and had selected an individual costume for each member present.

Mrs. Nichols served delicious refreshments carrying out the twenty - fifth anniversary theme to Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Ackel, Mrs. Crum, Mrs. Farr, Mrs. Kenneth Wright, Mrs. D. G. Kiper, Mrs. Dusty Rhodes, Mrs. Evelyn Curry, Mrs. Frank Eason, Jr., Mrs. A. Signoff, Mrs. Z. C. Ambrose, Mrs. F. L. Smith, Jr., Mrs. B. R. Simpson, Jr., Mrs. D. L. Navy Mothers' Club Meets At Legion Home

Regular business meeting of Navy Mothers' Club was held March 19 at the American Legion Home with the commander, Mrs. Helen Barefoot, presiding. Color bearers Mrs. Daisy Lucky, and Cloy McLeland presented the flags. All present united in giving the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Mrs. Allien Bannister, chaplain, gave the opening prayer. Roll call of members was given by the adjutant, Mrs. Blanche Bedgood, with 14 members present.

Mrs. Hodge matron-at-arm, introduced Mrs. Cobb a visitor, who later became a member, by taking the obligation with Mrs. Willis, Mrs. Pettit, and Mrs. Sharp. Mrs. Dean Selig was given her obligation as officer.

Welfare committee gave their report by stating that three layettes were sent to San Diego Club for distribution to needy families which were made by club members. Mrs. Garrett gave a report of the visit to veteran's hospital in Shreveport. It was reported that the Shreveport hospital was in need of oxygen tent jackets. It was unanimously voted for the club to purchase flannel and make these garments at an early date.

Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Wilson, were elected to attend a Navy Mothers' club rally which will be held in Galveston Tex. April 13-15. The meeting was then adjourned with the chaplain giving the closing prayer.

Although a hippopotamus can remain under water as long as nine minutes, its normal period without fresh air is only three to four minutes, says the National Geographic Society. When sleeping beneath the surface, hippos come up for air regularly.

Miss Thelma Ramay March Bride Of Ernest Stocks

On the evening of March 14th at eight o'clock, at the Emmanuel Baptist Church, in a wedding of beauty and simplicity, Miss Thelma Ramay, of this city, became the bride of Ernest N. Stocks, of Tallulah.

Rev. W. R. Rogers, standing under an arch of greenery read the impressive double ring ceremony. The altar was beautifully decorated with palms and tall baskets of pink snapdragons. Pink candles burned in seven branch candelabra and cast a soft glow over the wedding party as they stood before the altar.

The wedding music was furnished by Joanne Dunn of Mississippi College, Clinton Mississippi, and Dorothy Dunn of Nashville, Tennessee, nieces of the bride. While the guests were being seated Joanne played "To a Wild Rose," Dorothy lighted the candles. Dorothy then accompanied her sister Joanne, as she sang in beautiful voice "Because," before the ceremony began and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction. Claire de Lune was softly played during the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Joanne wore a snow blue faille suit trimmed with pearls and rhinestones. Her accessories were pink and she wore a corsage of pink split carnations. Dorothy was dressed in a frost pink faille suit with rhinestone trim. Her accessories were light blue and she wore a corsage of deep pink carnations.

Mr. J. C. Stocks of Tallulah, Louisiana served his brother as best man. Ushers were Carl McBeth, Gerald Harbour, Clifford Smith, and James Smith.

Mrs. C. A. Hall was her sisters matron of honor. She wore a suit of mauve shantung. Her hat was of lavender flowers and her accessories matched the color of her hat. Her corsage was of orchid split carnations.

The bride entered with her brother-in-law, C. A. Hall, who gave her in marriage. She was attractively attired in a suit of Navy Blue with which she wore a pink flower hat, pink blouse and gloves and accessories of Navy Blue. At the neck of her blouse she pinned a delicate imported hand carved Cameo, a gift of the groom. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses. The age old tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue and a penny in her shoe was observed. For something old she wore the wedding ring of her late mother fastened to a bracelet.

Mrs. Stocks is well known in Monroe and Northeast Louisiana. She is a graduate of The Arkansas State Teachers College of Conway, Arkansas and has been associated with her sister and brother-in-law at the Hall Funeral Home for the past sixteen years. She is the only Louisiana licensed lady funeral director in Monroe, and also holds offices in both insurance companies affiliated with the funeral home. She devoted much of her time to church work and is recognized as a talented leader of young people.

Mr. Stocks has a host of friends at Tallulah, where he is associated with his brother in business. He served in the air corps during World War II. Since his rteurn from Military service he has given much of his time and talent to the various civic organizations of which he is a member. He is a Shriner, also a member of the Northeast Louisiana Shrine club, a member of the Knights Templar of Monroe, member of the American Legion at Tallulah, Chef De Traine of the Forty and Eight of Lake Providence, La., a volunteer fireman and a member of the Lions Club of Tallulah.

Immediately following the wedding an informal reception was held at the Frances Hotel for the relatives and out of town guests. Miss Dorothy Dunn had charge of the brides book and had each of the guests to register. Mrs. Macon Dunn, Hamburg, Arkansas, sister of the bride, cut the three tiered wedding cake and Mrs. Jack Meehan, closest friend of the bride presided at the punch bowl.

Immediately followed the reception Mr. and Mrs. Stocks left on their honeymoon. They motored down the Gulf Coast visiting points of interest in Mississippi and the Bellingrath Gardens of Mobile, Alabama. They then went on to Florida where they stayed until their return home.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ramay and Harry Ramay Jr. of Detroit, Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Macon Dunn, Hamburg Arkansas, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Deason and daughters Margaret Ann and Gloria Sue, Miss Dorothy Jane Stocks, J. C. Stocks Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stocks, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. J R. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Young and daughter, all of Tallulah, Miss Shirley Patton, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Park, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Richardson, Miss Elaine Richardson, Ralph and George Park, all of Ruston, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Todd, Mississippi College, Clinton, Mississippi, Mrs. M. M. Cloud, Rayville, J. R. Waites and E. R. Travis, Delhi, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Vail, Port Arthur, Texas, and Aubrey Louis Richardson, Bay Town, Texas.

Among the courtesies extended honoring the bride elect was a miscellaneous shower on February 23rd at the Emmanuel Baptist Church of which she is a member.

Also on March 7th at 1:30 p. m., Mrs. Jack Meehan gave a luncheon honoring the bride-elect.

The luncheon table was beautifully decorated with a floral centerpiece of blue iris and bridal wreath. At one end of the table beautifully wrapped gifts from those attending the luncheon and from out of state friends who could not be present, were attractively arranged as a surprise to the bride to be.

The hostess presented the honoree with a place setting of China in her chosen pattern. Other gifts included silver, crystal and China in the brides chosen pattern.

Those present besides the honoree were, Mrs. Jack Meehan, Mrs. C. A. Hall, Miss Margie Dixon, Miss Mary Lois Thomas and Miss Lucia Weatherly.

The opossum of the southern United States belongs to one of the oldest living families of mammals. His ancestors, says the National Geographic Society, prowled the earth with now extinct dinosaurs some 701000,000 years ago.

ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT — Miss Helen Margaret Crosby, of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Crosby, of Bastrop, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Albert R. Morgan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Morgan, Sr., of Nady, Ark., is announced today. The wedding will take place on Saturday, April 18, at 5:00 p.m. at the Memorial Presbyterian Church in West Monroe.

Mrs. Givens Has Literary Club

The hostesses, Miss Ola Cooper and Mrs. Toxie Givens, welcomed the club members into the Givens' Home last Tuesday evening in Mangham.

The meeting was called to order by the club president, Mrs. K. E. McDonald, and new and old business discussed.

Mrs. Edmund Williamson, International Relations Chairman, was leader for the night. She presented the topic for discussion, "Love Thy Neighbor;" then introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Bennie M. Hixon, who gave a most interesting and informative talk on our Foreign Policy. Mr. Hixon stated that most of his material came from the book Master Plan—U. S. A. by John Fincher and various magazines.

The second speaker on program was Mrs. John F. Boughton, whose topic was "Over A Bamboo Fence by Brown," which is a unique writing of the observations made by a woman on conditions inside Japan. The Bamboo Fence separating the occupiers from the occupied.

Mrs. Williams thanked Mr. Hixon and Mrs. Boughton for their talks and the meeting was dismissed by the club collect being repeated in unison.

Annual Meeting Of Women Of Presbyterian Church

The Annual meeting of the Women of the First Presbyterian Church was held Tuesday March 17 in Fellowship Hall at 7:30 p. m. The third Tuesday in March each year is set aside for this meeting, where the stewardship of the past months are discussed and plans made for the duties and privileges of the coming year.

The president Mrs. Alden Shotwell was the program leader and she chose for her theme the 2nd Chapter of Paul's letter to the Colossians, where he expressed hope that all Christians would be knitted together in love. In preparation for this program she had knitted a scarf of many colors, each color representing the various offices of the Women of the Church. Mrs. Shotwell asked each officer to give a report of their work in knitting together in love and service during the past year.

The officers for the new church year were installed by the Rev. W. H. McFadden in most impressive service. They are: President, Mrs. Alden Shotwell; vice-president, Mrs. C. A. Nenney; recording secretary, Mrs. Sidney Gill; Corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. V. Allison. Treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Martin; Historian, Mrs. R. W. Camellia Garden Club Meets With Mrs. Carl Stevenson

The Camellia Garden Club held their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Carl Stevenson on Thursday with Mrs. Ola Mae Passman, co-hostess. The reception room cast an inviting atmosphere with lovely arrangements reflecting springtime.

The business session was opened by the president, Mrs. Ola Mae Passman. The minutes were read and the roll called by the secretary. Mrs. Passman stressed the cooperation of each member in regards to the clean - up week by the city in the near future.

Highlighting the meeting was the interesting talk on "What's New and Different in Gardening," by Miss Pearl LeFevre which the group enjoyed.

Enjoying the occasion were: Mrs. Louise Maddey, Mrs. W. T. Simpson, Jr., Mrs. Earl Vigg, Mrs. T. O. L. Van Fossen, Mrs. G. L. Thompson, Mrs. J. B. Renaud, Mrs. H. T. Poulan, Mrs. J. H. Paylor, Mrs. J. C. Magee, Mrs. J. F. Jones, Mrs. J. R. Freeman, Mrs. L. T. Harper, Mrs. W. A. Cornett, and guest, Miss Pearl LeFevre and hostesses, Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Ola Mae Passman.

Mrs. Morris Miller Hostess To Music Guild Wednesday

Mrs. Morris Miller was hostess Wednesday to the members of the Music Guild for their March meeting. Preceeding the program was the coffee hour, with coffee, daity sandiwches and small cakes enjoyed by all. The program was opened with the reading of the collect, followed by the reading of the minutes and a business session. The club welcomed two new members who attended the meeting, Mrs. Robert Wroten and Mrs. Roy Wroten and voted to receive five new members.

Mrs. J. Norman Coon was in charge of the program entitled Music For All of Us. Mrs. B. B. Martin gave a brief review of the book by that name written by Leopold Stokowski in 1943. Mrs. Martin told that music is known as the universal language, understood and enjoyed by all races of people. Everyone enjoys some form of music and individual tastes vary, with some preferring classical while others find pleasure in the lighter semi - classics and folk songs. Every musician is a poet expressing himself from the heart by use of sound and every poet uses the rhythm of music in expressing the feelings in his soul. The real artist interprets with his heart and soul, expressing himself in such a way that he transfers his feelings to the audience. Mrs. C. A. Caldwell played the piano, giving her interpretation of May Night

Mrs. Robert Wroten sang The Desert Song with Mrs. Roy Wroten accompanying her on the piano. A movement from Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, Andante Con Moto was played by Mrs. Leon Noland. Victor Herbert's gay Italian Street Song was sung by Mrs. Paul Newman with Mrs. P. A. Poag at the piano. Mrs. Poag gave a number by Victor Herbert also, Pan Americana. Mrs. R. W. Cretney sang an old favorite Absent, by John Metcalf. Members present were Mrs. Morris Miller, Mrs. B. B. Martin, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. Paul Newman, Mrs. Leon Noland, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. C. A. Caldwell, Mrs. Marvin Shipp, Mrs. R. T. Bliss, Mrs. R. W. Cretney, Mrs. Roy Wroten, Mrs. Robert Wroten, Mrs. Robert Irby, Mrs. Dewey White, Mrs. Wilbur Bullock.

Lida Benton P.-T. A. Members Attend Meeting

The Fifth District meeting of Parent Teachers Association, held March 9th at Woodlawn School was well represented by Lida Benton P.-T. A. unit. The following members attended: Mrs. Grady Grafton, Mrs. W. F. Roberts, Mrs. Roy Anderson, Mrs. W. A. Cooper, Mrs. C. A. Hill, Mr. Dan Caldwell and Mrs. George Burkett. Lida Benton P.-T. A. received a membership certificate and their scrap book received honorable mention. The hospitality from Woodlawn P.-T. A. members was wonderful. The meeting was enjoyed by all.

Girl Scout News

Celebrating the first day of spring with trips to Camp Pine Wood were seven troops of girls of all ages, some staying overnight, some only a few hours, but all enjoying the sunshine and the fun of being together in the out of doors.

Troop 30, with its leaders, Mrs. Powell Sinclair and Mrs. Don Laburn, was first on the scene, arriving Friday afternoon. The girls made a tour of camp, settled in, held a flag ceremony, cooked supper out of doors, and enjoyed singing and paper bag dramatics around a campfire before going to bed. It was a perfect night for being out of doors, warm and dark and starry.

Saturday morning the girls made breadtwists for the first time and became as enthusiastic as most campers over their new-found skill i cooking on a stick. They were impressed, too, by the fact that there are no dishes to wash after such a breakfast.

On their home along the river the girls learned the wild flowers that are beginning to bloom, the bluets, spring beauties, oxalis, buckeye, and violets, as well as the more common trees on the site.

By ten o'clock Saturday there were other groups at camp. Troop 14 with leaders Mary Turner and Ethel Easterling, planned to settle in for an overnight stay as soon as Troop 30 moved out after lunch. In the meantime they went off on a jaunt to the river, where they fished awhile and had lunch.

Troops 13 and 7, made up of the same age girls who didn't know each other, took partners and went on a hike to explore the woods along the river. They, too, learned about the flowers and trees. Returning to camp, Troop 7 enjoyed their nosebag lunches in the shade of the pines, while Troop 13 cooked a one-pot meal and enjoyed every bite. Lois Ann Morgan proved to be a good kettle soaper. Soaping the kettle was something brand new to all the girls, but they soon saw how easy it was to get all the black off when they washed dishes. Each girl made a little fire for practice and to count on Second Class requirements.

Mrs. A. L. Gates and Mrs. E. J. Miller are leaders of Troop 13 at Highland School, while the leaders of Troop 7, Sherrouse School are Mrs. Haskell Fairchild and Mrs. Bill Irvin.

Troop 23 with Mrs. R. H. Hofler and Mrs. Theo Herr in charge, simply landed in camp and using it as a base, spent the day in exploring the nearby woods. Bozo, the dog, seems especially fond of this group because he went with them every time. Guess he thinks he's the protector of very group that leaves camp.

Getting their first sample of an out of door experience were brand-new, not-yet-registered, troops-to-be, 18 and 46 at Sherrouse School. For the girls and the grown-ups the campsite was a new and wonderful place for playing and hiking. Now we know the Brownies will look forward to being old enough to spend the night.

Remaining in camp Saturday night was Troop 14 and its leaders. These girls are fast becoming seasoned campers. In fact, we hear that they plan to progress in out of door skills until they are proficient in even more skills.

On Sunday, following a custom that several troops have observed, and one that sounds like a good idea to us, of inviting the families of the girls to drive out Sunday at noon bringing picnic lunches and remaining for the troop's court-of-awards.

The Troop held a Scout's Own during the morning, cleaned up the building and made their bedrolls, ready to leave. Just about the time they finished lunch, the sky had become so threatening that they held a quick flag ceremony and court-of-awards.

Bird and tree badges, campcraft, outdoor cook, and a variety of other badges earned by the girls were presented. Carey Sue Turner, who started in Scouting in Troop 4, received a five-year pin, while several other girls are looking forward to receiving theirs next fall.

A thunderclap put an end to all activities, sending everybody to their cars just a second before the downpour came—everybody grateful that it had held off so long.

Wish all Kiwanians, Lions, Rotarians, Women's Club members, businessmen and other individuals who contributed money, time and effort to the camp project could have seen the camp Saturday. Of course, work still goes on. The place is mighty pretty right now. Try driving out to see it this afternoon.

The oft-repeated directions are to drive one half mile past the Sterlington bridge, turn right and follow signs about four miles to camp.

The late Prof. William H. Hobbs, a University of Michigan geologist and explorer, maintained that an Italian, Antonio Zeno, discovered America in 1390, more than 100 years before Christopher Columbus sighted outlying islands.

The first oxen were used on the Santa Fe Trail in 1830.

Mary Virginia Parker, president, presided at the Y-Teen Inter-Club Council meeting on Saturday morning at the Y. Lillian Roddy gave the devotional. The president of Inter-Club Council for 1953-54 will be Ann Hebert; the vice president will be Jean Doncer. Plans for the Easter service on Thursday, April 2nd, at 3:30 p.m. at the Y Parker will serve as leader; Oscar Cloyd will be the guest speaker; Ann Hebert will play a piano solo; Gloria Thompson accompanied by Donna Rhea Welch will sing. There was a discussion regarding some of the activities for a summer program for the Y-Teens.

The Jolly Y Janes' Club and the Honest Injuns' Clubs had for their program for their club meetings a Bible play: "Mary and Martha." The Really Y's Club had a very interesting meeting, and one that proved most informative and helpful. This club visited the Jewish Synagogue and Rabbi F. K. Hirsch explained some of the beliefs of the Jewish faith, explained about the beautiful windows in the Temple, explained and showed to the group "The Torah." The 7th Grade Club and the Blue Triangle Club of Lenwil Y-Teens met at Lenwil. These clubs will present the program for the P.-T. A. on April 16th. Eyvonne Greer will be the leader. The B Y's Club met on Thursday afternoon. Jalna May, prsident of the club presided at this meeting. Alice Morrison gave the devotional: "Friendship" and "Jesus, Our Friend." Jackie Roberts, secretary read the minutes of the last meting. Eunic Trew and Gloria Thompson sang a duet and they were accompanied by Donna Rhea Welch. Sandra Ates, Inter-Club Council representative, gave a report on the council activites and plans. A Bible play "Mary and Martha" was presented by Mary Pearl Coats, Sandra Brown, Jackie Roberts, and Barbara Eady. Special music was rendered by Donna Rhea Welch. The meeting was closed with the Y-Teen motto: "Our job is to be our best, to do our best, to bring out the best in others, and so make a better world."

Y-Ves' Club

The Y-ves' Club met at the Agricultural Building in West Monroe with Mrs. Mildred Swift, associate home demonstration agent, responsible for city work. Mrs. Swift gave instruction and demonstrations on "short cuts which make sewing easier and more enjoyable and practical." Two guests: Mrs. Harold Reinhardt and Mrs. Martha Lou Bewick were welcomed. Members present were: Mrs. Carl Davis, Mrs. William Hochstetler, Mrs. Robert Dinkle, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. E. A. Bishop, Mrs. Ben Patterson, Mrs. LaVaughn Weger, Mrs. Margaret Van Fossen. Miss Bess Sharp, Y. W. C. A. executive met with the group.

YWCA News

Mrs. E. H. Green, Cleveland, Miss., and Mrs. Milton Adler, New Orleans will be the guest speakers Charles Rosenberg, National Y. W. for the "Louisiana Neighborhood" YWCA meting to be held in Alex- C. A. board member, will preside at this meeting, and Miss Mary Jane Willett, southern region correlator, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., will lead one of the discussion groups.

New Books At Ouachita Parish Public Library

By following a policy of ordering books before they are published the Ouachita Parish Public Library is able to give brand new books to its patrons. Often people call up and ask us when we are going to get a certain book and we are able to tell them that it is already in the library collection. In case you wonder how we know what books are coming out, it is because we subscribe to the Virginia Kirkus Bookshop service. This is a publication which comes out twice a month and reviews the books at least six weeks before publication date. Mrs. Kirkus is a reviewer of great integrity and her reviews are absolutely depend able. If she thinks a book is inferior, she does not hesitate to say so. If she thinks it is unsuitable for public library circulation, she states this fact and gives her reasons. All together this is one of the most valuable services that a library can purchase.

A number of new books were received during the past week and there are titles here for every type of reader. If you like stories of the days when knights were bold and lived by the laws of chivalry, you will want to read "Swords of Anjou" by Mario Pei. This story takes its information from the medieval "Song of Roland" and "Chansons de geste." In this book can be found intense drama and breathless suspense, treachery and heroism, and love pure and impure against the background of feudal France and Moorish Spain. This is a tale in the noble tradition and one that is definitely inspiring.

Two new novels take their background from the early and stirring days of American history. They are "The Governor's Daughter" by Denton Whitson and "To Follow A Flag" by Will Henry. "The Governor's Daughter" has for its background the years of the French and Indian war and its most dramatic scene is "Braddock's Defeat." It is the story of the daughter of the governor of New York, who disguised herself as a lady's maid, in order to travel through the wilderness and carry a most important message to her father. En route she falls in love with a hard-bitten veteran of Indian warfare, Adam Templeton. When he discovers her deception, he withdraws into his shell and only a near tragedy forces him to declare his love. This is an exciting and interesting story and gives a good picture of the people who helped make America what it is.

"To Follow A Flag" by Will Henry is a story of the Northwest frontier in the year 1858. It is the story of the struggle of the Yakima Indian Federation's last effort to protect their lands from the white man. The hero of the story is Sergeant Emmett Bell, skilled in the ways of the Indians and wise to their schemes. This is a bloody and exciting story and will appeal particularly to men.

The library has a large number of patrons who are especially fond of western stories. This month there are two new titles "Gold on the Hoof" by Walker A. Tompkins and "Stay Away Joe" by Dan Cushman. "Gold on the Hoof" is another thrilling story of danger in the colorful old west. It is concerned with the efforts of unscrupulous men to seize a rundown ranch and the efforts of the stalwart foreman to save it for the beautiful daughter of the family. There is nothing really new in this story, but western fans will love it. "Stay Away Joe" by Dan Cushman is concerned with the experiences of an Indian family of the present day. It is an account of a few weeks in the life of an Indian - American family and is written with great humor and a loving perception of character. It is definitely worth reading.

Only one title arrived this week for the mystery readers. It is "The Blushing Monkey" by Roman McDougald, who is a close neighbor of ours, since he grew up and still makes his home at Clayton in Concordia Parish. This is not Mr. McDouglad's first book by any means and he has an established reputation as one of the best mystery writers in the field. Every reader of mystery stories will surely want to read "The Blushing Monkey."

"A Pathway to Heaven" by Henry Bordeaux can be compared with "The Little World of Don Camillo. It is again the story of a simple Parish priest. This priest is one who was led into difficulties with the conventional world by his gift for painting. This is not everyone's dish, but those who like this sort of thing, will love it.

For those who like their novels modern, there are three titles to choose from, all written by well-known authors. "Voices in the House" is by John Sedges. It is a story of a man of high ideals and principles who was disturbed by the people who came into his home, especially by his daughter's suitor, whom he found rough and crude. "The Heart Alone" by George Howe is the story of two girls who loved the same man, and the story of this love throughout the years. It is a story that could have happened to the people down the street and it is most interesting. "The Green Man", the title of the latest novel by Storm Jameson is a long, rich, magnificently hopeful novel in the great British tradition. It is a portrait covering two decades of a family whose roots were deep in England. It is the story of two brothers and of the three women in their life. If you like Galsworthy, Walpole or Howard Spring, you will want to read this story.

If you are not a patron of the Ouachita Parish Public Library, do not put off registering another day. If you are already a registered borrower, but have not been down to see us lately, give us a visit. There are four branches of the library, use the one that is most convenient for you, but use one.

The Skillet Club

By UNCLE FRANK KOHLER

(Chief Skilleteer)

In our house, just as Thanksgiving requires turkey, Easter Sunday requires baby spring lamb. A favorite Easter menu includes a clear consomme, roast baby lamb with mint sauce, new peas, new potatoes, spring garden salad, and maple mousse for dessert. This, to our mind, is a suitable way to welcome the renaissance of body, soul, and general outlook that spring seems to bring forth.

Consomme Bellevue is an unusual starter, and simple. Just mix equal parts of chicken broth and clam juice, and the canned product is perfectly satisfactory Heat thoroughly together, and serve garnished with whipped cream. A dash of paprika adds color.

Spring lamb is roasted with a meat thermometer. Wipe the roast, sprinkle it lightly with a bit of oregano, a whiff of garlic salt, salt and pepper. Roast at 300 degrees uncovered, until the thermometer shows it well done. No basting is needed, but add a cup or more water to the pan so that drippings won't burn.

In scheduling the balance of the dinner, allow about 25 minutes per pound for cooking the lamb.

Use the smallest new potatoes you can find, and boil in their jackets in salted water, then drain, peel, and serve hot with melted butter and finely minced parsley over them.

Shell fresh peas just before cooking, then cook in boiling salted water to which one teaspoon sugar has been added. Be careful not to overcook—they should not be too soft. Drain and serve with pepper, additional salt if needed, and plenty of rich butter.

Mint sauce is a requisite, and there are excellent prepared mint sauces on the market. If you can find the fresh mint, however, chop up enough mint leaves to fill half a cup, then add the leaves to one cup hot cider vinegar in which you have dissolved four tablespoons sugar.

Spring Garden Salad may include shredded or broken crisp lettuce; finely sliced green onions with their tops; finely sliced celery hearts with a bit of their leaves sliced in too; diced cucumbers and tomatoes; a bit of finely chopped green pepper; finely sliced radishes. For a dressing we like the following:

1 teaspoon salt. Garlic.
¼ teaspoon oregano.
½ teaspoon black pepper (preferably from the mill).
1 tablespoon tarragon wine vinegar.
4 tablespoons olive or salad oil.

If desired, finely minced chives and-or parsley.

Place salt in bowl. Split large clove of garlic and rub well into the salt. Add pepper and other dry ingredients and mix, then add vinegar, then stir in the oil. Check the dressing for seasoning and make necessary corrections.

Add salad ingredients, toss gently but well, and serve well chilled. For Easter, sliced hard - cooked eggs may be used as a garnish.

From the spring run of the sap, Maple Mousse makes a fitting dessert. The ingredients:

1 teaspoon vanilla.
1 pint rich whipping cream.

Heat the maple syrup in the top of a double boiler. Beat four egg yolks very light, and pour them over the hot syrup, stirring constantly, and cook until the mixture thickens and will coat the spoon. Take from the fire and continue beating, placing the pan in ice water until cool.

Then whip in one teaspoon vanilla and one pint rich whipped cream. Turn into a mild and freeze without stirring, either in your refrigerator, deep freeze, or wrap mold in wax paper and seal with butter, then pack in ice and rock salt for at least four hours. Serve with small cakes.

Instead of cocktails, for this dinner we suggest a fine dry sherry with plain cocktail wafers, or a few artistically made canapes. With the roast, a still or sparkling burgundy, and with the dessert, a chilled sauterne. Or you can use champagne right through the dinner. It is permissible, if desired, to spice up the whipped cream served with the soup, with a little sherry.

Send your favorite recipe and a stamped, addressed envelope to the Morning World and become a life member of The Skillet Club, and we'll send you a membership card to prove it.

Seven Towns Participate In Local Art Exhibit

Professional and amateur artists from the whole of N. E. Louisiana have combined their works in a public showing this afternoon.

The display is representive of the visual arts being accomplished in this section of the state. Included in the exhibit are artists from Oak Grove, Farmerville, Choudrant, Shreveport, Alto, Monroe, West Monroe, and Eudora, Ark.

The mediums used for the many paintings vary from charcoals to encaustic colors. Subject material is as diverse as imagination allows. There are extremely finished oil portraits, abstract street scenes, and crisp floral paintings.

The display on the three hundred block of Louisville Avenue will remain open to the public between the hours of two and six p.m. There is no admission charge, and everyone is welcomed to view this project initiated by the Northeast Louisiana League of Artists.

NEW PARIS PATTERN ENDORSES SLIM SHEATH FOR SUMMER

PATTERN M280
by FERNANDE LEBOUCHER

PROMINENT DESIGNER—From Paris to you, here's the exciting "closer-to-the-body" shape everyone's talking about. The Original was flown directly from Paris, and copied exactly as it came from the artistic hands of Fernande LeBoucher. It's no wonder this designer is called a sculptress in muslin. In her hands, even the simplest afbric becomes a superb creation. She gives your figure a lean, long-legged look, and she does it so effortlessly with a subtly drapped bodice poised on a skirt kick-pleated for walking pleasure. A flare of contrast, a pocket are the details that dramatically emphasize the sleek, slim line. Although this dress is Parisian in the marvelous way it flatters your figure, it's ideal for the American scene. Make it in linen, shantung or print silk—wear it everywhere with the assurance your LeBoucher original is the "one and only" in the fabric and color of your choice.

Pattern M280 is availble in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, and 18. Size 16 requires 3½ yards 39-inch fabric; ¼ yard 39-inch contrast.

Send One Dollar for Pattern M280 to Morning World, Pattern Department, P. O. Box 59, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Please print your name, address with zone, style number and size.

Hand-Painted Buttons Give Teen-Togs Glamor

Sewing box cast - offs that can stage a fashionable comeback are a boon to the mother of a clothes-hep sub - deb. You can show your style - conscious daughter how the imaginative use of buttons and scraps of ribbon can expand the limits of her clothing allowance by giving simple togs a fresh appeal.

Hand - decorated buttons, for example, can perk up a plain dress or sweater, or circle a wrist as a personal history "charm" bracelet. Short lengths of ribbon can be bow - tied substitutes for links on French cuffs or sever as collar bows. Pin two or three gaily decorated buttons to a strip of grosgrain and a girl has the makings of a belt fob or pocket pick-me-up.

To get a stylish sub-deb started, cull your collection of old buttons for the shank - back type (if you must buy a few to fill in, get the inexpensive plastic pearl buttons plus any scraps of ribbon you can spare.

Buttons can be decorated, by painting, or by decals, depending on the age and the skill of the artist. Hand - painted buttons permit more personal and imaginative designs. But small motifs snipped out of decal borders and applied to button surfaces look fresh and pretty, too.

For painting buttons, she'll need one or two small water - color brushes. Go to an artist's supple store and ask for a No. 1 or No. 2 brush. She'll also need a small tube or two of oil paint, paper or cardboard, and a few toothpicks.

Before the artist applies paint to the button, encourage her to experiment with the design on a paper outline first. Designs that appeal to our young friends are those that record pet intersts or hobbies (tennis racket, open book, boat, and so on) initials, fruit or flowers, stars or stripes. Another favorite is the loves - me - loves me not theme with a daisy, painted on the top button, losing one petal at a time non follow - up buttons.

When painting a button, slide it on a round toothpick to hold it steady then poke the toothpick into an orange while paint dries. After the paint is dried or the decal mounted, a clear plastic finish sprayed on protects the art work.

Hand - decorated buttons will survive hand washing. But it's wiser to take them off before you launder a garment. Because of the shank back, the button could be inconspicuously pinned on if you want to skip the sewing.

To make a button bracelet, thread the buttons on a pipe cleaner and pull both ends through the shank of the last button to make the circle or slide them onto a narrow black velvet ribbon and close by tying.

Mexico has had to import corn, its staple grain, in recent years because of increased demand.

PROFESSOR HELD THREE JOBS

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)— The man who held three public jobs -- and drew three salaries - will have to relinquish two of them, the ministry of education has ruled.

Prof. Assis Gomes held chairs in school of engineering and the faculty of philosophy, as well as acting as consulting engineer for a university building program.

The ministry declared "It is not just that anyone receive three salaries from the state when innumerable Brazilians desire opportunities to perform public services."

Monroe Garden Club Holds Annual Spring Garden Tour

The members of Monroe Garden club enjoyed a most interesting tour of four beautiful gardens in our city Monday afternoon. The members of the Patio Garden Club and The Town and Country Garden Club, two new clubs, which are being sponsored by the Monroe Garden Club were invited as guests.

Mrs. J. R. Wooten has used shaped boxwood plants and Japanese Yew with magnolia Tushchata to make a most pleasing entrance as well as a delightfully scented one. Her azaleas and camellias were placed under pins to create a lovely effect.

A thing of beauty is Mrs. James A. Noe's garden. The planting in one large bed is six (6 plants deep to insure year round bloom. Six kinds of holly have been used throughout the garden. Her pink dogwood caught the eye of every visitor.

Mrs. Ben R. Downing's garden as been planned to create a beauful picture from within her house. ests were invited in to see from lovely home how the outside ms to flow into the house. A k crabapple tree near a rose rden made in a circular patn used with brick walk ways s interesting.

Mrs. H. K. Touchstone met the ests at the front where it was ted that the planting is low, beuse the house is low.

As a climax for the tour mem ers went to the garden of Mrs. enry Guerriero for tea. Her garlen is semi-formal. There is a charming fountain placed across the lawn from the brick patio. The patio is located near the house to save steps, when serving meals outside. Mrs. Guerriero suggests that bricks laid for a patio should be laid slightly above lawn level, because they will sink over a period of years and will hold rain water, if they are below lawn level.

General chairman for the tour was Mrs. Scott Hamilton. Chairmen for the tea were Mrs. Vernon Maish, and Mrs. R. L. Davis. Others on the committee were: Mrs. Bun Beasley, Mrs. John Breard, Mrs. Lila K. Breard, Mrs. N. G. Gaston, Mrs. E. A. Girault, Mrs. Grover Holloway, Mrs. Thomas Keller.

Mrs. Vincent Marsala, Mrs. Henry Mayo, Mrs. Austin Miller, Mrs. E. E. McKenzie, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. R. C. Sparks, Mrs. Mildred Swift and Mrs. Louis Turner.

La. Society For Native Irises To Hold Show

The Louisiana Purchase will be the theme of the annual show of the Society for Louisiana Native Irises, according to Miss Aline M. Arceneaux of Lafayette, secretary of the society. The show will be held at Southwestern Louisiana Institute in Lafayette, April 11-12, Miss Arceneaux said. Ira S. Nelson, professor of horticulture at SLI, is in charge of arrangements.

Both the iris show and a symposium on iris culture which will be held on the morning of April 11 are open to the public. Iris growers, breeders and collectors are invited to enter their best flowers in the open competition. Judging will be done by all members of the iris society who are present.

The iris show is becoming noted for its ingenious and elaborate displays, Miss Arceneaux said. Last year's show featured a display of iris growing in their native setting of a sluggish lagoon overhung with Spanish moss. On the bank of the lagoon was a trapper's cabin complete with a hound dog in the yard and a string of pimento peppers hanging on the porch.

The prize iris at the 1952 show was a large white flower collected by James T. Taylor of Rayne. Runner-up were exhibited by J. G. Richard, Baton Rouge; G. W. Holleyman, Lake Charles; and W. B. McMillan, Abbeville.

Flower Show To Be Sponsored By Federated Clubs —

Under sponsorship of the Federated Garden clubs of the fifth district of Louisiana, a flower show school will be held in Louisiana Tech's agricultural auditorium March 31 through April 2, with two instructors participating.

R. H. Hanchey, associate professor of horticulture at Louisiana State university, will lecture on "Landscape Design" Tuesday, March 31, from 10-12 a.m. Hanchey has taught horticulture courses in Louisiana and Mississippi. He holds a bachelor of science degree from Southwestern Louisiana Institute and a master's degree from LSU. He has done 15 months of graduate work in floriculture at Ohio State university.

Mrs. M. B. Latham of Jackson, Miss., will lecture from 3:15-4:15 p.m. Tuesday on "Color." On Wednesday, from 8:45-10:45 a.m. she will talk on "Period Arrangements." All individual lectures are $1.50 each and the fee for the entire three-days is $5.50.

At the Ruston Country club on Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Latham will give a demonstration in "Period Flower Arrangements" from 2-3:30 o'clock. This program is not a part of the study course and is planned primarily for the pleasure of persons interested in flowers and arrangements, sponsors of the event announced. Tickets for this occasion will be $1.

Mrs. Latham has been active in garden club work for the past 10 years. She served as chairman of various committees of the Jackson Council of Garden Clubs and was president of that organization in 1946-48. She now is president of the state organization of garden clubs in Mississippi.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—What can be done to a privet hedge in which many plants were badly broken down by an out-of-control automobile?

A—If the damaged plants are broken close to the ground, cut back the entire hedge to within a foot of the ground. Then the entire hedge will grow uniformly. Cultivate a 10-6-4 or similar fertilizer in the soil on both sides of the hedge, using four pounds per 100 feet of row. Cut all dead canes off at ground level.

Home Gardener Club Members Complete Landscape Project

Members of the Home Gardener Club have finished one of their projects for this year, that of landscaping the grounds of the Southside Methodist Church, under the guidance of Mrs. L. N. Copes, the project chairman.

The landscape plans were drawn by Miss Pearl LeFevre, and approved by the Board of Stewards, and accepted by the club to be followed as closely as was possible to do so.

Other members serving on the committee were, Mrs. C. R. Clay, Mrs. L. D. Rogers, Mrs. C. H. Shook, Mrs. Tom Firnberg and Mrs. R. N. Dozier, with Mrs. C. H. Shook, working tirelessly to help complete the work, along with other members, Mrs. J. R. Miller and Mrs. Frank Pettit.

Out of appreciation for the invitation extended the club members by the board of stewards, to attend a church service, was accepted and materialized on Sunday morning March 15th at the morning hour.

Representing the club was the president, Mrs. Frank V. Reitzell, the chairman, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. H. E. Munholland, Mrs. L. D. Rogers, Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. A. A. Tarpley, Mrs. Frank Pettit, Mrs. Jewell McQuiller, Mrs. M. J. Hortman, Mrs. Alice David, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. Jimmy A. Funston, Mrs. Saul Adler, Mrs. F. C. Reynolds, Mrs. C. R. Clay, Mrs. O. R. Bridges, Mrs. G. C. Williams, Mrs. L. R. Harrison, Mrs. M. M. DeWees, Mrs. W. E. Young and Mrs. Frank Williams.

'Green Thumbs' For Men, Women

No two ways about it. . .a garden yields redder radishes and more radiant roses, taller tulips and sweeter sweet corn, if the gardener has a green thumb.

Today everyone can acquire a green thumb simply by slipping on a pair of "Green Thumb" gloves. They now come in styles for men as well as women.

The extra long wear, the safe hand protection and the smart good looks are the same. Only the colors are different. Chamois yellow with a green thumb for women, tanbark with a green thumb for men. The feminine version comes in small, medium and large . . . the masculine style comes in a generous man's size.

With the trend more and more to healthful outdoor living, many flower gardens are now planned to serve as extra "rooms." In planning your "expanded living," don't forget to pick up "Green Thumbs" for friend, husband as well as for yourself.

Your Garden

Liquid manure has long been a favorite means of feeding plants of all sorts. Due to the messiness and sometimes unpleasant armoa of this plant food, it was inevitable that research chemists would find a more welcome product. Well, the market is now flooded with liquid fertilizers. All are good, although some are better than others.

A new "plant food" which the home gardener may either spray on the leaves or apply to the soil will be made available to home owners through garden supply stores this spring.

This product, known as soluble plant food, will supply a "balanced diet" of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and essential trace elements. It may be used as a fast-acting, clean, odorless spray for house plants, roses, ornamental shrubs, flower beds, vegetable gardens, fruit trees, berries, shade trees or lawns.

Nitrogen, principal element used by plants in producing green leaves, is the element made most readily available through the use of fertilizer. While there are around 75,000,000 pounds of nitrogen in the column of air above each acre of land, only a few plants, such as beans, peas and clover, are capable of utilizing this elemental atmospheric nitrogen. However, certain nitrogen compounds sprayed on leaves move rapidly through the leaf surfaces and the nitrogen becomes available for plant growth.

Spraying plant food on the leaves is particularly desirable during periods of summer drouth. Ordinary fertilizer placed in the soil must be made soluble by soil moisture before it can be taken up by root systems.

Applications at two-week intervals during spring and summer are suggested to keep plants in a healthy growing condition. The plant food may also be applied to the ground around trees and plants in the manner or ordinary fertilizer.

A water soluble companion product will be introduced this spring. This water soluble plant food is highly concentrated and designed for all purposes where a liquid plant food is preferred.

It may be used by dissolving it in water and applying to the soil or to plant foliage. It is recommended for: starter solutions . . . to be used when setting out or tr nsplanting flowers, vegetables, shrubs, trees and lawns started with plugs or stolons; regular feeding of house plants and window boxes.

The Home Shift With Mildred Swift

Just see what you'll have to gaze upon each Sunday. Mr. Tabs and I decided it was bad enough for you to have to look at him each week and now — me, too. Our Extension Editor, Marjorie Arbour, says a column looks more like a column with a photograph. (Marjorie is a cousin of Belle Oakley and Blanche Oliver). Mary and Nell were of the same opinion so there it is.

RED SPIDER ON CAMELLIAS

The red spider is getting in his evil work. If your camellias leaves have turned a sick brownish yellow color, test to see if the spider is there. Rub your finger on the under side of a leaf. If you see red streads on the hand, that's red spider. If you've already sprayed with oil emulsion this will probably take care of the spider. If not you can spray with sulphur being sure to get the dust under the leaves and on the stems. Caution!! If you've sprayed with oil emulsion wait thirty days before dusting with sulphur. Don't apply sulphur to plants that are wet with dew. Azaleas and gardenias are often infected with red spider, too.

A LOVELY YARD

I enjoyed walking through Mrs. Sig Masur's garden, 1400 South Grand Street. The azaleas have passed their profuse blooming stage, but her small formal pool in the back is the most restful place to pause for quiet reflection. I love the lush green of the levee as a background. Watch for the roses blooming in this yard a little later.

FOR YOUR AFTERNOON DRIVE

Drive out Farmerville Road and see the dogwoods in bloom. In some places they look like snow capped mountains.

The Mayo and Brown gardens are located at the end of Lakeside Drive. Maud's garden is late. The wisteria and bridal wreath are in their glory now. The purple Sweet William faces down these two colors. If you catch the Mayos or Browns at home, ask to see their patios on the bank of the bayou.

The Inabnet's yard, 7215 DeSiard is just as lovely as last year. The lavender wisteria, pink verbena and purple iris give the effect such as we see in seed catalogues. All inexpensive and easy to grow, too.

Before going home drive down College Avenue. There are several gardens on this street that have blooms for January to December. That's good gardening in anybody's book. So is the neutral ground planted by our city under the supervision of Mr. Joe Ellis.

FOR YOU

Mrs. Gee, 309 Mitchell Lane, West Monroe, has the following plants to give to those who will call for them — chrysantheums, white iris, white and pink oxalis.

OLD SHRUBS REVIVED

I've never really appreciated the following almonds until this year. They're prettier because we've learned how to prune and fetilize. The white almond is a beautiful snowy spot in the Jack Roger's yard on Island Drive. Dorothy Breard has a nice bed of this shrub that will really show up next year.

I expect there were more flowering peaches sold this spring than in the last ten years. They have been so beautiful and have added color to the Twin City gardens.

CLOTHING NEWS

Thread your needle before cutting the thread from the spool. This keeps thread from knotting.

How do you like the new cotton underwear? It's revival is due to the fact that the housewife can put everything in the automatic washer. Nylons require hand washing. One monthly magazine says by hanging the cotton undies carefully, no ironing is required. That's nice if you can bring yourself to wear unironed undies.

Sue Abbington and Louise Smith were wearing tricky spring hats at the garden tour Monday. Yes—they were worked over numbers that the owners had revamped. Well—a penny saved is a penny made. The hat leaders will hold another class in early fall.

A NEAT TRICK

Mr. James R. Tippett gave me a good idea the other day. She says to treat small fresh flowers (like violets and rose buds) so they can be kept for a week, just follow this method: Melt paraffin like you put on jelly. Let it cool for a few minutes. Using a pair of tweezers, dip the blooms in the paraffin very quickly. Shake off excess wax. I saw the baby's birthday cake that Merle had decorated with flowers treated in this manner. My! It was a luscious looking confection.

SINE OFF

It's 4:30 and time to go home. I always enjoy the drive because the route leads by Jane and Helen Sherrouse's home on DeSiard Road. There's bloom there all the year round.

See you next Sunday in this same column.

Southern Gardener

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

If you must transplant shrubs as late as this, there are several precautions which have to be observed help your shrubs to pull through the heat and the numerous drouths which lie ahead between now and October. The most important thing is to provide ample humus in the soil so that moisture will be held when it rains and when you water your plants. Then you should also make a hole larger than usual for the same reason: to provide a large reservoir of moist soil when the plant is establishing its root system. Do not forget to build up a circular dam of soil about your shrub when it is planted. The soil in this circle should be about a foot higher than the surrounding level. Pack it down by beating it with the back of a shovel to prevent the water from leaking through. Now it is ready for the hose with the nozzle off and a slow flow of water. When soil is properly prepared like this, your watering will not burden you. Such holes will not need watering more often than once a week in drouths — usually once every two weeks.

Sometimes gardeners have to move shrubs of some size late in the planting season after the leaves have come out. Very large and old shrubs are hardly worth the trouble, and one should think twice before attempting such a project. However, if you do, there are several precautions to take in addition to the extra care in preparing the hole and the soil. Your problem is going to be to cut the evaporation from the plant down to a minimum while the new root system is being formed. Of course, the shrub should be taken up with as large a ball of dirt as possible. If you value the shrub, by all means call in a nurseryman and have him to transfer it with his equipment. He can move the necessary amount of soil and save the plant because very little trimming back will be necessary.

If you are going to move it yourself, however, it is usually wise to prune the shrub back fairly severely or at least trim off about one third of the foliage by removing some of the branches and shortening others. All this should be done before it is transferred to its new location, and, of course, you will water your plant immediately after it is set out. A good watering the night before you plan to transplant a shrub is of benefit, too, because it will fill the tissues with water against the drying they will surely get in transit even across the garden.

There is still another thing you can do to save a freshly transplanted shrub. If you can cut down on the sun's rays, you can save the moisture in your plant, so shade it by some means or other. If it is small, a little framework of sticks or boards can be set up with no trouble and either tobacco cloth or very coarse material like sacks can be tacked to the boards. Or wooden laths can be used instead of cloth. If your shrub is in the front yard or in some other conspicuous place, take a little trouble and make your shade structure as good looking as possible. Remember, you and others will have to look at it all summer!

There is more than one reason for shading a shrub. The shade will keep in moisture or rather prevent the loss of it, but it will also prevent sun scald of the large branches of shrubs which do not have enough foliage to hide their branches and trunks. Many a big specimen — even when planted professionally, succumbs from sun scald in the summer. Where large branches have been removed, the sun cooks the scars, too and prevents them from healing over. After a while, wood rot and diseases — even "mushrooms" begin to grow on these scarred ends, and finally, the rot gets the whole plant or so spoils it that it may as well be cut down and another planted at once.

Do not dump a lot of fertilizer into the soil or around late planted shrubs. Some bone meal and cottonseed meal can be worked into the soil which goes in the hole but not much of any kind of chemical fertilizer.

Garden Club Decides On Year's Project

A project of the Ferriday Garden Club for the coming year will be a continued study of garden architecture, with each member of the club using his own yard as a planning unit.

This was decided at the March meeting of the club with Mrs. U. B. Evans presiding. Mrs. J. A. Lane and Mrs. Eugene Taylor served as hostesses.

Mrs. A. E. Torres, program chairman outlined the program of the year which will also include an outstanding speaker, as yet unannounced.

Mrs. W. K. Mitchell spoke on "Food For Our Gardens," and Mrs. William M. Gore gave a paper on pest control.

A garden tour will comprise the April meeting, with members to tour selected gardnes in Concordia Parish and Adams County across the river in Natchez, Miss.

Queen Elizabeth II will be Brain's sixth woman and 39th monarch to be crowned.

Holy Week Is Ushered In With Palm Sunday

Special Holy Week services at the First Methodist Church begin with Palm Sunday, March 29 and close with the Easter Sunday services April 5th.

At the 10:50 a.m. service Sunday morning, the church membership class will be received and Dr. Johns, the pastor, will speak on the topic, "The King's Welcome." "Open house" at the newly renovated parsonage, at 702 Jackson Street, will be from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday afternoon, when members and friends will come in to see the results of the improvement of the parsonage property.

A pre-Easter vesper of song and scripture, featuring the Chancel, Chapel and Sanctuary choirs, will begin promptly at 7:00 p.m. Sunday evening. The Bible passages and music will tell the story of the Passion of Christ.

Rev. Jack H. Midyett, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Bastrop, will be guest preacher during Holy Week, at the Wednesday and Friday night service, at 7:30 p.m.

On Thursday evening, the dramatic club will present the one-act dramatization, "Out of the Darkness" by John McGreevy, directed by Miss Ann Courter.

Early communion on Good Friday morning is scheduled for 6:30 a.m., and the young people will observe a sacrificial meal at 12 noon.

On Easter Sunday morning, early communion will be at 8:30 a.m., and identical church service at 9:30 a.m. and 10:50 a.m. In the evening, a dramatic service will be presented, using the one-act play, "The Way of the Cross," to be directed by Mrs. Roy Wilson.

As is the time-honored custom, the special offering on Easter Sunday is for the Louisiana Methodist Orphanage at Ruston.

Everyone is cordially invited to the special Holy Week and Easter services.

Youths' Month In Observance

Plans for observance of Youth Month in the Methodist churches of the Louisiana Conference have been announced by Miss Bettie Rea Fox, of Shreveport, conference director of youth work.

Highlight of the activities will be Holy Week services, climaxed by a sacrificial meal on Good Friday when youth groups around the world will join in a period of rededication and commitment to sharing with and serving others.

Plans for the month long observance were developed by the state's Methodist Youth Fellowship council. Officers are Kennon Moody, Centenary College, Shreveport, president; Lamar Robertson, 918 N. Division, Lake Charles, vice president; Betty Willis, Centenary College, secretary; Jim Donaldson, treasurer; Peggy Donaldson, Box 5652, Drew Station, Lake Charles, publicity chairman; Joan Boyd, 2340 Government, Baton Rouge, worship chairman; Ed Lucas, Centenary College, missions; Mary Law, 1125 Eleanor, New Orleans, community service; and Lynn Jordan, 1711 Sixth Street, Lake Charles, recreation.

The schedule for the month, with observances planned by each local church, follows: Holy Week, March 29-April 5; April 2, Maundy Thursday communion service; April 3, Good Friday sacrificial meal; April 5, Easter sunrise service; April 6-2, Week of Preparation for visitation evangelism; April 12, Dedication Sunday of visitation teams; April 19-May 1, youth revivals; April 26, Youth Sunday.

Bishop Paul E. Martin will be the speaker at the annual youth conference May 9 at First Methodist Church, Alexandria.

Revival Adds 29 In Members

The revival in the Siegle addition Assembly of God Church, West Monroe, closes tonight (Sunday). Evangelist Henry E. Brammock, Phoenix, Ariz., has been with the church in its revival for four weeks.

In all there were 29 who accepted Christ as their Savior and nine were given baptism.

The evangelist will initiate a revival meeting in the Assembly of God Church in Wisner, La. next Monday night.

A hippopotamus normally stays under water three or four minutes.

Martin Luther In World Film

"Martin Luther," the full length dramatic film on the leader of the Protestant Reformation, will have its world premiere in Minneapolis on May 4, it was announced by Louis DeRochemont Associates, producers of the half-million dollar picture for Lutheran Church Productions, Inc.

The 1800-seat Lyceum Theater in Minneapolis, has been engaged for a two-week run of the film, with an option on a third week. A matinee and two evening performances are scheduled daily.

Dr. E. S. Hjortland, pastor of Central Lutheran Church, is chairman of the local inter-synodical committee in charge of arrangements for the premiere. Robert E. A. Lee, assistant director of public relations for the Evangelical Lutheran Church, is serving as executive director of the committee.

Originally, the world premiere of the film was scheduled in March, but it was later decided to delay the event until after the Lenten season. Arrangements are also underway for showing in other cities following the Minneapolis run.

Six church groups participated in the planning and financing of "Martin Luther," namely, the National Lutheran Council, Americal Lutheran Church, Augustana Lutheran Church, Evangelical Lutheran Church, United Lutheran Church, and the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

April Is Ever Youth's Month In Churches

The month of April is Youth Month. First Methodist Church joins the other churches in commemorating the youth at that time.

During Holy Week, March 29-April 5 the youth are asked to come to the church each afternoon at 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock with their prayer pals to pray for the youth revival.

Holy Thursday, April 2, the young people will present a play "Out of the Darkness" at 7:30 p.m., at the First Methodist Church.

On Good Friday, April 3, the young people will take Holy Communion at 7:00 a.m. There will be a sacrificial meal served to the youth division at 12:00 noon.

At 7:30 p.m. there will be an Easter play, "The Way of the Cross" by the youth of the church.

Sunday, April 12 at 8:30 a.m. there will be communion service for dedication of the visitation teams.

Sunday, April 19 at 2:30 p.m., First Methodist Church will be host to the sub-district rally.

Sacred Cantata Is Planned For Church Choir

The Good Hope Baptist Church choir will present the sacred Easter cantata "Eastertide" by Daniel Protheroe, Easter Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

The soloists are: soprano, Daisy Smith; alto, Jeanette Cash; tenor, Cline Averett; baritone, Ronnie Walters; bass, Bill Norris, Jr.

This well-trained choir, under the direction of Eugene Smith, has gained for itself a very favorable reputation in our Twin Cities. The public is cordially invited to attend. Miss Mary Jane Dreasler is the accompanist.

Bill Bennett To Speak At Meet

W. E. "Bill" Bennett, president of the Louisiana Gideons, will be the speaker at the monthly Brotherhood meeting of Edgewood Baptist Church Monday night at 7:30. Walter Bennett, president of the brotherhood, stated that this is "wives night" and the men are to bring their wives as guests.

The meeting is to be held in the banquet room of the Highway Cafe 806 Cypress, West Monroe.

Bible Comment

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

PALM BRANCHES AND CROSSES

Palm Sunday with its celebration of Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem with the people thronging along the way shouting their hosannas, is followed in our church calendar by Easter Sunday, again a day of rejoicing in the Resurrection. The tragedy of the betrayal and the cross falls in the days between. Glory and tragedy; doubt, suffering and sadness; then triumph and glory again, all in the space of one short week.

The contrast between the enthusiastic welcome of the people and of the enemies of Jesus seems incredible. But it is all there in the Scripture record. With the overcoming of Jesus in His resurrection, the events of that week are the most important in all history and the religious life of man.

The supreme importance of these events is as fact. Yet they also symbolize something that has continuously been in the history of mankind and is particularly emphasized at the present time. Incredible as such a contrast seems in the few days between the hosannas of enthusiasm and the acts of violence, it is the way in which glory and tragedy have so often been in the affairs of men.

One thinks of the great Crusades of the Middle Ages. Faith and zeal was inspired by rousing preachers, banners, pomp, knights of the cross, the rallying of kings, even the banding together of children. Yet it was quickly followed by jealousies, betrayals, the sacrifice of the children, and the tragedy of defeat. It was like the tragedy we find between Palm Sunday and Calvary's Friday but without a glorious resurrection.

In the U. S. A. we have seen the inauguration of President Eisenhower. It was the most spectacular program of such an event in all the history of presidents. Newspapers and magazines are full of the far more elaborate event soon to take place in the coronation of Queen Elizabeth I of England.

Yet with all this pomp and splendor, what shadows are in the background? How different the scene is in the many places where virtual war is going on. We have perils and dangers in areas that once seemed secure. The threat of greater perils, dangers, and widespread war constantly hover over nations that would be only too happy to associate pageantry with peace!

I wonder how many of us watching the marching men, their flags flying, trumpets blaring, and drums booming in all the glory of gold and color, can see the horors of the battlefields upon which so many of these men will soon be fighting. We realize it is so ... the palms and crosses of long ...

Oldsen To Go Through East

The Rev. Armin C. Oldsen, speaker on the international Lutheran Hour, heard in Monroe each Sunday over station KLIC, has just been appointed to accompany a pilgrimage tour by air to the Holy Land as lecturer. The announcement was made by Theodore G. Eggers, film and tour director of the Lutheran Laymen's League, which is sponsoring the five-week excursion.

The Lutheran Hour speaker will outline geographical and historical facts about the lands the tourists will visit and he will present the Biblical significance of these areas.

More than 150 inquiries have already been received regarding the tour, which will leave New York City via Pan American Airways on August 6 and return on September 7.

The pilgrimage tour will visit Rome, Athens and Cairo before it crosses the Red Sea for Palestine and the Holy Land.

The Lutheran Hour is broadcast in 56 languages and in 58 territories and foreign countries over more than 1100 radio stations, many of them located in the lands which the tour will visit. The addresses which are regularly delivered by the Lutheran Hour over the Mutual network are transmitted into many of the languages used in the middle east.

While on the tour Rev. Oldsen hopes to secure additional material for use in his addresses during the 21st Lutheran Hour season which opens on September 27.

On the return trip, the group will visit Paris, Frankfort, Weisbaden and London, where a Lutheran Hour rally may be held.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
224 Auburn Ave.

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, March 29, 1953.

The Golden Text is: "Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him." (Isa. 64:4).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made." (John 1:1,3).

The Lesson - Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "This is the eternal verity of divine science." (p. 480).

Listen to a 15 minute radio broadcast Sunday at 9:30 a.m. over Radio Station KNOE.

Sunday School and Bible classes are conducted every Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. You don't leave the decision of going to school to your child and that will affect all of his life. Why then leave the decisions concerning faith and religion to be made at a later date when they will affect his entering either heaven or hell?

Divine Services begin at 10:45 a.m. each Sunday. We cordially invite you to join us as we worship the only Triune God, and give all honor to God's only Son, Jesus Christ, the Savior of mankind.

During this Holy Week you are invited to worship with us as we remember with special services, our Lord's institution of His Holy Supper, on Maundy Thursday at 7:30 p.m. and our Savior's suffering and death on Good Friday, at 7:30 p.m. Those who wish to partake of Holy Communion on Thursday are asked to make their intentions known to the pastor on Wednesday evening between 7:30 and 9:00 p.m.

The Resurrection of the Savior will be remembered in the regular morning service on Easter Sunday, at 10:45 a.m.

Be sure to tune in to the Lutheran Hour's broadcast, "Bringing Christ to the Nation." This world-wide mission broadcast is heard over KLIC each Sunday afternoon at 12:30 p.m.

Bible Words to Live by

JOHN 8:10, 11 — "And Jesus, raising himself, said to her, 'Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned thee?' She said, 'No one, Lord.' Then Jesus said, "Neither will I condemn thee. Go thy way and sin no more."

Of all the utterances in the New Testament showing the mercy, the kindness and the understanding of our Divine Savior, the above is the greatest.

When the woman found in adultery was brought to Jesus Christ, her accusers cited the Mosaic law which demanded the death penalty in such circumstances. The Pharisees sought to trick Our Lord but He with divine wisdom and insight turned the tables on them. When they asked what should be done with the woman, "Should she be stoned to death?" Christ said, "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to cast a stone at her." The story is well known. Each one slunk away leaving only Jesus and the poor unfortunate sinner. Then Christ spoke those immortal words which show all the world that he loves sinners.

These are the people he came to save. And this is difference between Christ and the world. Christ hates sin and loves sinners, but the world embraces sin and condemns sinners.

Jail Man Who Threatened Air Suicide Crash

GARDENA, Calif. (AP)—A 30-year-old furniture salesman is in jail today after a suspenseful four-hour aerial chase in which he threatened to crash his plane and kill himself.

Roland Clarence Sperry finally landed safely at San Diego yesterday and said he had changed his mind about suicide.

"I've got too many troubles, I guess," he said. He blamed financial worries, among them alimony payments to his divorced wife.

A note addressed to "Darling Isabel," found in his parked car at this Los Angeles suburb, indicated romantic complications also.

Booked first at San Diego County Jail, Sperry was brought here and booked on suspicion of theft of the red Stinson plane he flew. He denied guilt.

The chase, with pilots of other planes and airport radio men trying to talk him down, began from the Gardena Airport at 9:18 a. m.

He told the airport's radio tower: "I'm going to crash and kill myself."

Sperry said Isabel Torres, of Redondo Beach, is his fiancee. His ex-wife, Ovella, came to Gardena Airport and waited tearfully.

Car Vanishing Piece By Piece

NEW ORLEANS, March 28—(UP)—It's a hard way to get a new car, but Mrs. William Dupre, a New Orleans housewife, says she is convinced some culprit is intent upon stealing her late-model Cadillac part-by-part.

Mrs. Dupre said Thursday the pillager pried the hubcap off the left front wheel. Early Saturday she said he returned for the whole wheel and the tire. She said some morning she's afraid she'll find the rest of the car missing.

Heart Trouble Isn't Just Human!

Maybe Your Car's Got It

We mean carburetor trouble. If it's dirty, it's wasting gas. IT'S COSTING YOU NEEDLESS MONEY! What it's crying for is a complete checkup . . . part of our expert MOTOR TUNE-UP job.

This includes checking points, ignition, spark plugs—all for a few dollars! But what a difference it makes in your driving.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No. Fannie Hurst says (paraphrased): "A bachelor who finally decides to marry is a very high risk for a woman. His ways are set. For years, hostesses, spinsters, etc. have tried to please him and find whether he likes three or three and-a-half minute eggs, rare or well-done steaks. He is not used to sharing, compromising or pampering others. And marriage means sharing life for better or worse." Sorry, old fellows, but these are wise words from a wise woman.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes. One authority claims the sewing machine caused the formation of women's clubs by releasing females from drudgery. Other machines have given them even more opportunity to escape drudgery. The Professional and Business Women's Club has set a "Ten-Year Objective" of equal pay for equal work" and will no doubt get it. But without machine production, women would still be making soup or else be in it.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Probably not. Victor L. Jepson compared the earnings of 488 Fresno College graduates with their college grades and extra curricular activities. He found "zero relationship" between grades and future earnings, but considerable relationship between important outside activities such as active participation in fraternities, athletics, college affairs, etc. Whether outside activities with dates boosted future earnings was not studied.

How To Be An Emotional Grownup

Test your grown-upness. An easy formula to help you become a happy poised person. For a copy of the booklet, How to be an Emotional Grownup send 15c (coin only), plus self-addressed, stamped envelope (give name of city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam care of News-Star.

Roamin' In The Rural

Fifty years ago a preacher had an idea of how to help rural and farm people to a better way of life. This preacher was Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, known today as the father of the demonstration idea — that of learning by doing.

Dr. Knapp said, "That a man hears, he may doubt. What he sees, he may possibly doubt. What he does himself, he cannot doubt." He urged early agricultural workers to "Write your lesson in the field, demonstrate it, that folks might see it and follow." These scientific demonstrations on the land and in the home were the beginning of what is known today as "The Agricultural Extension Service."

The same methods, as recommended by this wonderful leader of vision, are being used in getting people to a better life today—learn by doing. There are 3,500 home demonstration agents and now 84 per cent of the farm homes in 1951 had electricity. But we still have a long way to go before our farm homes are comparable to urban homes. In 1950 seventy-three per cent of the farm homes still do not have running hot and cold water; seventy-two per cent are still without inside flush toilets or a safe waste disposal system.

It was also found in 1950 that only thirty-seven per cent of the rural farm women completed a high school course. There is much yet to be done to improve rural physical living standards as well as educational and family living values. Dr. Seaman Knapp said, "The farm home must be made a place of beauty, so attractive that every passing stranger inquires, 'Who lives in that lovely home.' " This is another goal not yet reached. Let's each of us check our home and ask ourself, "What can I do to create more beauty at my home?"

It is getting late to plant shrubbery but there are many other needed improvements we can make as plant colorful annuals, improve the drives, sod the lawn, clean up rubbish, straighten up fences and gates, get animals out of the yard, (this includes chickens) to improve the sanitation and many others — build outdoor furniture, patio, etc. "Let's write the lesson around our home, demonstrate it, that folks might see and follow to a better rural life."

We could profit by pondering over Dr. Seaman Knapp's philosophy which was: "The home eventually controls the viewpoint of a man; and you may do all that you are a mind to, at other places, but unless you reach in and get hold of that home and change its condition, you are nullifying the uplift of the other places. We are reaching for the home."

Ouachita Parish Home Demonstration Council

Twenty of the twenty-two home demonstration clubs participated in the council meeting Saturday, March 21st. The program for the remaining part of the year was presented by the program of work committee and adopted. This committee was: Mrs. L. J. Bowers, chairman, Mrs. J. B. Filhoil, Mrs. Hilton Owens, Mrs. Kenneth Lee, Mrs. George Spier, Mrs. G. E. Rutledge, Mrs. Fred Riser, and Mrs. A. T. Stout, president of the council.

The chairman of the constitution committee reported only a few minor changes, but urged the council members to get the Home Demonstration Clubs to follow the same order of business and election of officers in their respective groups as followed in the council. The members of this committee are: Mrs. Loyd Coon, Mrs. Connie Goodwin, Mrs. J. R. Frantom, Mrs. Merle Bennett, Mrs. George Younger, Mrs. T. R. Jones, and Mrs. E. W. Crum.

Mrs. J. H. Carroll, treasurer of the council and chairman of the budget committee, presented the following budget, which was adopted.

Proposed 1953 Budget

State Council dues, $10.00, pennies for friendship, $8.00, four state delegates $60.00, National Council delegate, $100.00, recognition to retiring president (pin) $7.00 (plus tax), concession $100.00, flower fund $10.00, stationary and stamps $10.00, sympathy cards $5.00, appropriation for council chorus $5, miscellaneous fund $25.00, 4-H Club council, $50.00. Total $535.00.

The council members were urged to get the home demonstration clubs to plan a budget and work by it. Other members of the committee are: Mrs. B. O. Avant, Mrs. J. R. Agin, Mrs. J. P. McKnight, Mrs. Irvin Walker, Mrs. Mary Robert, and Mrs. Shirley Fowler.

Plans were made for celebrating National Home Demonstration Week, May 3-9. Each club will participate. Mrs. A. T. Stout, president of the council, Mrs. L. R. McClain, Mrs. H. H. Roberts, and Mrs. J. H. Pender were elected to attend and represent Ouachita at the State Council meeting at Camp Grant Walker, May 5-6-7th. Mrs. J. B. Filhoil, past president of the state council, is always invited as a special guest of the state council meeting.

The highlight of the council meeting was the presentation of the silver coffee service, donated each year by Tyner and Petrus for an award to the best home demonstration club of the year (1952). This award was presented to Mrs. C. D. Henderson, acting president of the Claiborne Club, by Mr. G. Tyner. Mr. Tyner praised the work of the Home Demonstration Clubs and pledged that in 1953 another award would be given by his firm.

Clothing

Seventy women attended the demonstration given by the L. S. U. clothing specialist, Miss Margaret Brumby, and Mrs. Jane Scott of New York. Models for this demonstration were Pearl Bowers, Colony Club, Louise Cloyd, and Ernie Riser, McClendon Club, and Daisy Smith of Thrifty Homemaker Club.

Swartz Club enjoyed the home of Mrs. George Speir while doing simple sewing this week. Her calm happy manner helped everyone working near her.

Will see you next week.

only from the NEW TONI TRIO can you choose the permanent most natural for you—

All hair is divided into threes—when it comes to waving. (1) Hard-to-wave hair needs urging. (2) Easy-to-wave hair needs pampering. (3) Normal hair should avoid both extremes. No one lotion can give the most natural wave to all three types. That's why Toni created three custom-made permanents so you can choose the Toni best for you. You'll have soft, deep waves that are in to stay—the natural kind you wish you'd been born with. No first-day frizz with Toni. And Toni's exclusive Permafix neutralizer makes your wave last longer. So choose from the new Toni Trio the one Toni most natural for you.

Your Choice of 3 Toni Home Permanents - one's a "natural" for you

1. Regular Toni
for normal hair
The most natural Toni ever for normal hair. And Regular Toni holds a set longer, too. Millions of women prefer it.

2. Super Toni
for hard-to-wave hair
Takes beautifully and lasts longer on hair that resists ordinary permanents. Ideal for a curlier permanent, too.

3. Very Gentle Toni for easy-to-wave hair
Extra mild yet gives a wave that's in to stay. Also for hair that's bleached, tinted or hair with some natural curl.

tops for tots and pre-teens
Tonette
the new children's permanent by TONI
Whether she's 2 or 12, Toni guarantees that Tonette Home Permanent will give every little girl a wave that "takes" beautifully every time and stays beautiful all the time—or your money back. New simplified process means less work for Mother, less sitting-still time for daughter.

New FAB WASHES WHITER

WHITER WITHOUT A BLEACH THAN ANY OTHER PRODUCT WITH A BLEACH!

BLEACH IF YOU LIKE! BUT WHETHER YOU DO OR DON'T— FAB WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN ANY OTHER PRODUCT WITH A BLEACH!

AND FAB WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP ON EARTH!

GIANT SIZE FAB WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP NO DULLING SOAP SCUM WONDERFUL FOR DISHES, TOO!

A COLGATE-PALMOLIVE-PEET PRODUCT

WASHABLE COLORS LOOK BRIGHTER, TOO!

Nothing whitens like Fab! You'll actually find that Fab washes most of your clothes whiter without a bleach—whiter than any soap, whiter than any washing product known with a bleach in the wash water.

If you add a bleach to Fab for your few stained, extra-soiled clothes, they'll come whiter, too —far whiter than with any other product and a bleach. For new Fab's exclusive whitening action is not affected by bleach.

What's more—Fab outcleans any soap! Washes out dirt; leaves no dulling soap scum. And Fab gives you the sweetest-smelling wash in the world!

SAVE WORK! SAVE HANDS!

Fab immediately loosens dirt and keeps it floating in the wash water. No soaking is needed! No dulling soap scum to rinse out — even in hardest water. And Fab is wonderfully mild to hands!

CUT DISHWASHING TIME IN HALF!

Fab soaks dishes, glasses, pots and pans shiny clean! If a bit of food clings, the dishcloth whisks it off. Just a quick rinse and dishes drain sparkling clean. No hard scouring, no wiping—with Fab!

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

By LYMAN YOUNG and TOM MASSEY ®

THESE GUYS ARE TAKING US TOWARD THE STEPS THAT LEAD UP TO THE BIG IDOL!

HEY, SPUD! LOOK UP THERE WHERE THE FIRE IS BURNING! IT'S BUDDY!

GOSH - YOU'RE RIGHT, TIM — IT IS BUDDY!

IT LOOKS LIKE MANAHA MEANS BUSINESS! WE'VE GOT TO SAVE BUDDY SOMEHOW!

WE STAND A FAT CHANCE! I CAN'T EVEN BUDGE WITH THIS GUY HOLDING ME!

MAYBE WE'LL GET A BREAK! MAYBE WE CAN GRAB A SPEAR OR SOMETHING!

TIM! I CAN FEEL THE STEPS SHAKING! MAYBE IT'S AN EARTHQUAKE!

LISTEN! THERE'S A RUMBLING NOISE COMING FROM THE JUNGLE! THE NATIVES HEAR IT, TOO!

MAYBE IT'S MANAHA! LOOK AT THAT BIG BURST OF GREEN SMOKE COMING UP OUT OF THE FIRE!

IT'S MANAHA, ALL RIGHT! HE APPEARED IN THE GREEN SMOKE! BUT WHAT'S MAKING THE EARTH TREMBLE?

LOOK! MANAHA JUST RAISED HIS ARMS AND THE NATIVES DOWN BELOW ARE GOING WILD! I GUESS THIS IS OUR FINISH, TIM!

AND HE'S COMING INTO THE VILLAGE WITH A WHOLE HERD FOLLOWING HIM!

IT'S NEW! IT'S BLUE! It's cheer!

Yes, new blue CHEER is here . . . Procter & Gamble's magically different washday detergent!

First and only clothes-washing detergent of its kind!

Next washday . . . win compliments with the whitest, brightest wash possible! CHEER can guarantee it. Here's why:

New CHEER's exclusive formula brings you a scientific discovery—a Blue★Magic whitener that whitens and brightens in the newest, most modern way. And it's safe for even the most delicate washable colors in your family wash!

P.S. You'll cheer blue CHEER for dishes, too! Even in hardest water, CHEER's instant, white "soft-water" suds make dishes and glassware sparkle, without wiping. No scum, no film. And CHEER is truly gentle on your hands!

Everything in a single box—for everything you wash!

Presto! Just watch those blue granules dissolve in a flash into rich, white suds—long-lasting, magic-action suds that "unfasten" even the greasiest grime—and then keep it from settling back into the clothes.

So CHEER can guarantee you not only the whitest, but the cleanest washes possible!

Double-your-money back if you don't agree that CHEER gives you the cleanest, whitest washes possible. Just new CHEER alone—for everything in your family wash!
